Mrs. Carey Foster got home the last of the week from a visit to Walla Walla, Spokane and other places.

George Myers is expected back this week from New York City, where he has been attending a school of embalming and disinfection.

A child's gold ring was picked up on the streets the other day. Owner can have same by proving property and paying for this notice.

D. P. Adamson returned from Portland Monday. He says that Miss Ada Allen, who is very sick with pneumonia, was some better the day he left.

The C. C. H. S. debating team left by auto this morning at 5 o'clock for Baker City. The debate will take place at Baker City tomorrow evening, March 31.

Workmen are busy preparing to move the Beknap Hall building to a lot near the I. O. O. F. Hall on Second street. The building was sold to D. F. Stewart.

Ed Hodson came in Sunday evening with a new 40 h. p. Velle touring car. Its a fine looking, powerful machine that retails for $2100. Mr. Hodson is the agent for the company.

Rev. Joel Lininger of Pendleton has been called to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church of Prineville. He came in the first of the week. His family will join him in June.

C. J. Cummings left Wednesday for Walla Walla, where he will visit for a couple of weeks, then he will go east to his old home in Jackson, Michigan, for a stay of a couple of months.

The sermon to the firmen at the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning was well attended. There was special music. Rev. Hodges will leave this week for Alberta, Canada, where he will join his family.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McCallister came in from Portland Wednesday. Miss Jesse came in with her parents for a short visit.

C. F. Bartlett, district deputy organizer for the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, is in Prineville this week organizing a lodge. He moved his family over from Redmond today.

G. W. Wells, wife and mother arrived in Prineville Sunday from Burbank, Wash. Mr. Wells, while looking over this country a short time ago, decided that it was a good place to live in. He has an irrigated forty near town.

H. D. Dunham and wife were down from Post Tuesday for supplies. Mr. Dunham says that grass in his section started off in fine shape this spring but lately the cold nights have given it a setback. He thinks the range will be all right in a short time.

P. G. Furbush of the University Publishing Co. of Seattle, arrived in Prineville the last of the week. Mr. Furbush is "on the rocks," so to speak. He is here in search of health. He will visit his sons who have homesteads in Crook county.

Engineers are platting a townsite near Young's postoffice. It will be fifteen miles from Madras at the mouth of Porter Spring canyon. It is expected to be the shipping and distributing point for the lower Haystack country and the Trout creek section.

LOCAL MENTION

T. M. Baldwin left Tuesday on a business trip to Portland.

A. S. Collins returned the first of the week from a trip to the Willamette valley and Washington. He did not see a place that suited him as well as his home in Crook county.

Volume 1, No. 1, of The Deschutes Valley Tribune has been received at this office. It is published at Culver by Chandler & Young. It is a neat 5-column quarto filled with news of its section.

The Eastern Star celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of the establishment of the order in Prineville, Monday, March 27. There was a literary program which was followed by refreshments.

Mr. Kenyon, who has had charge of the music at the Methodist church for several weeks, left Monday for his home in Portland. Mr. Kenyon deserves much credit for the excellent work he did while in Prineville.

J. C. Robinson of Madras informs us that he was the first to receive a carload of autos over the Oregon Trunk. He shipped in four new Reos. One for Dr. Snook of Madras, one for Sayre & Hendricks of Madras and one for J. R. Couch of Laidlaw. The remaining car he has on display at his garage.

The revival services at the Methodist church will close next Sunday evening. Splendid special music will be rendered with a sermon by the pastor on "An Inherent Conscience." The theme at the morning service will be, "The Divine Illumination." There will be a baptismal service at the morning hour. Everyone is welcome. Jno. M. Haggins, pastor.

John Divin returned from Los Angeles Friday, where he spent the winter. Mr. Divin thinks Southern California a delightful country to live in, but if you are young and want to get a start in the world, Crook county beats it all to pieces.

Mr. Divin left for Paulina Saturday to look after his interests in that section. Lucien Tourret and Leon Vial accompanied Mr. Divin on his journey home.

S. C. Bartrum of Roseburg, supervisor of the Umpqua National Forest, announces himself as a candidate for the office of State Forester. This is a new position created by the last legislature under the forest fire law. Mr. Bartrum is well qualified for the office to which he aspires. He has been a supervisor for the government since 1899 and is well and favorably known to our sheep and cattle men who have run stock in the Umpqua reserve. He is elected by a board composed of representing of the sheep and cattle men's associations and state officials.

