Price & Son Buy W. H. Cadle Ranch

T. D. Price & Son have sold their property at Hampton Buttes to W. W. Brown at the reported price of $9,500 and have bought the ranch of W. H. Cadle on Mill Creek for $14,500. The Cadle ranch comprises 280 acres of fine lands, mostly all in alfalfa and under irrigation and the sale included 135 head of cattle, 14 horses and farm machinery and grain. It is one of the best in the county. It adjoins the Charles Lister ranch which was recently leased by Price, Jr., and the two ranches will be run in connection.

W. H. Cadle expects to leave the first of next week for California, which was his home prior to thirty years when he came to Crook county. Jack Cadle will remain here until spring, gathering up the loose ends of the business affairs, when he will also go to the Golden State.

Facts From France.

The country stretching from Le Crouzet to St. Etienne is the Pittsburgh territory of France. Iron and steel constitute the important outputs in this region.

France is making rapid progress in the manufacture of steel, having produced 2,677,895 metric tons of ingots in 1907 as compared with 2,436,322 metric tons in 1906 and 2,240,284 metric tons in 1905.

The number of physicians in France has nearly doubled in ten years. There are now 23,000, and nearly 2,000 are turned out every year by the medical schools. Fees have decreased alarmingly because of this competition.

A new letter carrier has been installed in the Paris postoffice. The device is attached to the letter boxes, and as soon as a certain number of letters have been posted the tray on which they fall is started by their weight and carries them to the sorting table.

Fly Catches.

The highest ambition of Artie Hoffman is to become the Chicago Nationals' regular first baseman.

Chicago beat Cleveland on July 23, 1882, 55 to 1. That 55 score has never been beaten in professional baseball.

Shorstop Bridwell of the New York Nationals is an artist with his hands on ground balls. He recalls Heinle Reitz in that respect.

In Mitchell and McLean the Cincinnati Nationals have two of the tallest players in the game and in Huggins and Kane two of the shortest.

This is Bill Bradley's ninth year in professional baseball, and, although chased by some with the down and out two years ago, he is playing the most versatile game of his career.

Empire Jack Sheridan says that Arrillanes, the Boston Americans' recruit, is not only a pitcher of exceptional ability, but is a good all around ball player as well. Arrillanes is a Pacific coast.

Pith and Point.

Some men are always having a "terrible time."

Look long enough and you will find the weak spot in every one.

Saving money requires as much genius as writing poetry, and it is of a better sort.

Men would bear their burdens with better nature if they thought they had a square deal. No man thinks he gets this.

Think over the worrying you did yesterday. It certainly did you no good, but it certainly did you harm. Think of this the next time you feel grumpy.—Acheson Globe.

SHORT STORIES.

A ready speaker will utter about 7,500 words an hour in making an address.

The United States, including Hawaii, is, with the single exception of Russia, the largest tea purchaser China has.

Nearly $100,000 is spent in the City of Mexico every week on lottery tickets, and in the same period only about $70,000 is paid back in premiums.

In a Bad Way.

The English spoken by the "Pennsylvania Dutch" as the inhabitants of certain districts in the eastern part of the state are popularly known, affords some early specimens of expression. A man who was passing a small house on the outskirts of "Sora Beeselen"—that is the nearest possible spelling of the local pronunciation—heard the daughter of the family calling her brother in to supper. "George," she said, "you come right in now. Pa's on the table, and ma's half off!"

Locking the Telephone.

The telephone began to ring in the lawyer's office. He unlocked the little padlock on it, answered the call, then carefully padlocked it again.

"I always do that now," said he, "on account of my friends. I didn't the first month I took the office. At the end of that month I had a bill of $33.25, telephone calls. Oh, yes; long distance and every other kind."—New York Press.
