LOCAL MENTION

H. F. Mitchell is ill at his home on the McKay.

Miss Stella Hodges left today for the Seattle fair.

Mrs. O. G. Collier of Culver, is visiting in town.

Mrs. Crooks and Miss Benlah left Saturday for a visit to Boise.

Mrs. Straud Price fell and cut a bad gash in her head Sunday.

Miss Birdie Morris left Saturday for a trip to Portland and Seattle.

C. L. Shattuck and family will leave next Saturday for the Seattle fair.

Steve Yancey and wife left Saturday for Boise, Idaho, for a visit to his mother.

Charles Feurhelm made final proof on his homestead before County Clerk Brown Tuesday.

Mrs. J. M. Street and daughter and Miss Irene Barnes returned last Friday from an extended visit at Curlew, Washington.

Jesse Yancey and family have returned home from their camping trip at Crane prairie. They say that when they left there were over 100 people camped at the prairie or in that vicinity.

J. F. Taylor and family returned home Monday from a trip across the Cascades. They gathered lots of wild blackberries in the mountains and went on down to Mohawk, where they stocked up on tame fruits.

William Combs and wife departed Sunday for Albany and other valley points where they will visit relatives. Miss Willa Combs will accompany them home on their return. The young lady has been in Portland for the past year.

The revival meetings at the Union church will continue over next Sunday. The audiences and interest have been on the increase from the beginning. The subjects for next Sunday will be "Heaven and How to Enter," morning. "The Bride Elect," evening.

Tillman Reuter was in from his home southeast of Madras last Thursday. Mr. Reuter states that he has been too busy with building operations this summer to give his garden the proper attention, but that he hopes to bring in as good an exhibit to the county fair as he had last year.

Max Lueddemann has sold the Madras Pioneer plant and business to Howard W. Turner, U. S. Commissioner at Madras, who will take charge of the paper on September 1. Mr. Lueddemann has also sold his home at Madras to J. C. Robinson and announces that he will go away from that place. For years he has conscientiously boosted for a railroad for Madras and now that this seems assured it surprises the understanding why he should want to sell out and leave just when things are getting good.

Sheriff Frank Elking was at Madras Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Hazel Wheeler proved up on her homestead last Thursday.

Theodore M. Smith of Lamonta, made final proof last Thursday.

Guy C. McCallister made final desert proof before Warren Brown last Thursday.

Ralph Jordan and wife have returned from a two-weeks' visit at Portland and other points.

Roy Johnson of Haycreek, and Ruby Moore of Lamonta, were married last Thursday at Madras.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Hyde reached home Monday evening after a trip to Portland, Seattle and San Francisco.

James Elkins and daughter, Miss Helen A., of Albany, arrived in Prineville Friday last. They will make their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Storkmann are expected home from Lakeview soon. Word to friends here stated that they expect to start about September 1.

The managers of the Pacific States Telephone Co. at this place, Messrs. Dooner and Lawrence, have received a new Ford runabout for use in looking after their business.

G. O. Ireland, M. A. Rickard and P. C. Stewart of Corvallis, have filed on homesteads in the Bear creek country. They made the trip from Corvallis to Bend by auto in two days.

A condemnation suit for right of way has been filed in the circuit court by Hartman's attorneys against A. Zell, to cross lands owned by the latter on Agency Plains a few miles north of Madras.

George Bernier, the local attorney, by mistake put dilute hydrochloric acid in his eyes Tuesday morning and in consequence has a bum pair of lamps. He had medicine for his stomach and also for his eyes, and got the two mixed.

Mayor D. F. Stewart returned Monday from Portland, where he went to purchase a fine new Cadillac 30, bringing the car home with him. The machine is rigged up with all the conveniences and extras, and the Mayor is getting so that he handles the car with a skill that guarantees that he will not have to eat anybody's dust along the road.

On level roads the autos make a team look like slow traveling, but when it comes to making a passage over the Cascade Mountains the team is not so slow after all. At least this was the experience of two parties of land seekers from Corvallis who came to Central Oregon during the past week to locate claims. There was some rivalry among those coming to get in ahead and get the choice claims, one faction rushing about to secure an auto to make the trip, and another faction willing to take their chance with a good team and buggy. Ned Smith was captain of the last mentioned turnout, and they beat the auto party into Crook county and to land.

