Had His Feet Badly Frozen

Harry Smith, a shepherd, who has been working for Farquar McRea at his ranch up the Ochoco, had a narrow escape from freezing to death last Wednesday night. Smith is a weak-minded individual and was made the butt of a good many jokes around the sheep camp. The latest joke was making Smith believe that they were going to take him out and shoot him. Smith firmly believed the hoax and watching his opportunity struck out over the hills for Antelope. He wandered around up on March creek until he became lost. He laid out Wednesday night and wandered all next day. Eventually he found his way to Howard and stopped at the camp of Al Nichols. Smith was in a pitiable condition. He had removed his boots because, he said, the snow balled them up so that he could not walk. His feet were badly frozen. As soon as Smith was located the McRea people were notified and the searching parties that they had out looking for him were called in. Smith was taken before a justice of the peace who ordered him taken to Prineville for medical treatment. John Ritter arrived with him 2 o'clock Friday morning. Dr. Rosenberg, the county physician, is attending the man and may be able to save a portion of each foot. Some of the toes have been taken off and it may be possible to save the ball of the foot.

Madras Man Back from Alberta

Peter Marnach, formerly of Madras, who has been in the Alberta (Canada) country lately, was in Prineville yesterday. He has scripped some land there—320 acres—and expects to return before long. His brother, Joe Marnach, has acquired two sections there on Red Deer river, and plans to homestead more land. He will engage in the stock business.

Peter says that it is a great country, level as a floor, without timber, stretching away for hundreds of miles in any direction. Coal is used for fuel and costs about $1.75 a ton. The region is alive with antelope, deer, ducks and geese.

Mr. Marnach says that the cold up there was not very intense during the past winter—not much colder than it has been in Crook county.

Harney Stockmen Are Heavy Losers

A special to the Telegram from Burns says that winter still continues in Harney county and the stockmen are suffering heavy losses of cattle and sheep. Harney Valley is covered with snow and the cattle owners are running out of hay. Several of them have begun to turn their herds out on the range. The sheepmen have been hit the hardest by the February blizzards and some who were ranging their herds on the desert without hay have lost 40 per cent of their sheep and as March is considered by sheep owners the worst weather on sheep, their loss will probably reach 50 per cent this winter. There are no signs of an early break-up, as there are no birds coming in like in former years. The robins and larks are welcome visitors to the stockmen, for their coming is a sure sign that spring is at hand.

There are localities in Harney and Lake where sheepmen and cattlemen have run their stock for years on the fine bunch grass and have not been troubled by snow to amount to much, but they are being heavily this year and their bank accounts will be slim by the time grass grows.

Maskers at C. M. Elkins Home.

Mrs. C. M. Elkins entertained a company of young people at a masquerade party, in honor of her son Millard, last Saturday, February 26.

As the maskers came in the door numbers were pinned on their backs and each requested to guess the names of the guests. Merle Ireland won the prize by guessing 22 of the 34 present. After the masks were taken off refreshments of sherbert and cake were served.

Those present were: Golda Cleek, Mary Jones, Helen Elkins, Mildred Young, Caroline Thomson, Clarence Bixby, Norris Bixby, Carey Stearns, James Gram, Arthur Michel, Columbia Thomson, Anna Thomson, Merle Ireland, Mabel Doak, Lota Horgan, Robert Lister, Thelma Noble, Evelyn Milliron, Millard Elkins, Thron Thomson, Georgia Cleek, Leola Estes, Vernon Bell, Walter Larwood, Harold Lister, Vernon Lister, Dale Elkins, Violet Lister, Myrtle Lister, Arthur O'Neil, Lawrence Lister, Hobart Belknap, Van Brink, Leland Belknap.

Mail Blockade Is Raised.

The blockade on the Columbia Southern has been raised and a train arrived in Shaniko bringing mail Wednesday morning. The mail reached Prineville at noon today. No mail from the railroad was received here since last Friday. The Prineville-Sisters stage was unable to come in from O'Neil Wednesday on account of the road being flooded from Crooked river, an occurrence that has not happened in many years. The Burns stage was also held up the same morning by the floods up Crooked river and unable to reach here.

Second day of May, 1910, and if you fail to so appear or answer said complaint, I will take a judgment and decree against you for the relief prayed for in the complaint, to wit:

For a decree of said court forever removing the cloud upon the plaintiff's title to the following described premises, to wit: Beginning at a point 30 feet east and fifteen hundred thirty feet north of the section corner to sections five, six, thirty-one and thirty-two, on the township line between townships fourteen and fifteen South, and all being in Range sixteen east of the Willamette Meridian in Crook County, State of Oregon, and running thence south, seventy-nine degrees east, sixty feet, thence north two hundred feet; thence north seventy-nine degrees west sixty feet and thence south two hundred feet to the place of beginning. TEACHERS MEET AT LAIDLAW

"Mental Suggestion in the School Room" was the subject of a talk by Miss Parrott of the Crook County High School. The care that should be taken in the suggestions made to the students, even though prefaced by the negative "don't," was especially dwelt upon. The effect of the opposite suggestions, both upon the youth and the adult, was also pointed out.

Professor Thompson of the Laidlaw school was unavoidably absent, but his paper on "Arithmetic" was ably given by Mrs. Thompson and was greatly enjoyed by the teachers.

Prof. Evans of the Crook County High School took up "Agriculture in the Public Schools," and showed the vast advantage that would accrue from laying more stress upon this part of our curriculum as it would have a tendency to educate the boy for the farm, not away from it. The institute closed with a talk by Mr. Barnes on the "Relation of the Grange to the Public Schools," in which he emphasized the stand this organization was taking for practical work in the schools, and he also dwelt upon the rapid strides our schools were making along this line.

Aside from the regular educational work a committee of three—Miss Parrott, of the County High School, Miss Reid, of Bend, and Mr. Russell, of Laidlaw—were appointed to formulate a practical plan for the educational exhibit at the County Fair. The plan presented by the committee and adopted by the institute is as follows: The exhibit from each school is to be upon the same topic. These topics to be selected by the schools designated below and presented for Mr. Ford's approval not later than Friday, March 11. The exhibit must be from fifty per cent of the students in the class.

The topics from the various grades in the public schools are to be divided as follows:

History and Music—Bend.
English and Drawing—Prineville.
Geography—Laidlaw.
Arithmetic and Writing—Redmond.
Physiology and Spelling—Madras.

Those for the high school are: German, Botany, Book-keeping, Latin and Physics—Bend.
American History, Agriculture, Chemistry, English and Geometry—County High School.
General History and Algebra—Madras.

Physical Geography—Laidlaw.

It is especially desired that every school make an effort not only to have an educational exhibit, but also an industrial one, and the superintendent admonished every teacher in the county to emphasize the value of the industrial work.

At the close of the session, Superintendent Ford in the name of the teachers expressed the thanks of the institute for the hospitality and courtesies extended by the people of Laidlaw and vicinity.
