

Bees in Warfare.
Certain Nigerian tribes still regard bees very useful in warfare. The villagers on retiring before an enemy excite the bees and set them free, and painful is the experience of the man who is attacked by them in the labyrinth of cactus which surround the villages.

Willing to Waive That.
"Miss Angelina," began the poor but proud young man, "if I were in a position to ask you to be my wife—"

"Good gracious, Mr. Throgson!" she exclaimed. "Is a position? The idea! Do you think I would want you to get down on your knees?"

Clinching It.
Mr. Slimpouse (after a decided refusal)—I know what the matter is. It's because I am poor. You would marry me if I were rich.

Miss Galle (thoughtfully)—Perhaps so, but you would have to be very, very rich.—New Orleans Picayune.

Paying an Old Debt.
Baillif (to rural justice)—Your honor, there's a man in court has got a bill for $10 against you.

Justice—Good! I'll fine him $15 for contempt of court. See that he receipts the bill and fetch me the odd $5.—Atlanta Constitution.

For Modern Health.
"In aqua sanitas," quoted the modern observer. "Now, there's an axiom that needs to be revised."

"What's the idea?" inquired the plain citizen.

"Well, to be correct, it should read, 'In boiled aqua sanitas.'"

Her Age.
When a girl asks you to guess her age, if you think she is twenty-one take off two, if you think she is twenty-three take off three, if you think she is twenty-five take off four, and so on. This will tend to make you popular.—Exchange.

He Knew Right Off.
"Ah," sighed the wretched Mr. Newpop, "what can be more wearing on the nerves than a baby that cries all night long?"

"Twins," answered the man who had been through it.—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Settler.
Young Wife—What do you do when your husband gets cross and wants to scold?

Wife (with experience)—I read him one or two of the letters he used to write to me before we were married.—Baltimore American.

Doing Pretty Well.
"You don't amount to much."
"Tut, tut, father!"
"I could paddle my own canoe at your age."
"Well, dad, I do pretty well for a rich man's son. I can operate my own motorboat."—Kansas City Journal.

Taking and Giving.
"You can't," said the philosopher, "take from a thing without making it less."
"Oh, I don't know!" the fool replied.
"Have you ever tried taking a light from one candle with another?"—Exchange.

Avarice.
Hovess—Yes; I suppose I am pretty well off, but not so well off as I should like to be.

Barnes—Did you ever hear of the pig who regretted that he had only four feet to put into the trough at feeding time?—Boston Transcript.

His Wish.
Mrs. Wildman—I tell you, Mr. Wildman, if you continue in your present life of extravagance you'll surely pay for it some day.

Mr. Wildman—I wish, my dear, that my creditors had the same faith in my good intentions.

To Fly With the Deer.
He—Life is simply one grand chase. If you are not among the pursued you must be one of the pursued.

She—Will you run with the hounds or fly with the deer?

He—I will fly with you, dear, if you please.

Considerate.
"Have you ever done anything to make the world happier?" asked the solemn looking person with the unbarbered hair.

"Sure," answered the jolly man with the double chin. "I was once invited to sing in public and declined."

Ireland's Blue.
Strange to say, the national color of Ireland is and always has been blue (that is, heraldic blue, ultramarine—not, as some people have thought, sky blue). Green never was the national color of Ireland. The national color is taken from the ground of the arms. In the case of Ireland it is azure, a hard or stringed argent—thus blue is the color for Ireland.—Argonaut.

Napoleon and His Mother.
Soon after Napoleon's assumption of the imperial purple he chanced to meet his mother in the gardens of St. Cloud. He was surrounded by courtiers and half playfully held out his hand for her to kiss. "Not so, my son," she gravely replied, at the same time presenting her hand in return; "it is your duty to kiss the hand of her who gave you life."

Civil Service Exam's.
Will be Held in Prineville, Oregon, October 24 and 25.

Civil Service examinations for the position of Forest Ranger will be held in Prineville, Oregon, on October 24 and 25, 1910. Persons desiring to take this examination will apply to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., for necessary application blanks which will permit them to take the examination.

The examination will consist of practical questions regarding the general use of the forests. It will be supplemented by a field test to show the applicant's fitness to perform the duties of a ranger. Any honest, energetic young man with sound body need not hesitate to take this examination. Competitors must be between the ages of twenty-one and forty years old. For further information apply to the United States Civil Service Commission, or A. S. Ireland, Prineville, Oregon.

DRY GOLD WASHING.
Portable Machine Adapted to Mining in Waterless Deserts.

It is a well known fact that there is gold to be found everywhere. The sands of the deserts are particularly rich in it, but the problem which confronts the prospector here is the difficulty of extraction, which has been heretofore impossible in the absence of water, the means of its extraction.

There has been recently devised a machine, readily portable and simple in construction, by which the gold may be entirely removed from the sand and stony particles by a dry process. It is claimed that the machine is just as efficient in its operation as the wet process and with much less labor.

The machine is operated by hand, one crank driving both the mechanism by which the soil is kept moving through the apparatus and also the blower by which the "color" is separated from the dross. The sand and gravel are fed in at the hopper on top and allowed to run down the sluice quite in the same manner as in hydraulic sluicing. Here, however, the sluice itself, operated by a simple eccentric, gives a side shake motion to further separate the particles and to increase the travel of the dirt through it.

The bottom of this sluiceway contains a series of riffles. These in themselves are unique and prove to be the vital part of the invention. Instead of projecting above the surface of the sluiceway, as in most sluice boxes, they consist of a series of depressions so arranged that in conjunction with the air blast, the precious particles are held and the other parts are allowed to pass down the incline. The pan used in this machine will hold about one-twentieth of a cubic yard, or about seven times as much as a hand pan, and this quantity can be run through the machine in five minutes.

It is said that this machine has withstood the test of actual service in the west and has demonstrated its advantages. A great point in its favor is the fact that it may be taken apart and packed in two trunks of ordinary dimensions and readily shipped from point to point. After being set up it may be readily moved about without dismantling, so that the miner is enabled to shift his scene of operations until he finds the most satisfactory point for work.—Chicago Tribune.

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA

Scientists are now agreed that the eczema germs are lodged not in the outer skin or epidermis, but in the inner skin. Hence, a penetrating liquid is required, not an outward salve that clogs the pores.

We recommend to all eczema patients the standard prescription Oil of Wintergreen as compounded in liquid form known as D. D. D. Prescription. A trial bottle of this D. D. D. Prescription, at only 25 cents, will instantly relieve the itch. We have sold and recommended this remedy for years, and know of wonderful cures from its use. We recommend it to our patrons.
