City Dads Have Troubls of their Own

The Prineville city council has been having a busy time trying to have a meeting. The August meeting was missed as most of the councilmen were out of the city. Tuesday night was the regular time for the September meeting. Councilman Ward Cram resigned some time ago, and Councilman Rosenberg is in The Dalles to assist in an important operation. Your men are required to make a quorum, and Mayor Stewart and Recorder Breese were sure of a meeting, while Marshal Kelso and Nightwatchman Yancey were ready for their two months' salary. All appeared and were ready for business but George Storkman was found to be in the country. No meeting was held, and Wednesday morning the Prineville Cigar factory was besieged by the mayor and members of the council. Councilman Storkman, who took a homestead seven or eight months ago, said that he thought that his homestead was worth more than the councilman's job, and that he would be afraid to attend the council for in so doing he would weaken his case with the homestead, hence, his resignation is ready for the next meeting of the council and no meeting will be held until Councilman Rosenberg returns from The Dalles.

but just a little plain talk. I wish to reason the matter with you. Why have a traveling optician fit your eyes with glasses? He is just passing through and cannot give your eyes the necessary care, and attention they should have. He will not guarantee his work. Lafferty Makes Good Impression

A. W. Lafferty, republican candidate for congress from this district, spoke to a good audience at the Club Hall Saturday evening. Mr. Lafferty is a good talker, and covered the political situation thoroughly, considering the length of time he had to do so. He is a man with considerable ability as an attorney, and showed considerable knowledge of the Oregon situation at Washington. The heavy feature of the address covered the uses of the irrigation funds in the state from which they are derived, showing that at present there are no laws that will allow Oregon the use of all the funds arising from the sale of public lands, but that the money may be spent in any state, in fact nothing in the laws compelling any part of its expenditure in this state. The fault of this condition lies at the door of the present congressmen, Mr. Ellis, according to Mr. Lafferty, and the latter gentleman has perfect confidence in his own ability to right the situation. Regarding the forest reserves, the speaker said that they should be controlled by the state instead of the national government, and considerable about the forest officers being "boys just out of Harvard."

Matoes.

A Redmond dispatch says: Civil Engineer F. I. Phoenix, of this city, has returned from the new town of Matoes that he has finished surveying and platting. Matoes is located six miles south of Madras, and is on the east side of the Oregon Trunk and Deschutes Railroad rights-of-way. There are 200 acres in the townsite. Matoes will be the first division point on the Oregon Trunk line, and it is understood from good authority that the railroad people have secured sufficient land at that point for shops and other purposes. A 48-stall roundhouse and immense coal bunkers will be located at this point and a large side trackage laid. The business streets of the town are laid out 60 feet wide, and several small parks have been provided. From authoritative advance information from the county assessor's office it is learned that the town of Hillman has been assessed at $100,000 on the valuation of the town lots. Madras is assessed at $41,000, and Laidlaw at $28,000 on town lot valuation. The city of Redmond has not been assessed yet. At this point the railroad people are drilling a twelve inch well, and struck a good supply of water a week ago at a depth of 677 feet. Water arose to a depth of thirty feet in the well, but drilling is continued, it is presumed that the quest for an artesian flow of water. As to what depth the well will be dug, and what the object of the railway people are, no one is able to get information, but there is no hauling of proceedings about the place. The location of the depot will be about the center of the town, and near the well. Reservations for lots are being made, and the price for some of the best corner business lots are from $400 to $600. The town is owned by the Inland Empire company, with V. B. Williamson president.

