HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

practice some time in October. This year we will have not only a girl's team from each society but a boys as well. The boys are talking of organizing a foot ball team. The only question is one of funds and we are sure this can be met, for we have always been able to raise money when needed.

Alpha Society.

The regular meeting of the society was held on Friday, September 18th. The president and vice president were both absent, having finished the high school last year, hence it devolved upon the secretary, Maggie Cox, to call the meeting to order and proceed with the election of officers. The new officers were: President, Louise Summers; vice president, Maggie Cox; secretary, Vernon Bell. Program committee, Roy Lowther, chairman, Wilda Nye and Warren Yancey, assistants. The new students visited their respective societies but will not sign the constitution until the next meeting, in the meantime it will be posted for their inspection. The Alphas won two out of the three contests last year and while the class of '09 took some of our faithful workers, yet we feel that victory will again be ours.

Ochocoan Society.

The first meeting of the Ochocoan Literary society was called to order by Clark Morse, president pro tem, there being no officers of the previous year present. The following officers were elected: President, Clark Morse; vice president, Lotta Smith; secretary, Ethel Kidder. Wilford Belknap and Emerien Young were appointed to make out the programs for the first semester. The Ochocoans won the Winnek cup and first place in the oratorical contest last year and may not only retain these honors but add other laurels to our crown.

Freshmen.

Fourteen pupils were enrolled in the freshmen class, Monday, September 13th. Seven of these were from Prineville, the others being from various parts of the county.

Three new members, Lee Rowell of Sweet Home, John McDowell and Burns Montgomery, registered the twenty-first.

Sophomores.

The sophomores have elected the following officers for the year: President, Roy Lowther; vice president, Gladys Dak; secretary, Maggie Cox. We all wish them well and hope that the sophomore class will take its place among the honor winning classes of the Crook County High School.

Juniors.

The juniors will edit a column in the "Review." Blanch Wilson, who has been spending the summer in Western Oregon, resumed her studies Monday. We are glad to welcome her back.

Alex Barnes was unable to begin the first week but is with us now.

Senior.

At the senior meeting held last week the following officers were elected: President, Emerien Young; secretary, Agnes Elliott.

The class decided to use the proceeds of the junior play in purchasing a bust of America's greatest poet, Longfellow, for the high school building. This is the first donation of this kind but we trust it will not be the last, as the example set by the seniors is a commendable one and we hope the other classes may be able to follow in their footsteps. Two of our members, Ethel Moore and Louise Summers, are registered in the teacher's training course and are very enthusiastic over the work.

Lulu Montgomery, one of our old students, registered in the training course Monday.

The seniors are putting forth every effort to have a good Industrial exhibit at the county fair. Every member has promised to place something on exhibition.

Cynical Jowett.

Professor Jowett's comments on the young men of Balliol often took the form of crushing sarcasms. "The college, Mr. X., thinks highly of you," he once said, "perhaps too highly, but not half so highly, I am sure, as you think of yourself." After a lengthy survey of one's person, as if one was some rare animal, he has been known to ask of the instructor, "Mr. A. is an intelligent young man, is he not, Mr. Y.?"

Not the Boy He Wanted.

"So you want a position as office boy?" "Yes, sir." "Are you perfectly truthful?" "Yes, sir." "Never tell lies, eh?" "No, sir." "Then you won't do. I want a boy who can say I'm not here when I am and get away with it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Sunflower.

In some countries, notably in the Russian provinces north of the Caucasus, the sunflower serves other purposes besides ornamenting gardens with its huge golden bosses. The seeds are used to make oil, which is employed both in the manufacture of soap and in cooking. The stems and leaves are burned and the ashes used to make potash.

Temporarily Indisposed.

One of the workers in a Chinese mission became much interested in two Chinamen who, she found, owned a flourishing laundry business in her own home neighborhood. She looked in once in a while to see how things were going with them and one morning found Sam smiling and cheerful as usual, but John was missing. "Where is John this morning?" she asked. "Oh," answered Sam amiably, "Chinamen gentlemen hit him in the head with a brick, and he all same in hospital!"—New York Times.

A Careful Man.

When Dawson reached town he was suddenly seized with a terrific tooth-ache, and he flew to a dentist. Investigation showed that the tooth was in such a condition that the only way to extract it comfortably was to put the sufferer under the influence of gas. Consequently Dawson threw himself back in the chair, and the tube was applied. He did not succumb any too readily, but in the course of time he was sleeping peacefully, and the offending molar was removed.

"How much, doctor?" asked the patient after the ordeal was over.

"Ten dollars," said the dentist, business being dull.

"Ten dollars?" roared Dawson.

"Yes, sir," said the dentist. "It was an unusually hard job getting that tooth out, and you required twice the ordinary amount of gas."

"Humph!" ejaculated Dawson as he paid up. "Here's your money, but I tell you right now the next time I take gas from you you've got to put a meter on me."—Harper's Weekly.

"Ours."

Today a woman's property is sacred—at any rate as sacred as a man's. A certain host remarked before his guests lately that he would send his motor to the station to meet S. and so.

"Our motor," corrected the hostess, who wants tone.

As the lady had actually bought the motor, the correction was severe and rankled. Next morning the host came down very late to breakfast. He was chafed about this and explained: "I'm sorry. The fact is I mistook our trousers."

Little Courtesies.

William Wirt's letter to his daughter on the "small, sweet courtesies of life" contains a passage from which a deal of happiness might be learned: "I want to tell you a secret. The way to make yourself pleasing to others is to show them attention. The whole world is like the miller at Mansfield, who cared for nobody—no, not he—because nobody cared for him. And the whole world would serve you so if you gave them the same cause. Let every one, therefore, see that you do care for them by showing them what Sterne so happily calls the small courtesies, in which there is no parade, whose voice is too still to tease and which manifest themselves by tender and affectionate looks and little acts of attention, giving others the preference in every little enjoyment at the table, in the field, walking, sitting or standing."

Gormley, The Tailor.

What about that fall suit? Of course you want it tailor-made. It doesn't cost any more than the hit-and-miss kind. My samples are the finest in town. Pressing, repairing and cleaning. Give a trial. 8-5