LOCAL MENTION

Alex Mackintosh of Paulina, was in town the first of the week.

A. W. Boyce was in from his home near Culver the first of the week.

E. N. Strong, the Oregon Life Insurance man, came in the first of the week.

Robert Day, a brother of Mrs. S. S. Stearns and Mrs. John Newsum, arrived today for a visit with relatives here. He will shortly go to Denver, Colorado, in company with Mrs. Newsum.

Rev. Dr. D. Asa Blackburn, pastor of the Church of the Strangers, New York city, passed through the city last Tuesday on his way home from the southern part of the county, where he has been in the quest of health.

J. W. Boone announces elsewhere in this issue that he has saddles of all kinds, both for ladies and gentlemen, chaparral, spurs, lap robes, harness for every purpose, horse blankets, etc. His line is complete. Give him a call.

M. W. Bennett was up from Madras Wednesday with his teners after bricks to be used in the construction of the new school building at that place. The new building is nearing completion and the carpenters will be done in about another week.

Champ Smith and family moved into their new residence last week, which has just been completed and is located on the lot formerly belonging to the Johnny Prior estate. The new home is fitted up with modern conveniences and cost in the neighborhood of $2000.

Rev. J. T. Moore returned home from the East last Saturday. He has a proposition made him to take the pastorate of a church and edit a paper at Little Rock, Arkansas, at a salary of $1800. If the finances are raised in this country to publish the new Baptist paper on this coast Mr. Moore will remain and edit it, if not, he expects to move to Little Rock.

Presbyterian Church, Sunday School at 10 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m.; subject, "A Fishing Party." Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m.; subject, "Life Lessons for Me in the Book of Romans," Romans 12: 1-21. Preaching at 8 p. m.; subject, "The Power of Thought." The union services are now over for the summer; let all the members and friends rally round the standard; let us make the winter fruitful in the development of both mind and spirit.

George Rodman of Culver, was in town the first of the week.

J. C. Sothman and H. M. Gardner were in Prineville this week from Madras. While here they called at the Journal office and ordered the county official paper sent to their addresses so as to keep posted on county affairs.

Dr. I. Becker oculist-optician of Portland, came in on Wednesday's stage. Mr. Becker had read a good deal about the railroads opening up this country, but decided to come and see it for himself. He likes it so well that he will return again about the middle of October.

J. W. Jennings and his sister, Miss Theresa A. Jennings of Tillamook county, arrived last Friday. Mr. Jennings returned Monday to Butler, Wash., where he expects to be employed during the winter. Miss Jennings will remain with her uncle and aunt, Rev. and Mrs. Barbridge for an indefinite period.

The union services that have been held in the different churches during the summer, closed last Sunday evening, all uniting with the evangelistic effort now being put forth at the Union church. The churches will commence their winter schedule next Sunday, both services being held in the individual churches conducted by their pastors.

The Emporium has lost none of its popularity with the amusement lovers of Prineville. The place is well filled nightly. The new films for Friday evening are "Web of Fate," "Drunkard's Dream," and the "Wooden Headed Veteran." For Sunday evening the "Elmer of Drums" and "For Love's Sake," will be shown.

Prof. E. E. Evans arrived in Prineville today to take up his work at the Crook County High School. He will fill the position made vacant by the resignation of Prof. Blanchard. Prof. Evans is a graduate of Albion College, Michigan, and comes highly recommended. He was principal of the Payette (Idaho) High School and has filled a number of responsible positions. He will have the mathematics and commercial course at the high school. We bespeak for him a successful year at the Crook County High. The board were fortunate in securing his services.

Omar Claypool made a trip to the new railroad camp at Trail Crossing Tuesday, to see if the men were actually there and what it looked like to see railroad building so close to home. He talked with the boss in charge and learned that about eighty more workmen and many teams were on the way to swell the crew there. He was informed that several hundred men would be put to work on the line between Redmond and Madras in a few weeks. The wages paid are $2.25 per day and from this is deducted the board charge, about $4 per week. Men wanting work can get a job on this crew.
