The Sunday school at 10 and Epworth League at 7. A cordial invitation is extended to all to worship with us. J. D. Lewellen, pastor.

Ed Slayton has returned from Portland where he took some beef cattle for the market. Mr. Slayton counts this last as one of the most successful sales he has ever made of beef cattle, and is greatly pleased with the outlook for the business. There is one thing that might be remembered in connection with Mr. Slayton's success, that is that the cattle that he turns out are pronounced by the buyers to be the finest grade that they find anywhere on the Coast.

Last Tuesday County Judge Ellis and Commissioner Bayley took a trip to the Wigle Bridge on Crooked river to inspect the structure, going up in Guy Lafollette's Reo car, with Leo Lafollette as driver. The party made the trip in good time. It was the intention of the members of the county court to make an inspection of the road work done on Stuart Grade and Portly Hill but as there is considerable snow still on Maury mountain and that being the route they desired to go, they have postponed making this inspection until the season is farther advanced.

County Assessor J. D. Lafollette, announces that he has the following deputies at work in Crook county, making the assessment: C. A. Whitsett, who will cover the Culver and Lamonta districts; E. A. Hose Company No. 2 had a jolly little smoker Wednesday night at the Fireman's hall. As that night was also the band's regular business meeting the firemen invited the members of the band to join them. Every man present was armed with a pipe and furnished with tobacco, and a luncheon of sandwiches, cake and coffee was served. Afterward card games were played. These smokers are to be held on the night of every monthly meeting hereafter, in order to get the boys to attend and have more interest in the meetings. No. 1 has also adopted this plan.

E. N. Strong, representing the Oregon Life Insurance Co., arrived in Prineville this week and will remain here for some time looking after business in his line. The Portland Telegram of April 1 had a good likeness of Mr. Strong and the following notice concerning him: "Taking effect today, Edward N. Strong, one of the most experienced insurance producers, joins the forces of Oregon Life. Manager Samuel left in a particularly happy mood yesterday at what he termed his most valuable acquisition and hinted that not very many days would pass before important announcements of other additions to the forces in the field would be made. Judging by the number of large writers who are leaving the older companies to join Oregon Life, this company is magnetically attracting the attention of the very best element in the life insurance world."
