The Cold Stays Out and the Style Stays In when you're wearing a Sincerity overcoat. Warm enough for the keenest cold, but light enough not to be a burden. The makers reshrink fabrics that come from the mill marked "fully shrunk" till the loss is 15 per cent—that's their loss.

As a result the style stays in—that's your gain. And every stitch—every bit of work on a Sincerity garment is directed towards making the style more than the looks. And all Grizzly News.

[Received too late for last week.] We are having lots of rain for this time of year.

Joe Montgomery started to Shaniko for a load of freight for J. W. Lewis, the first of the week. As it has been raining since he has been gone, it is feared he will get stuck in the mud.

The new sawmill on Coon Creek is now running, busily engaged in sawing lumber for the railroad.

L. H. Hamilton left on Sunday's stage for Portland, where he will attend the federal court.

Mrs. Lewis was on the sick list this week. Miss Maude Newbill is staying with them.

We are constantly reminded of railroad building by roaring of the blast.

Mrs. Winnie Cubitt is visiting Prineville a few days.

Frank Song was visiting at the home of C. A. Newbill this week. It seems Frank likes to come over to Grizzly. He likes the mountain scenery.

The stage passing through Grizzly, Monday, failed to stop as it had left the mail for this place at Heisler.

There are not many idle men around here now, as the several sawmills have given them employment.

One of J. J. Hill's men, it was understood, was looking up right-of-way through Morrow I. Keenan's farm near Trail Crossing.

Miss Florence Montgomery was visiting at home from Heisler, where she has been staying a few days.

C. Montgomery has returned from Culver, where he has been visiting his daughters, Mrs. Perry Read, and Mrs. Alex Houk.

Carl Cooper left here early Sunday morning for Madras. There seems to be some attraction at Madras for Carl.

Mr. Vineyard was made glad the first of the week by his daughter, Mrs. Ferold, from Portland, coming to make her home with him, as he has been batching for some time. Greenhorn.

Porter Brothers to Operate Sawmill.

Porter Brothers, through their representative, Mr. Mason, last week leased the sawmill on the Deschutes River near the Warm-springs ferry, and have also secured some land at that point for the location of railway construction camps.

Timber has been secured by the Porters on the Matoles River, which will be driven down that stream to the Deschutes and then on down to the mill. The lumber manufactured there will be used in the construction of the Oregon Trunk Line and will consist principally of bridge timbers and ties.

New machinery and other equipment will be installed at the mill, which will be put in operation in the near future.—Madras Pioneer.

Do You Like Sausage?

Fred Schneider, a professional sausage maker, has been employed by Horgan & Still to make all kinds of sausage. He is turning out the finest kind of headcheese, liver sausage, pork sausage, link sausage, summer sausage, etc. Try some of his make. You will want more.

Heifer Estrayed.

Light roan heifer about 15 months old, came to my place about the middle of Feb., 1909. No brand noticeable. Ear mark, crop off right, under slope left, owner call and pay pasture bill and costs, and recover. W. S. CARROLL, Prineville, Or.

His Clever Scheme.

"The man with the large head and the protruding eyebrows stepped into the cigar emporium.

"Give me the poorest cigar you've got."

"Five or ten center?" queried the man behind the showcase.

"I don't know whether you're going to give me a five or ten center. I'm going to give you a dime. Remember, now, the poorest cigar in the place."

The clerk handed out a box, and the customer selected one, calmly lighted it and puffed curiously. Then he left with an air of supreme satisfaction.

"Ah, this tastes good!" he muttered on the outside. "I knew my little scheme would work. The fellow gave me the best cigar he had in the store."

The cigar dispenser on the inside so-liloquized:

"I just took that old coddler at his word. I handed him a box of three for a nickel!"—Lippincott's.

Progress.

Let us, then, be of good cheer. From the great law of progress we may derive at once our duties and our encouragements. Humanity has ever advanced, urged by the instincts and necessities implanted by God, thwarted sometimes by obstacles which have caused it for a time—a moment only in the immensity of ages—to deviate from its true lines or to seem to retreat, but still ever onward.—Charles Sumner.
