Financial Report of Crook County Fair

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Central Oregon Livestock and Agricultural Association was held Monday. There was a good attendance and much interest was manifested in the affairs of the association. It was plainly apparent that the Crook county fair would not be permitted to languish but on the contrary would be pushed along with renewed vigor.

The following board of directors was selected by the stockholders: J. E. Roberts, James Rice and H. J. Lister. The president, secretary and treasurer will be appointed later by the directors.

Secretary Macleod made the following comprehensive report of the financial condition of the association:

Death of Mrs. Newbill.

Mrs. Sarah Newbill, one of the earliest settlers and oldest residents of this county, died at her home near Lamonta about a week ago, aged 93 years. The funeral was held at the house, interment being in Grizzly Butte cemetery.

The husband of Mrs. Newbll ran the first mail stage between The Dalles and Prineville, before the Columbia Southern railroad to Shaniko was built.

She has fifteen children, of whom eleven survive. Four of her children live in Crook county—Nathaniel Newbill, Casper Newbill, Robert Newbill and Mrs. Lee Moore. Others live in Lane county and one or two in Washington.

Mrs. Newbill was a pioneer of Oregon, crossing the plains at the same time as did Captain Blakeslee.
