Railroad Building in Crook County

Railroad building in Crook county is progressing much more rapidly than the residents generally realize. The estimates of the time when trains will actually be running into Madras and that vicinity vary from December 1 to March 1, 1911, but all agree that it will be as soon as men and money, battling against the hardest kind of odds, can put it there.

From Madras to Crooked river the roadway is ready for the rails for about half the distance, and the work is going ahead as rapidly as possible.

At Trail crossing the work is at a standstill, and will not commence again until all heavy material comes in over steel rails, for teaming is too expensive for the immense amount of cement that will be necessary there.

From the river south the work is going ahead with night shifts in some of the cuts, and for two hours in the morning and evening, and at noon the booming of the blasts are to be heard almost unceasingly.

Railroad camps all along the survey are almost in sight of each other and the work is going on in each direction from every camp, closing up the gaps as rapidly as possible.

This condition prevails as far south as Bend, and is going on at a less degree farther south. The work that is being done is station work, which is the working down of the hardest places. Although there has been but about one-third of the work completed for the rails as far as Redmond, the remaining distance will be much easier to construct than the part that is already done.

In every particular the quality of the work is standard "North Bank" work, which is the best that men and money can do.

It is estimated that three months from the time the first train gets into Madras trains will be run into Redmond, and at the present rate of building this is not at all impossible. The time, however, depends upon the big steel bridge at Trail Crossing. Everyone in the vicinity and every railway contractor on the work has an idea of his own as to the length of time that will be required to do this work.

There is no sign of a terminal at any of the towns along the line so far as the casual observer can see, and from the way in which the track is being graded through these towns it would seem to signify that the road is what its name implies, "The Oregon Trunk."

If there are to be branch lines, no one knows, and no one cares for there is a trunk line building now in the most approved and up to date manner.

Eighth Grade Examinations

The eight grade examinations for September will be held by Superintendent Ford on Thursday and Friday September 8-9. All who failed in one or two studies in earlier examinations should take this examination and be ready for the opening of high school. These will be granted diplomas as soon as they pass. The program and source of questions will be as follows:

Thursdays—Physiology, Writing, History, and Civil Government.

Fridays—Grammar, Arithmetic, Geography and Spelling.

Source of Questions: Arithmetic—Practical Arithmetic—Smith.

Civil Government—United States Constitution.

Geography—State Course of Study; Redway and Hinman's Natural School Geography.

History—List of topics from History Outline in State Course of Study and Current Events.

Grammar—Buehler's Modern English Grammar, no diagramming.

Physiology—Graded Lessons in Physiology and Hygiene—Krohn.

Reading—The teacher will send to the county Superintendent the applicant's class standing in reading, which will be taken by such superintendent as the applicants standing on the subject.

Spelling—Reed's Word Lessons. Writing—Specimens of penmanship as indicated in copied matter and manuscript in Language.

Grain Samples Wanted. We are making a collection of the finest samples of grain, vegetables and fruit grown in Central Oregon on both irrigated and non-irrigated land. The purpose of this collection is to advertise your country and show to the public what can be produced here. Some of this exhibit will be turned over to the Portland Chamber of Commerce to be used as a permanent exhibit in their exhibit rooms in Portland, and we wish those who have something good will bring us samples to either our Culver or Laidlaw office and we will see that good use is made of them.

DISCHUTES VALLEY LAND & INVESTMENT CO., O. C. Young, Culver, Oregon. Harmon Cook, Laidlaw, Oregon.

Notice to Well Drillers. I would like to have bids on drilling a 200 foot well on my place near Prineville this fall. Will let contract. Address E. T. Slayton, Prineville, Oregon. 8-4-11

The Stomach Telescope. The "stomach telescope," or gastro-scope, invented at the London hospital last year has proved to be of the greatest value in the diagnosis of stomach disorders. An eminent surgeon recently referred in the highest terms to the advances lately made at that hospital in the early detection of diseases of the stomach by means of this instrument, which will in the immediate future probably come to be part of the equipment of every up to date hospital. The gastro-scope now enables the physician or surgeon to actually see for himself the exact condition of the whole of the interior of the stomach, the slightest ulceration, growth or other abnormality in the lining membrane being thus readily observed. To be able to do this is of the very greatest importance in suspected cancer of the stomach where the only hope of cure lies in the eradication of the cancerous growth at the very earliest moment.—London Telegraph.

Candidate for Sheriff To the Republican voters of Crook county: I hereby announce myself as candidate for the office of Sheriff of Crook county, subject to the approval of the voters of the county at the primary election to be held in September. Respectfully, ST. HODGES.

To Exchange for Either Irrigated or Non-Irrigated Land in Central Oregon. We have 24 acres of genuine Beaverdam land located at Beaverton, Oregon, one-half mile from postoffice and same distance from Oregon Electric line and Southern Pacific Ry., 30-minute car service to Portland. All tillable and sub-irrigated; 21 acres in cultivation of which 10 acres is in apples (Spitzenbergers), 6 acres in onions. Crop, which will probably net $3000 to $4000 goes with place if taken soon. Price $14,400. Will accept land to the value of $7000 and allow five years at 6 per cent on balance.