Hillman Locals

About a month ago Mrs. Ralph McCauley was called East by the serious illness of her father. Soon after Mrs. McCauley's arrival there, her aunt died, her father dying about two weeks later. Last week Mr. McCauley received word that Mrs. McCauley was very sick. Mr. McCauley left the next day for Madras, Minn., where Mrs. McCauley is visiting with relatives. This family has the sympathy of this community in this hour of trouble. We expect to be able to say next week that Hillman has another mercantile establishment. Miss Viola Kent left for Portland to attend high school this winter. O. Swanson took a load of potatoes, of which he has many, to Bend last week, where he disposed of them at three cents per pound. Mr. Archer has just finished cutting his second crop of clover from eighteen acres. He has cut about 45 tons. Work is progressing very rapidly on the Oregon Trunk. Last week the depot site was staked out. The site is just north of B. Avenue, between B. and C. Avenues. This is a good location and judging from the distance between stakes the depot will be of ample dimensions to take care of the trade here for some time to come. E. Wagner, the well driller, has returned from his trip to Bremerton, Washington, and work will be resumed on the well. There will be no cessation of this work until the well is completed. Mrs. Keyon, just west of Hillman, is clearing forty acres of her land this fall. This is one of the best 80 acres on the D. L. & P. segregation, and will make a fine home when cleared and improved. Work has again started on the Trail Crossing hill which will be cut down and the grade much improved on the south side of the river. There are many new roads planned around Hillman which, when completed, will give us as fine a system of roads as are tributary to any town in the county. The Hillman Mercantile Co.'s business is increasing very rapidly and the postoffice receipts have doubled in the last three weeks. W. R. Davidson is moving his family into a tent this week, where they expect to stay for at least two months. They have been forced out of their house on account of the heavy blasting in the cut nearby, the falling rock making it very dangerous to stay in the house.

LOCAL MENTION

Chester E. Rouse of Madras presented complete petitions for his being placed on the nominating ballot for the office of commissioner an hour before the clerk's office closed tonight. He is republican in faith, and will oppose R. H. Bayley of Laidlaw. The rush of people into Central Oregon is on again after a brief lull, and automobiles are crowded to the limit. There are from three to seven cars arriving daily from Shaniko with an average of no less than twenty-five people a day. The C. S. & S. company are using two cars each way on the Prineville-Shaniko run and they are crowded. H. N. Lawrie, who is interested in the new town of Culver Junction, was in Prineville today. Mr. Lawrie says that the well which is being drilled on the townsite is down 125 feet now and the work is continuing. The sale of lots has been very satisfactory, and development of all kinds is going ahead rapidly.

Borsini Kills Himself

Continued from first page. gun, all lead to the self-destruction theory. The horse he had ridden the day before was peacefully grazing in the pasture with the saddle in its usual place. He had removed his coat and laid it on the table, and the mail he had received lay beside it. The body was sitting up, with the head against the door casing. Frank W. Smith who has known Borsini for a long time, went out and brought the body to Prineville last night. Burial will take place this afternoon. Dr. Belknap and the county court examined the remains. Frank Borsini has been in this part of Oregon for more than twenty years. He was fifty-five years of age at the time of his death. He was of Swiss birth and had been an interpreter in court here several times. He has no relatives here, and the whereabouts of his only brother in California are not known. In his pockets were found $21.35. In a leather pocket book was found a check for $382.50, on French & Co. There are 21 head of cattle in his pasture. His ranch consists of 400 acres. It is said further that he had a deposit of considerable amount at the first National Bank of this

Pastoral Changes.

Rev. J. D. Lewellen, who has been pastor of the Methodist church of this city for the past two years, has been promoted to the pastorate at The Dalles by the Columbia conference which has just closed its session at Spokane. He will leave next Monday for his new charge. His farewell sermon will be preached next Sunday night. As The Dalles is considered the best charge in the district, the appointment comes as a recognition of the worth of Rev. Lewellen. Prineville is to be served by Rev. J. M. Huggins who comes from Toppish, Washington. He is a man of good ability. Other ministers who are known in Prineville are changed or reappointed as follows: J. R. Moorehead to Arlington, W. P. Bennett to Ellensburg, M. W. Weaver to Madras, C. I. Lowther to Moro, W. S. Wilson to Redmond and H. C. Clark to White Salmon. Rev. Huggins and family will arrive the first of the week, and will hold his first services at the local church Sunday September 1. Presbyterian Church. Sunday school, 10 a. m. Preaching, 11 a. m. Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m. Popular Service at 8 p. m. Topic for morning, "Lessons from the 23rd Psalm." Evening, "Heaven: What sort of a place it is and how to get there."
