CONTRACT LET FOR SCHOOLHOUSE

Work to Begin Right Away.

EXPECT TO HAVE IT FINISHED

August 15—Will Have Plenum Fan Furnace System of Heating.

The contract is let for building the new schoolhouse. It will be a handsome two-story brick structure with cement basement. It will contain nine class rooms and will accommodate 450 pupils. Additional class rooms can be fixed up in the basement and the building made to accommodate 600 pupils. The structure will cost $23,463. The heating plant will cost $3720 extra.

At a special meeting of the Prineville School Board Monday the bids for the construction of the new schoolhouse were opened and discussed.

The following bids were received: Welch & Wright of McMinnville, $28,999; Denison & McClaren, Salem, $29,236; Wm. Panckake of Prineville, $32,456.25; Ralph R. Wheaton of Portland, $26,263. These bids included a steam heating plant and were made in accordance with the plans and specifications furnished by Architect Burggraf of Albany. Some of the bids specified the amount that could be deducted from the contract price in case the Board decided not to install steam heat.

Mr. Wheaton, whose bid was the lowest, was given the contract. He allowed $2800 for the heating plant. This left his figures $23,463 for the building without heating.

The question of properly heating and ventilating the new structure was a difficult problem to decide for the reason that the Board wanted to provide the best system obtainable for the least amount of money. There was no question about the best system, but the initial cost was higher than that of other plants. It was finally decided that the best was none too good for Prineville so the Plenum Fan Furnace system was chosen. This heating method is used almost exclusively by up-to-date schools. By using this system the air in each room is completely changed from six to seven times each hour. It has been found by actual tests in the Portland schools that several dollars per room is saved in fuel each month where this system is employed.

A representative of the McPherson company of Portland met with the board and explained this method of heating and ventilating. This company was given the contract for heating and ventilating at a cost of $3720.

The contractor, Mr. Wheaton, expects to return to Prineville the last of the week and will begin excavating for the new school at once. He stated that he expected to have the building finished by August 15th.

Sophomores Celebrate

The sophomores were fortunate in having State Supt. Alderman with them for the day. In his address to the student body he urged them to get a higher education and showed by statistics that from the financial side alone they could not afford to deprive themselves of such an advantage. He urged the students to think seriously of what they were going to do in life and explained how any student might enjoy the privileges offered by our best institutions of learning. He closed with the thought that "the world is yours" in which to develop every power.

which would prevent any person from having access to the windows leading to the county jail and would suggest that iron fencing or gratings should be placed at a distance of several feet from the jail windows which would make it impossible for any person to approach the windows. While this body has been in session articles have been passed through the outside windows, including steel saws and whiskey, and some steps should be taken at once to prevent any such recurrence.

We have examined into the county poor and find that satisfactory arrangements are made for them.

The matter of removing the old butcher shop, temporarily located on East Fifth street was referred to the fire and water committee with power to act.

Permission was granted the Crook County Bank to build a two story stone structure at the corner of Third and A streets.

I. W. Ward's report for grading Third street was approved, and the several bills as itemized were ordered paid.

The liquor license of Quackenbush & Wiley was ordered transferred to G. W. Wiley as per request. Said Quackenbush having sold out to his partner.

The matter of graveing the streets came up for extended discussion. Whether to gravel 20 feet or the full width was the mooted question. The councilmen were agreed that the full width should be graveed, but whether property owners would approve was another matter. Third street as far as I was ordered graveed full width. Every street in the city should be graveed full width if we wish to abate in some degree the dust nuisance.

Two petitions were presented to the council for foot bridges at C and E streets. The council seemed willing to grant one bridge, but not both. Just which one was a bone of contention. The one that will serve the greater number of people will come in for favorable consideration. The matter was referred to the streets and public improvements committee to look into the matter of cost and best location.

Two ordinances were read for the first time covering the matter of tying horses and placing habitual drunkards on the black list. These ordinances will come up again next Tuesday evening. Council adjourned till that date.

Mrs. Sadie Moore, grand child of honor of Oregon, will visit the Prineville lodge next Saturday. Mrs. Moore is an old-timer in Crook county and her many friends will be pleased to see her again.

The following is the grand jury report: In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Crook county. To Hon. W. L. Bradshaw, Judge: We the grand jury impaneled for the May, 1911, term of the above entitled court beg leave to report as follows:

We have been in session three days and have listened to and thoroughly investigated every complaint which has been brought to our attention and given our most earnest consideration to the same and during our session have returned seven true bills and four not true bills.

We have examined the books and offices of the clerk, sheriff and treasurer and as far as we are able to determine the same are properly kept, but we do not pass upon the correctness for the same because such an examination is impossible with the time and means at our disposal.

With reference to the county building we report that it is absolutely imperative that the county court should immediately take the necessary steps to provide gratings loomed up large for both teams. Prineville has some new material and it will have to be worked up before much of a showing can be made. Zeek was on the mound for the home team for six innings, then Tetherow was put in. The visitors made their eighth run off his delivery. While Zeek was batted freely he was not altogether to blame for the big score. Wild throws to first were responsible for the big lead Madras started off with. Tetherow blanked Madras for the three innings he was on the slab. Dr. Spaulding umpired the game.
