

Are You Going to the Mountains? With half of the money usually spent on a trip to Portland or the sea shore, we can fit you out with a light wagon, a tent, fishing tackle, guns, ammunition, camp stove, camp stools, Economy or Mason fruit jars, and a stock of first-class groceries that will enable you to enjoy the comforts of an ideal mountain outing. Let us quote you prices on what you need in this line.

The W. F. King Company, Prineville, Oregon

LOCAL MENTION

Marion Mayfield and wife were in Prineville Tuesday.

J. H. Beckley returned to Portland the first of the week.

B. B. Bakowski left Tuesday for Prairie City and Burns.

J. B. Vanderpool was a passenger for Shaniko the first of the week.

E. C. Faught and Henry Carlin were business visitors Tuesday.

M. R. Elliott returned the first of the week from a trip to Trout Creek by auto.

Will Arnold and H. G. Webb came in Monday with freight for local merchants.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wigle returned from a vacation at the coast the last of the week.

Rev. C. C. Babidge will return from his vacation for next Sunday's service at the Presbyterian Church.

Wurzweiler & Lister have bought the J. W. Fogle cattle and will winter them on their ranch near Paulina.

E. E. Gillenwater, Clarence and Joe Post passed through the city Tuesday on their way to Shaniko with a bunch of cattle.

H. E. Bileout sold a bunch of six Jersey cows to J. W. Livingston Saturday. The consideration was $300 for the six.

Louis W. Wylie is doing deputy work for County Assessor J. D. LaFollette. About forty pages of the current year's tax roll have been completed and the work is progressing rapidly.

H. M. Powell will harvest 200 acres of alfalfa for seed this year. A part of this amount is in the pod now and the remainder will be of a later crop. He has a machine built especially for thrashing and cleaning this seed, and he thinks he will get an abundant yield this year.

A class of 104 applicants took the state medical examination in Portland a few days ago. Of this number 96 passed and of these Dr. Fox of this place ranked fourth from the head of the list. This is a good showing, considering the fact that the practice and procedure is different from England, where Dr. Fox had practiced for a number of years.

Helsler postoffice, which has been established and discontinued spasmodically for the past ten years, is again of the map. Mail from this point to Madras goes by way of Shaniko now, and a letter to Culver R. F. D. for example would require about five days under favorable conditions for delivery, while one day should be quite long enough. Some kind of west side mail service is needed worse now than ever before, but it will perhaps not be had until the mail supply comes from Madras to Prineville, for the postoffice department moves very slowly in these matters.

Will Gibson and wife were in Prineville buying supplies Tuesday.

John E. Ryan of Bend returned from Portland the first of the week.

J. H. Haner returned from Bend Tuesday from a brief business visit.

C. B. Dinwiddle and family left yesterday for Newport where they will spend a month or more enjoying a vacation.

Warren Knox returned the last of the week from Idaho where he has been shearing sheep.

Rev. J. D. Lewellen and family left Monday for a vacation. Rev. Lewellen will attend the annual conference at Spokane before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe McCollum returned to their home in Antelope Tuesday after a visit with Mrs. McCollum's sister Mrs. P. B. Doak.

C. W. Elkins and family returned from an outing in the Cascades Monday. They report an excellent time and some luck in securing fish and berries.

R. D. Ketchum and wife will leave Saturday for Davenport, Iowa, where Dan expects to finish his study of chiropractic. They will be gone until sometime in the spring.

Mr. Phillips, of Douglas & Phillips, who are to build the stonework of the Baptist church, arrived from Portland Tuesday and will begin at once to prepare for construction work.

Olle Ellefson returned the last of the week from The Dalles, where he went to meet his brother Oscar. Oscar will spend some time visiting his relatives here before returning to his home in Chicago.

W. H. Millron and party returned the last of the week from Junction city and other Willamette valley points, where they have been getting their winter supply of fruit. They succeeded in getting an abundance of blackberries and other fruit.

Howard Campbell, the fourteen-year-old son of Ed Campbell, who is a brother-in-law of Sheriff Elkins, died at the Campbell home, ten miles from Madras, on the Warm Spring road Monday, from diphtheria. The boy had been sick two weeks and was considered almost out of danger. His sister Nita, who is a little older than her brother, is suffering from the same disease, as are others in the vicinity.

Madras Pioneer: Pat Kennedy, of the railroad contracting firm of Kennedy & Frazer, who have the contract for the first 10 miles of Oregon Trunk grading south of Madras, lost his life July 27th in Alaska, when a stage in which he was riding upset in the river. Mr. Kennedy was struck by the plunging horses and either killed outright or drowned. He left Madras about the middle of July to go to Alaska to look after business interests. He was one of the most successful and widely known railroad builders in the country.
