Dr. Gull Newsome has been visiting his parents in Prineville the past week. He will soon return to Portland.
Miss Vivian Allen passed through town this week from her home at Paulina, on her way to Grizzly to resume teaching.

The revival meetings in the Union church, continues with growing interest. Rev. Ledford is a forcible speaker and gives no uncertain sound. Come and hear him. A cordial invitation is extended to all Christian workers. Come and enjoy the meetings. They will continue over Sunday, C. P. Bailey, pastor.

The tax roll for the year 1909 was turned over to the sheriff January 31 for the collection of taxes. The extensions were made by William Johnson, who has had considerable experience at such work. In fact County Clerk Brown says that for proficiency and accuracy his work could not be excelled. Mr. Johnson is 73 years of age and is still hale and hearty.

R. B. Post, who was formerly in Prineville measuring the flow of the streams in this county for the U. S. Geological Survey was here for a few days from Burns this week. Mr. Post, who has been in the survey for many years has resigned from the service and will hereafter be connected with one of the gas and oil development companies now operating in Harney county. His wife and child are now at Burns.

The Junior Epworth League of the Methodist church will give a George Washington birthday entertainment on the 23 of this month. The juniors are working on the programme and promise to give everybody a good time.
Forest Rangers, W. L. Nichols and C. S. Conington returned last Sunday from a trip to Crescent in the south end of the Deschutes Forest where they examined timber and stone claims. The land is snow bound and they left about 2 feet of snow on the level.
George White, a farmer, living six miles northeast of Madras, struck water in a well Saturday by digging 91 feet. There is a strong flow into the well, which, contrary to expectations, comes from the north. The well was blasted through 86 feet of rock. There is now three feet of water in the well.

At the First Methodist church for Sunday, February 6, Dr. Walton Skipworth, the district superintendent, will preach both morning and evening. At the close of the morning service he will administer the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Dr. Skipworth's preaching ability is well known in Prineville and it goes without saying that all who attend will enjoy a treat.
George Geddings, a carpenter, has returned to Crook county after an absence of eighteen months during which he was in the Black Hills in North Dakota. Mr. Geddings is well known here. He worked on Hotel Prineville and later took a homestead on the Matoles on which he made proof. He says the winter in the Dakota country has been a very severe one.

LOCAL MENTION

A. W. Boyce of Madras was in the city Friday.
B. C. Dove and Lloyd Hunter, drove the rigs up from Madras Wednesday that brought the fourteen men who were arrested there on different charges.
Forty dollars a ton for hay! Gee Whiz! That's what we thought when we read the following in the Madras Pioneer: "E. W. Roberts of Redmond was a business visitor in Madras last Saturday. While in town Mr. Roberts completed the sale of 100 tons of hay to Dwyer & Co., railroad contractors, the price being $40 per ton delivered." But when some inquiry was made it was learned that $20 per ton was the highest price that was being paid there.
Rev. G. R. Moorhead came up from Madras Wednesday bringing the returns of Madras' first city election. The election was a very quiet one he says. Rev. Moorhead believes that the wholesale arrests of bootleggers and gamblers made by Sheriff Elkins this week at Madras will have a restraining effect on that element for awhile at least. Mr. Porter, the railroad contractor, informs him that whiskey is the greatest drawback he meets with in accomplishing his work. The men all want booze and are all right as long as they can't get it. When a supply of whiskey is obtained it takes three or four days to get anything done. One man went on the works selling liquor. Mr. Porter told the bootlegger he would give him 24 hours to get out, and the booze peddler took the hint and left in short order. The lack of lumber and other building materials and labor seems to be hampering the growth of Madras at present.

Born—December 31, to the wife of Marion Mayfield, a boy.
Born—Tuesday, February 1, to the wife of George Junkers of O'Neill, a girl.
W. R. Pollard has received $1800 from the Women of Woodcraft, a policy for that amount having been carried by his late wife.
Miss Della Haight came in on Monday's stage for a visit to her school mate, Miss Mamie Bailey. Miss Haight will take the teachers' examinations next week.
Preaching, both morning and evening (11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.), Sunday, February 6th, at the Presbyterian church. Morning subject, "Restored Joy." Evening, "Fading."

The estate of George Stow Slayton, valued at $250,000 is in the courts at Boston, Mass. His divorced wife has sued for a half interest. Should her claim be allowed it will open the way for Ed and George Slayton, nephews and Roy and John R. Howard, Mrs. Edith Zurcher, and Floy and Edith Slayton to put in claims for a portion of the property. T. M. Baldwin is guardian for the other heirs in Indiana.
County Judge Ellis and Commissioners Bayley and Rice were here today to confer with Thomas Phillips, the stone contractor of Portland, in regard to repairing five pillars in the stone work of the basement of the new courthouse. It was about these pillars that such a howl went up about the building falling down shortly after it was accepted by the county. The pillars are to be taken out and better ones put in. Mr. Phillips is to do the work by the day.
