

LOCAL MENTION

W. F. King spent several days of this week, in Bend on business.

Eagle Cigars are flavored with the distilled sunshine and rain of Cuba.

A. H. Lippman left Tuesday for Portland, Seattle and California points.

Philip Graham and James Hastings were in from Haycreek the last of the week.

P. T. Monroe was in Prineville the first of the week from his home on lower Trout Creek.

Miss Beulah Hyde, who has been in Albany since last fall, returned home Tuesday.

Dr. Charles S. Edwards was at Paulina several days this week on professional business.

Ralph Breeze lost a mare worth about $200 last Tuesday from what was thought to be an attack of botts.

Mrs. Elizabeth Turner of Powell Buttes, who has been very sick with pneumonia, died this morning. She was 51 years of age.

Joe Girardo has rented the house of Mrs. M. H. Bell, formerly occupied by R. E. Simpson and family, and is now making his residence there with his family.

The Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church has recently presented the church with two handsome oak collection plates, for the taking of the offering.

Miss Jessie Hartley, the fifth grade teacher of the public school, who was accidentally hit by a snowball, is rapidly recovering and is able to resume school duties again.

P. B. Poindexter went to Bend yesterday afternoon to investigate matters in connection with a plan to open a skating rink in that city three nights each week. The proposal is that he conducts the rink in Bend three nights each week and the other three in Prineville using the same skates for both.

Max Crandall, the expert accountant, who has been engaged in expediting the accounts of the different county officials completed his work in Prineville Tuesday and left for his home at Hillsboro Wednesday morning. Mr. Crandall is county assessor of Washington County.

Bend dispatch in Oregon Journal: Construction on many new buildings in Bend is scheduled to begin as soon as weather conditions permit. The Bend-Madras-Shaniko Stage company will build one of the largest barns in Eastern Oregon, work on which has already begun. It will be ready for occupancy by March 1. A new building is also under way for Bend's postoffice, and in a few days A. M. Lara, who is now in Portland, will begin the erection of a mammoth warehouse. A score of new residences are planned and Bend will in all probability see quite a building boom the coming spring.

E. C. Park, the Journal's correspondent at Redmond, was in town Tuesday, and reports that news is so scarce in his section that he will not be able to supply his newsy letter this week. While at this office he gives us the following items:

Mrs. Landes arrived home Sunday. Dan Greenhaugh died Saturday night at 6 o'clock. He has been sick for about a year, and has suffered considerably during the past six months. The funeral took place Tuesday. Tom Langdon, the D. I. & P. Co., engineer is in the vicinity of Redmond with a crew of surveyors. It is expected that a ditch camp will soon be established there for the prosecution of the irrigation work.

Charles Fakton, of Lamonia, was in the city Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Iams were in from the home at Powell Buttes last Friday.

Miss Nora Dobbs returned to Shaniko Monday after a visit with her parents.

Judge W. A. Bell and wife departed for Portland on Sunday's stage, for a short stay.

James W. Hart, the Madras meat market man, made a trip to Prineville the last of the week.

P. B. Howard came up from Madras Saturday to attend the bedside of his wife, who is seriously ill.

Dan Greenhaugh died Saturday evening at his home six miles south of Redmond. He was aged about 65 years.

F. J. Lively, of the mercantile firm of Lively-Jordan-Lantis Co., returned Sunday from a business trip to Portland.

H. H. Mitchell, one of the ditch land settlers, near Powell Buttes, was in the city Friday looking after business matters.

George Millican came in from Bear Creek the latter part of the week, returning to the ranch Sunday.

The canoe ordered by Prof. E. L. Ashby and Max Hofer in which they plan to ride the rapids of Crooked River and the Deschutes, has arrived in Shaniko, and part of the outfit has reached Prineville.

Dr. J. C. Moran, formerly of Klamath Falls, veterinary surgeon and dentist is now in Prineville, and can be found at the Hamilton stables. He is accompanied by Leslie Allen. The gentlemen have just lately arrived from Burns.

The shipment of beef cattle reported last week, got caught by the wash-out on the Columbia Southern and had to lay in Shaniko 6 days, where they were fed at an expense of $300. They were just on the verge of being loaded in the cars when the news of the washout came.

R. E. Jones was in from his sawmill at Howard the last of the week. He reports business good at the mill. They have about 12 men at work in the mill and logging woods and cut about 15,000 feet per day. Orders are already in to keep the plant busy for some time, one order for 1,000,000 feet of lumber being on hand.

We have received word from J. H. Jackson of Redmond, clerk of school district No. 50, that in the school enumeration published in last week's Journal his district was credited with an enrollment of only 48 when it should have been 61. We cheerfully make the correction and are glad to note that Redmond has such a flourishing school.

A new 50 line switchboard is being installed at the Winnek telephone central in Prineville which will be a much needed improvement. The new instrument was supplied through C. W. Elkins. It will connect the following Crook County farmers' lines: Riverside, Riverdale, Bear Creek, Paulina Barbed Wire, Maury and Paulina, Eagle Rock, Newsom Creek, McKay Creek, and Rye Grass.

The Forestry headquarters in the Adamson Building over the post-office are resplendent this week with new signs on the windows. Supervisor Ireland is justly proud of the improvement. The office force is busy these days completing maps of the grazing allotments in the reserve. The matter of all the individuals allotments and the division line between the cattle and sheep ranges has not yet been entirely adjusted.

LOCAL MENTION

Miss Hattie Quinn of O'Neil has been in town several days this week.

Plenty to attract you, more to interest you, everything to tempt you at the Big Barn Dance.

County Judge H. C. Ellis came over from Bend Monday to look after business in town for a few days.

The Swellest Event of the Season

WHY?

"If music be the food of love, Give me excess of it."

The above quotation from Shakespeare expresses the object of the Band Boys' Dance in a nutshell.

A musical organization and more especially a brass band, is a credit to any community. In our little city we have the material for a first-class organization of that kind, and the co-operation of the people is most earnestly requested in this most laudable undertaking. For this reason the boys have made up their minds to eclipse any social event ever before attempted in the city of Prineville. The band is practicing most faithfully to give the people a high class of music during the coming summer months, but is seriously handicapped for the want of suitable instruments.

This dance is being given for that one single purpose, viz:--to procure the necessary and much needed instruments. These instruments will not be individual property but will belong exclusively to the band, or, more properly to the citizens who so generously assist in this most worthy enterprise.

It is firmly believed that every person in the community will lend their hearty and generous support in making this event the social and financial success for which the band boys will so earnestly labor. Watch this space to see what we have to tell you next week.
