

PERFECTLY CLEAN.

An Explanation That Didn't Convince the Day's Mother.

"I've just spanked Ned. I don't know what course you'll pursue with Stephen," remarked the mother's intimate friend.

"What have the boys been up to now?" was the timid query.

"About the very last thing you'd imagine. They've been eating lunch with the laborers working along the car track. And you might as well know the worst of once—they've been eating meat cooked in a shovel."

With a frantic vision of a hopelessly green riddled child, Stephen's mother called her interesting heir to speedy account.

"I didn't eat lunch with any strange men," he indignantly protested. "Those men are all my friends. And I didn't eat any meat cooked in a shovel, either."

"What did you eat, then?"

"Only some gravy cooked in a shovel by one of the men." Then, perceiving the wild alarm in the maternal countenance, "But it was clean, all right, mother, for I saw the man wipe off the shovel with his hat before he poured in the gravy."

Love and Gold.

Daniel O'Connell, the famous Irish statesman, had a great rival, Sergeant Tom Gould, pronounced Gold. Tom was a confirmed old bachelor, but when over eighty years of age proposed to and was accepted by a girl of eighteen. He announced his engagement to O'Connell in verse, concluding thus:

Do you see, my dear Dan, that though eighty years old,
A girl of eighteen fell in love with old Gould.

To which O'Connell replied:

That a girl of eighteen may love gold it is true,
But, believe me, dear Tom, it is gold without U.

Her Usual Line of Talk.

A certain Louisville social leader, whom we will call Mrs. Fayette County, to avoid identifying her, was told by her husband over the telephone that he would bring a number of guests home to dinner. The party was altogether unexpected, and in all the house, which has become noted for the generous and sumptuous dinners spread in it, there was not enough food.

Mrs. County got busy at once and instructed her cook to order certain supplies while she planned the rest of the dinner. A little later Mrs. County happened in the room where the telephone was and was horrified to hear the cook talking ferociously into the telephone, something as follows:

"Ah! Ah! want six dozen soft shell crabs, an' ef yo' don't get dem up here mighty quick Ah'll skin every one of yo, ye low down—Who is dis? Dis is Mrs. Fayette County, dat's who dis is, and Ah means ebbery word Ah say."

"Mandy," cried the mistress, "what do you mean? You must not."

"Lawsdy," returned the cook, "that's all right, Miss Fay. Ah talks to 'um like dat for yo' all de time."—Louisville Times.

Passion and Reason.

We fancy we suffer from ingratitude, while in reality we suffer from self-love. Passion weeps while she says, "I did not deserve this from him." Reason, while she says it, smooths her brow at the clear fountain of the heart.—Walter Savage Landor.

Dignity.

A certain little girl is very dignified. One morning she hung about the kitchen continually, bothering the busy cook to death. The cook lost patience finally.

"Clear out o' here, ye sass-y little brat!" she shouted, thumping the table with a rolling pin.

The little girl gave the cook a haughty look.

"I never allow any one but my mother to speak to me like that," she said.

Another Heat Coming.

An Irishman had recently buried his wife. As he sat one evening disconsolate in the dooryard of his farmhouse a woman neighbor thought she'd play a joke on him. She came up behind him covered with a white sheet and tapped him on the shoulder. He turned from the ghost with a yell and started off across the fields on a run, followed by the woman. After a short run his breath failed him, and he staggered against a tree, panting. The woman, still dressed in the terrifying sheet, caught up with him here.

"Mike," says she, "we had a fine run, didn't we?"

"Yes," says Mike, with fear in his eye, "and begob we will have another as soon as I get me wind back."

AUTOMATIC WELL PUMP.

Water is Raised by Simply Stepping on a Platform.

The pumping outfit herewith shown can be made very cheaply, and in some homes it would save considerable labor, as it is only necessary to step upon the platform and the weight of the body will elevate the water, says Popular Mechanics. To make this outfit take a five gallon funnel top oil can, melt the solder and remove the top, then trim the edges so it will have a working fit inside of the can part, as shown in Fig. 1. ### Mechano Therapy

Is a scientific combination of food, circumstances, idea, water and motion for the stimulation of physiological action by mechanical and other means for the purpose of establishing a normal condition of the body.

Blood deficiency and blood deterioration is the physiological cause of a long list of constitutional, functional, nerve, bone and tissue ailments that would never have supervened but by its depraved agency, and will as surely succumb to its restoration to normal condition.

To regulate the various functions of the body depending upon motion — to maintain normal and to correct abnormal conditions is the province of

Chiropractics

Is a new science of healing without drugs.

It is based upon a correct knowledge of the nervous system.

The brain is the propeller of the body, transmitting life's force to the various organs and tissues through the spinal cord and nerves. As a man grows older he grows shorter, bringing abnormal pressure upon these vital nerves, cutting off vitality. So it is with Dis-Ease.

So long as the anatomical structure of the body is unimpaired, normal physiological action will be maintained; immunity from Dis-Eases. But when life's vital force is obstructed by any structural pressure upon nerve, its tissues become weakened and disease inhabits.

Chiropractic adjusts all misplacements and allows the innate builder to reconstruct.