DISCHUTES VALLEY LAND & INVESTMENT CO., 301-302 Buchanan Bldg., Portland, Ore. or O. C. Young, Culver, Ore. 8-11-11

Delaine Bucks for Sale. I will be in Prineville the 1st of September with Delaine Bucks. Will stay a week or ten days. 8-11-imp JOHN CAMPBELL.

ECZEMA CURABLE PROOF NOW AT 25¢ It is usually very costly to consult a specialist in any disease, but for 25 cents, on a special offer, we can now give to those suffering from eczema or any form of skin disease absolutely instant relief, with prospect of an early cure.

A special trial size bottle of oil of wintergreen, thymol and glycerine, etc., as compounded in the Chicago Laboratories of the D. D. D. Company may be had in our store on this special 25 cent offer. This one bottle will convince you—we know it—we vouch for it.

Ten years of success with this mild, soothing wash, D. D. D. Prescription, has convinced us, and we hope you will accept the special 25 cent offer on D. D. D. Prescription so that you also will be convinced.

HOTEL SPOOF.

Harry Lauder's Joke on an English Newspaper. "I'll tell you a story about Arthur Roberts and me," said Harry Lauder, the Scotch comedian. "The pair of us were in Manchester when we saw on the sporting page of the Guardian a paragraph that said:

"In consequence of the number of unsupported challenges recently forwarded to this paper we give notice that in future only genuine challenges can be accepted for insertion in our columns. As a proof of good faith each challenge must be paid for at the uniform rate of 1 shilling."

"Arthur," said I, "here's a chance for a joke."

"How?" said he.

"I read the notice to him, and then there we concocted a challenge of which I shall never cease to be proud—a hotel spoof challenge. Of course there is no such game or sport as spoof. Spoof is a word very few people have ever heard of. To spoof is to get off impromptu nonsense on the stage. Well, our challenge ran:

"Hotel Spoof.—Harry Lauder, bearing so much talk about A. Roberts being the champion spoof player of England, will play Roberts a game of hotel spoof for £500 a side, catch-as-catch-can, over eight flights of hurdles, bath-room barred. Address, money and man, H. Lauder, Comedy Theater, Manchester."

"That was the challenge, and we had no idea what it meant after we had drawn it up. Nevertheless we carried it boldly to the Guardian office. The clerk read it in a dazed way.

"One insertion, please," said Roberts, plunking down a shilling.

"Excuse me," said the clerk, "but what is spoof?"

"Roberts glared at him.

"Some of your nonsense with me, young man," he growled. "What is spoof? You'll be asking what chess or whist is next."

"And the following morning, directly under the editorial notice that 'only genuine challenges could be accepted for insertion,' appeared our little paragraph about hotel spoof."

She Gave Him an Answer. A business man said to his wife at dinner: "Here is a riddle for you, my dear. Why is a husband like dough?"

The answer to this riddle was, "Because a woman needs him." The business man expected his wife to give the riddle up or else to guess that answer. But his wife said calmly:

"Why is a husband like dough, eh? Well, I suppose it's because he's so hard to get off one's hands."

His Treat. In the course of a railway journey one day Queen Helene visited a small wayside station, where she was met by the mayor and corporation in all the glory of their robes of honor. An elegant luncheon had been provided, but the queen, wishing to hasten on her journey, requested a member of the deputation to get her a glass of wine. This was promptly brought, but while drinking it a drop fell on her traveling dress. Her majesty at once opened her hand bag and sought for a handkerchief to remove the stain, whereupon the worthy mayor, misunderstanding her action, murmured humbly: "Ah, no, your majesty! I assure you it's all paid for."

Anticipation. It has been well said that no man ever sank under the burden of the day. It is when to-morrow's burden is added to the burden of today that the weight is more than a man can bear.—George Macdonald.

Wanted All of Them. Rivers had been detained by a business meeting at the club, and the hour was late when he reached home. "So it's you, is it?" exclaimed Mrs. Rivers, who was wide awake. "You've got some plausible excuse, too, of course. You were detained downtown by some necessary, indispensable, important, unavoidable, unescapable, urgent, essential and absolutely compulsory and inexorable business! Of all the flimsy, transparent, diaphanous—"

"For heaven's sake, Lena," interrupted Rivers, whipping out his notebook, "wait a minute and let me jot down those synonyms. I don't know where you got them, but I can use every one of them. Now go ahead again, dear, but please talk a little slower."—Chicago Tribune.

A Sweet Singer. It was 3 o'clock in the morning as Mr. Youngblood crept slowly up the stairs. Everything was peaceful in the house. Opening the door to his room noiselessly, he stepped upon a tall of the family rat. Naturally a penetrating yowl resounded through the night. "John," said his wife, awakening, "don't you think it's rather late to be singing? The neighbors might complain."
