LOCAL MENTION

W. H. Kilmer and wife were in town Monday from Madras.
J. C. Rothman was in town on matters before the county court last Wednesday.
Editor Walker and Benj. McCaffrey of the Redmond Hub were callers at the Journal office Saturday.
Matt Clark of The Dalles was in Prineville this week. He is here buying timber claims in the Blue Mountains.
Mrs. Harry Woodriddle and child went to Shaniko Tuesday to join Mr. Woodriddle, who is a barber in that town.
Mrs. C. I. Winnick is home from her trip to Old Mexico and southern California. Miss Lorene remained in Los Angeles to attend school this winter.
October was a banner month for receipt of money's for recording and other fees in the county clerk's office, the total reaching the sum of $564.45. The usual run of receipts from the same sources rarely exceeds $400.
C. C. McNeely is home from Madras, where he is opening a brick yard. Thirty thousand bricks were moulded but the stormy weather interfered with the work making it necessary to postpone operations for a time.
J. E. Warner who last spring bought the Andrew Anderson ranch on Bear Creek arrived here last week from his former home at Harrisburg to take possession of the place. He was in town this week buying seed grain and other supplies.
Charles Caswell, who has been sick with typhoid fever, died Sunday night and was buried Monday. The Caswell family moved here from Idaho and have been living near the Grines place seven miles north of town.
E. F. Johnson went to Shaniko Sunday to meet his wife and daughter on their return home from Portland, where Mrs. Johnson has been in a hospital since the middle of last August. They made the trip by auto, Mrs. Johnson standing the trip well. While not entirely recovered, she is well on the way to good health again.
Last Sunday was communion day at the Presbyterian Church. About fifty partook of the Lord's Supper, five were baptised, and twelve were received into the church, six by certificate and six on confession of faith. The choir loft of the church has been enlarged and some of the best musical talent in the city will furnish the music during the winter. The pastor will preach Sunday evening from a topic or text selected by the congregation. Every one is invited to assist in the selection of these subjects or text.

Found: In the Presbyterian church, Sunday, a gold ring. Owner can have same by proving property. Apply to the Pastor.

Born, to the wife of George B. Taylor, Tuesday, November 2, 1909, in Prineville, a son.
Cobbie Stroud was a passenger to Shaniko yesterday, where he went to inspect automobiles with a view to purchasing a car.
Messrs. Hunter & Staats of Bend have purchased of Mack Cornett a Studebaker auto to use in their real estate and locating business.
Rev. C. T. Radford of the Christian church, will be at Lamonta next Sunday morning and evening; and the following Sunday, morning and evening at Post.
George O'Neil was in town several days this week from O'Neil. He says there is a continual procession of newcomers passing through there by auto, livery and private rigs.
The $500 base ball game that was to be played at Bend last Sunday failed to come off on account of stormy weather. It is not probable that the match will be played this year.
Redmond business men have effected an organization of a "push club" and will soon line up with Prineville and Bend in the advertising of their immediate vicinity and Crook county.
Tomorrow evening is social night at the Club. The ladies wish to emphasize the importance of promptness. Games will start at 8 o'clock sharp and every member is expected to be ready to play.
Sunday there will be preaching at the Presbyterian church at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The morning service will be "In the Line of Christian Growth." In the evening the pastor will conduct a popular service assisted by the choir who will render special music. The theme of the discourse will be "Twelve Gates." Come and spend a pleasant and profitable hour with us.
Joe Smelzer, who was badly injured in a runaway in town several weeks ago by being thrown out on the boulders in the bed of Ochoco, was removed from Prineville to his home three miles up Ochoco road the first of the week, and since then has developed symptoms of pneumonia. Mr. Smelzer's case has been one to puzzle the physicians ever since he had the accident. He is far from being a well man.
Mrs. May Belle Gray, who for the past four and a half years has served as deputy county clerk, this week severed her connection with the office and has gone to Bend to visit relatives for a few weeks, after which she will make her home at her husband's ranch near Post. Hubert Seoggin of Tumalo, will be the new deputy to assist County Clerk Warren Brown. Mr. Seoggin is a school teacher, a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural College, and an champion football player.

