Nipped Some Flesh From Boy's Arm

Lucky Boy is a lucky boy. If it were not so, instead of being able to be around as usual, with only a small piece of flesh missing from the biceps of his right arm, he would probably have some broken limbs or a crushed skull.
Lucky was riding the elevator in the warehouse at J. E. Stewart & Co.'s store last Monday evening just before 6 o'clock. He had climbed on to the crosspiece to which the rope supporting the car is fastened and had his arm around the rope, which runs over a large pulley overhead. Peg Belknap was using the elevator to raise and lower goods in the warehouse and on making a descent stepped off the elevator before the catch which holds it was in position. The elevator is weighted and when Belknap stepped off it shot up and caught the boy's arm between the rope and the pulley and pinched out a chunk of meat. Dr. Rosenberg sewed up the gash and Lucky stood they operation without a whimper.

L. A. Hunt, whose bid for moving the old courthouse to the high school grounds was the lowest received by the board and to whom the contract was granted, concluded that the price was too low and did not furnish bonds and sign up for the work. Thereupon the contract reverted to Earl McLaughlin, the next highest bidder. He has not yet bonded. The building will be moved as soon as it is vacated by the county officers. County Surveyor Rice has already moved his office into the new building. Several wagon loads of the new furniture has arrived and is stored in the basement waiting to be unpacked. Just when the removal will take place has not been determined.

HOME CURE FOR ECZEMA

Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, Glycerine, Etc., Used as a Simple Wash
It really seems strange that so many people suffer year in and year out with eczema, when it is now no longer a secret that oil of wintergreen mixed with thymol, glycerine, etc., makes a wash that is bound to cure.
Old, obstinate cases, it is true, cannot be cured in a few days, but there is absolutely no sufferer from eczema who ever used this simple wash and did not find immediately that wonderfully soothing, calm, cool sensation that comes when the itch is taken away. Instantly upon applying a few drops of the wash the remedy takes effect, the itch is allayed. There is no need of experiment—the patient knows at once.
Instead of trying to compound the oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., in the right proportions ourselves we are using a prescription which is universally found the most effective. It is known as the D. D. D. Prescription, or Oil of Wintergreen Compound. It is made by the D. D. D. Co. of Chicago, and our long experience with this remedy has given us great confidence in its merits.

LOCAL MENTION

L. A. Hunt made a visit to the Powell Buttes section the first of the week. "That country is a revelation to a man at this season," said he. "I saw some of the finest wheat out there I have ever seen anywhere, and everything looks mighty prosperous." Mr. Hunt was for a number of years engaged in farming at Haystack.
Assessor John D. Lafollette, F. S. Cooper of the Pioneer Cream Co., County Clerk Brown, R. E. Gray of the Journal, and Postmaster Guy Lafollette made a trip to Madras yesterday afternoon in the latter's auto. Harvesting is well under way along the road, and crops in general are going to turn out better than has been reported for that district. Madras residents all have their ears open to hear the whistle of the steam cars, now that they are confident the road is to be built. Many new buildings, mostly residences and churches, have been built there in the past few months and work will soon be commenced on the new $3100 schoolhouse. Lack of lumber seems to be delaying building operations there. The visitors found a large number of the ranchers in town attending the meeting of the farmers' union, which was called to consider action toward getting irrigation for land in that district under government project. The Journal will publish a report of that matter next week.

Earnest Hayes, who has been serving out his fine in the county jail under conviction for playing poker, has paid enough to make up the balance of his time and gone out to work for Alex Mackintosh on the sheep ranch at Buck Mountain.
Oscar Cox was in from his ranch at Lamonta Tuesday. Mr. Cox lost a valuable Percheron filly last fall and falling to find her in the recent roundup, is offering a reward elsewhere in this paper. He says crops in neighborhood are not so good as usual this season.