The city council has ordered the city engineer to erect monuments throughout town. This is done in order that people may know their corners.

Mr. Lottman of Metolius and Mr. Pierson, editor of the Metolius Oregonian, with a party of friends were callers at the Journal office last Saturday.

The Prineville Baseball Club was organized last Saturday evening. L. M. Bechtel was elected captain and Tom Quinn, manager. The prospects look good for a strong team this season.

W. J. Schmidt of Summit Prairie says that this has been an unusual spring in his part of the county. Heretofore there has always been plenty of grass by this time of the year but such is not the case this year.

They "came back," i. e., the married men beat the single fellows last Sunday by a score of 4 to 3. This is the first time in five years that they have been able to do it. There was great enthusiasm from start to finish.

A chorus choir of the Methodist church, composed of about twenty-five voices and assisted by Lucky's orchestra, is working on an Easter cantata to be given Easter night. Subject, "The Easter Evangel," by Lorenz.

H. J. O'Neil, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Oregon Washington Railroad, is in Prineville this week looking up business for his company. This is not Mr. O'Neil's first visit by any means, and says the oftener he comes the better he likes it. He likes the way people meet strangers. They are given the glad-hand and made to feel at home. Another thing he likes in Prineville and that is the absence of knocking. Railroad men, in going around the country, hear lots of that sort of thing, he says, but while here he didn't hear a word. That's why he likes the place and is coming back.

The Oregon Trunk has reached Culver Junction. The Deschutes Valley Tribune of March 23, says: "Many residents of this locality were in town on last Saturday to witness the advent of the Oregon Trunk railroad to Culver Junction. Much delay has been experienced because of the necessity to supply water cars for the construction train, but now the track-laying crew is engaged every day in extending the line farther south. It will only be a few days until the line will reach Crooked River, where the large bridge is to be built. Everything is in readiness to begin operations on this bridge as soon as the track is laid, and material may be taken over the new line to the brink of the canyon."

The city council has ordered the city engineer to set permanent corners throughout Prineville. Lots can be located cheaper now than at any other time. R. L. Barwasser, city engineer, 3-30 1t

High School Notes.

The warm weather of the past few weeks has reminded us that spring is upon us. The boys have not been slow to recognize it and have swarmed the diamond nearly every evening.

Track and field events are also receiving their just attention. Although this is new to the students here a wealth of material has reported for work and is showing up well. The state university has recognized us by inviting us to send a team to the state meet in May, and our boys will give a good account of themselves. Our students are capable of good work in any department of athletics.

We are glad that it is not in this line only that we excel. Class work is still most excellent, as the number of honor students below will show.

Our debating team—Van Brink, Clarence Rice and Ethel Klann—under the direction of Miss Parrott, left Wednesday morning for Baker City, where they will meet representatives of that high school Friday evening.

Monday night occurs the preliminary Oratorical contest. Great interest is being manifested and those who have heard previous contests expect a good team will be selected for the final on Friday evening, April 7.

We are sorry to lose some of our students. Abbie Wilson is holding down a claim and Aaron Hoffman felt it necessary to work at home. Ilda Cohrs, May Vaughn and Clark Morse have also left. We all sympathize with Grace Reams who has been forced to stop her school work temporarily because of the serious illness of her father.

The new lawn is growing nicely and the board has ordered a new fence around the entire campus. It will be a great improvement. Plans are on foot to put trees around the grounds, which will give the high school a more homelike appearance.

The present corps of teachers have been re-elected. These with the new man for manual training will give us an unusually strong teaching force.

Some of the students are planning to attend summer school.

The "A" students are: Freshmen—Leland Beknap, Lucile Cook, Hazel Cowan, Robert Lister, Arthur Michel, Evelyn Millorn, Laura Mingers, Elmer Thomas, Alta Wright.

Sophomore—Theresa Bundy, Mabel Doak, Leola Estes, Vivian Hinkle, Robert Kester, Berach Livingston, Roy McCallister, Roland McCallister, Robt. Osborn, Maude Potter.

Senior—Blanche Wilson, Ethel Klann, Lotta Smith, Fay Baldwin.

Irregular—Wilford Beknap, Edna Estes. STUDENT.