LOCAL MENTION

Sanders Logan is in Prineville this week.
Tice Loucks, sr., was up from Madras Wednesday.
Albert and Emory Seals were in town today from their home at Lamonta.
Alex Mackintosh of Paulina, is spending several days in town on business.
The Knights of Pythias announce a grand ball for Friday evening, December 10. The Sir Knights are royal entertainers and are planning for a big time.
Frank Bell, who has been in Prineville the past few weeks selling pianos, is reported seriously ill at Laddlaw, where he went the last of the week, on business.
Earl Wurzweller is making a name for himself as a football player with the squad of the Hill Military Academy. In a recent game he twice carried the ball across the line for a touchdown.
Rev. Chas. A. Phipps of Portland, arrived in Prineville yesterday and preached last night. He was on his way to attend the Sunday School convention which will be held at Redmond, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.
Married:—Mr. Mason Grant and Miss Bessie Robinson, of Haystack, were married in Prineville, Wednesday, November 3, his Honor, Judge H. C. Ellis officiating. The groom is 18 and the bride 20. Both are well known and popular young people about Culver and Lamonta.
Judge Ellis, Commissioner Bayley and Robert Rex last week made a tour of the construction camps in the Madras country and made arrangements with the railroad builders for four crossings on county roads. In some places the wagon road crossings will run beneath the tracks.
The referendum election on the "Near-beer" ordinance will be held in Prineville on December 20th, that being the date of the regular annual city election. City Recorder M. D. Powell is now puzzling out all the crooks and turns of the law regarding the acceptance and printing of the ordinance, the ballot title, and the arguments for and against the measure, all of which must be printed in a pamphlet and mailed or delivered to each voter in the city several days before the election.
Drs. Gray, the painless dentists at Hotel Prineville, have found it impossible to leave town for another week. This makes an opportunity for those having work to do to get it done by up-to-date methods and at reasonable prices. Call and make a date ahead. This will save you time and give the doctors a chance to give you every attention.

Oral Moore of Lamonta is spending a few days in town this week.
Born, to the wife of P. Chitwood, at Grizzly, Friday, Oct. 29, a daughter.

Mrs. F. E. Brosius has been called to Hood River by the serious illness of a daughter. She will leave here tomorrow morning.
George P. Putnam, who is in Central Oregon writing special articles for the Oregonian, had a full page of pictures and stories about the Crook county fair in last Sunday's edition. It makes good reading and helps advertise us.
A batch of local news will be found on the last page of this paper. The Journal goes to press two pages at a time and this scattered make-up is sometimes necessary in order to handle the work on time. Don't overlook anything; there's some news all over the sheet.
The annual Sunday School convention for Crook county convenes Friday afternoon of this week at Redmond, and continues over Sunday. Delegates from Prineville and other points in the county will attend, as well as some distinguished visitors from outside localities.
The big New Year's number of the Oregonian will have much to say regarding Central Oregon, says the Bend Bulletin. This was learned from G. P. Putnam who recently has received from that paper a letter explaining that the Oregonian desired to devote much space to the development possibilities of this country, asking for suggestions as to suitable articles from representative men; and announcing that at an early date a photographer would be sent up the Deschutes to obtain a large supply of pictures for the big boom number.

C. M. Triplett and Ray Wilkinson were in today from Bend in a new Studebaker 30 with a load of passengers.
Ed Tobin and family of Lind, Wash., arrived this week and will make their home here this winter. Mrs. Tobin is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Brosius.
This week the W. F. King Company received a train of nine buggies and a wagon from Shaniko. When residents of the town saw the train coming they said unprintable things about the travelling agents, but when they found it was for a local dealer their tune changed.
Work will be commenced Monday on the construction of the canal out of Ochoco at Crane's bridge, which is to carry the water for the irrigation of the McKay bench, which project is being undertaken by Messrs. Slayton, Lafollette and Watkins. One thousand acres of bench land will be watered from the floods in the spring and as late in the summer as the flow of the creek will furnish water for this purpose over what has already been appropriated, thus bringing an increased production of a considerable area in close proximity to Prineville.
For Sale:—Seven room house and four lots, good out-buildings. Can be had on reasonable terms. Apply to Mrs. Hugh Lister, Prineville, Oregon.

His Desserts.
They wanted an original closing episode for the great melodrama. Ordinarily the baffled villain walks away, with a sippant sneer, and the sheriff meets him at the left upper exit, but this was old and crude. So the playwright set his wits to work with the following result:
Just as the villain uttered his farewell curse the low comedy servant rushed forward and after smiting him over the head with a suet pudding violently pushed a custard pie in his face.
"Waste no sympathy on the wretch, my darling," the hero remarks to the rescued heroine. "He has received only his just desserts!"

Too Much For One.
"I am looking for my son," said a sharp featured woman recently entering an office building in Washington, where she found the janitor sitting at the entrance tipped back in a chair. "Have you seen him? He's a tall, slim boy."
"Very tall, was he?" asked the janitor.
"Very and stender."
"I think I saw him here a minute ago."
"Where was he?" demanded the woman.
"Well, madam," replied the janitor, "as nearly as I could make out, he was on the first and second floors."—Lippincott's.
