Wood Frame Harrows
Spring Tooth Harrows
Superior Grain Drills
Fanning Mills & Baggers
The well known Oliver and Canton
Plows in walking, sulky and gang

In an effort to keep pace with the many improvements in agricultural machinery, we are introducing every season new types of implements that have been tried and found to materially increase the yield of the soil in other sections similar to ours. This year we offer the Canton Alfalfa Harrow and a big assortment of Land Packers. In packers we have the Dunham for light, sandy soil and the Campbell for heavier soil. These packers are designed to conserve the moisture and to obtain the proper proportion of air and moisture in the ground and thus increase yield

Quite a number of Prineville people attended the dance Friday night at Templeton's Hall on McKay.
Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ellis were over from Bend the first of the week. The Judge was attending to probate matters.
Mrs. Grace Fincher, accompanied by her brother, Claude Barney, came in on Wednesday's stage from Vernon, Texas, to join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Barney of Mill Creek.
R. E. Jones of Howard was in town yesterday. He says that the Ochoco sawmill will start up this week. The demand for rough and dressed lumber, he says, was never better. He intends to cut shingles as soon as the saw gets here from Portland.
J. W. Collins, who formerly lived in Prineville, and who last summer drove an auto for the Cornett Stage & Stable Company, was arrested last Monday in Portland charged with deserting his wife and family in North Yakima. He was at once taken to Washington. Collins was sent to Portland to bring out a big 7-passenger Garford car for the Cornett Stage & Stable Co., when he was placed under arrest. Cornett himself has gone to Portland for the auto.
Mrs. Ora Polndexter and Mrs. Thron Thronson narrowly escaped being seriously injured last Sunday afternoon while out riding. Their horse became frightened when they drove out of Hodges' feed yard and started to run. At the corner of Park Doak's residence, both occupants of the buggy were thrown out. Mrs. Polndexter struck on her head and was rendered unconscious for some time but Mrs. Thronson was not seriously injured. Both ladies are now able to be out again but it will be some time before they forget the incident.

John Elliott, who lived at Howard, died last Sunday, aged 81. He had lived in Crook county for a quarter of a century. He left six children to mourn his loss, besides a host of other relatives and friends.
Farmers, new settlers and all interested in the latest up-to-date farming machinery will find the ad. of C. W. Elkins on first page especially interesting.
Alex Almond and Homer Barney came in on Friday's stage from Portland where they have been on business. Mr. Barney contemplates erecting a saw-mill on Mill Creek, in the near future.

T. F. McCallister returned last week from a two-weeks' visit at Shedd's Station in the Willamette valley. Mr. McCallister drove in from the Dalles and says he never saw such roads as those between Bake Oven and Haight's place. The heavy traffic needed by the supply camps of the railroad has cut the bottom out of them. Mr. McCallister said it was not an unusual sight to see four six-horse teams dragging a stalled wagon out of the mud. He met two teams, each loaded with seven bales of hay, and it took four mules to a wagon to move them. The roads were the worst he ever saw.
