The Name of Old Glory

From "Home Folks," by James Whitcomb Riley.
Copyright, 1897.
Used by special permission of the publishers, the Bobbs-Merrill company.

OLD GLORY, say, who,
By the ships and the crew
And the long, blended ranks of the gray and the blue—
Who gave you, Old Glory, the name that you bear
With such pride everywhere
As you cast yourself free to the rapturous air
And leap out full length, as we're wanting you to?
Who gave you that name, with the ring of the same
And the honor and fame so becoming to you,
Your stripes stroked in ripples of white and of red,
With your stars at their glittering best overhead,
By day or by night
Their delightfulest light
Laughing down from their little square heaven of blue?
Who gave you the name of Old Glory? Say, who—
Who gave you the name of Old Glory?
The old banner lifted and, faltering, then
In vague lips and whispers fell silent again.
Old Glory, the story we're wanting to hear
Is what the plain facts of your christening were,
For your name, just to hear it,
Repeat it and cheer it, 's a tang to the spirit
As salt as a tear,
And, seeing you fly and the boys marching by,
There's a shout in the throat, and a blur in the eye,
And an aching to live for you always—or die!
If dying we still keep you waving on high,
And so, by our love
For you, floating above,
And the scars of all wars and the sorrows thereof,
Who gave you the name of Old Glory, and why
Are we thrilled at the name of Old Glory?
Then the old banner leaped, like a sail in the blast,
And fluttered an audible answer at last.
And it spoke, with a shake of the colors and it said:
By the driven snow white and the living blood red
Of my bars and their heaven of stars overhead—
By the symbol conjoined of them all, skyward cast,
As I float from the steeple, or flap at the mast,
Or droop o'er the sod where the long grasses nod—
My name is as old as the glory of God.
* * * So I came by the name of Old Glory.

prove an attractive feature. A large pavilion has been built west of the Commercial Club Hall where the patriotic exercises will be held on the 4th, after which the seats will be cleared away and the floor used for dancing.

The automobile parade will be a novelty. $110 is offered in prizes. $50.00 for the best decorated car, $35.00 for the next best and $25.00 for the undecorated car presenting the best appearance. Decorations can be of bunting, or flowers or the car can be made to represent a float or some such object as may be desired by the owner, but in case owners of cars cannot devote the time to making up any special preparation, they are especially invited by the committee to enter the parade with their car in order to make the parade as much of a success as possible. All persons are requested to send postal cards to the Automobile Parade Committee at once announcing their willingness to do so and a place will be assigned them immediately. Let every owner of an auto help to make this the finest feature of the celebration.

Immediately after the parade the patriotic exercises will be held on the open air pavilion at the Club Hall.

Great preparations are being made at the club grounds for the closing event and at 8 p. m. on Wednesday, July 5th, the gates will swing open disclosing the greatest aggregation of attractions shown since the last big circus.

More than twenty booths are being constructed, each to contain from one to a dozen attractions.

The special features will be the Iggarotte village, Ufty-Guffy, the wild man, Alexander, the most remarkable dwarf in the world. The battle between the Merrimac and Monitor, Little Egypt, the most sensational dancer in the world. These and many others will furnish amusement enough for any one for one evening. There will be features introduced startling in their originality and daring in their performance. Professor Blondo will make his famous slide for life from a high pinnacle, and the Mississippi minstrels will fill the air with sounds sweet and strange. Look for the bearded woman. Listen for the sounds from the streets of Cairo.

The street sports will be pulled off on Main street. Attractive purses are offered for the different events and some exciting stunts may be looked for.

The grand chorus under the direction of Rev. Mr. Lintinger will be well worth a trip to hear.

The committee suggests that everybody clean up and decorate early. The town should be given a gala appearance for the convention that is to be held in Prineville June 30 and July 1. Get busy.

Madras Wool Sales

A special dispatch from Madras to the Oregonian dated June 24 says that the first sealed bid wool sale was held at Madras today and a large quantity of the new clip was disposed of. A good many growers have marketed their wool at private sale, while others will wait for the second public sale, which is scheduled to come off July 14.

Prineville-Culver Mail Service

Contract has been Let and Service will Commence Next Saturday.

A letter from W. E. Coman to T. M. Baldwin, this city, announces that the mail contract Culver to Prineville has been let, effective July 1, and the route from Shaniko, which has prevailed for many years, will be discontinued on that date. The name of the successful bidder is not given. From Mr. Coman's letter it is inferred that the Oregon Trunk Line has the mail contract from the Columbia river to Culver. Service to intermediate points will be announced.

George Barnes Killed.

Word reached Prineville Tuesday night that George W. Barnes, the lawyer, was killed at Canyon City the first of the week. No details were given and as the wires were down to that place none could be learned. His son, Wid Barnes, left Wednesday for Grant county.

Must Not Sell Boose to Red Man

W. O. Rust, a saloonkeeper of Madras, was found guilty by a jury in federal court last week of having sold intoxicants to George Orr, an unallotted Indian from the Warm Springs reservation. In this case, as in others, C. C. Covey, Indian Agent, gave Orr money and sent him to procure evidence. Dave Steele, a white man, went along as witness.

On December 11, 1910, Orr, acting under instructions from Covey, who was annoyed at the drunkenness among the Indians, went to Madras and was introduced by another Indian as his cousin and vouched for to the saloonkeepers. Rust, according to the evidence, furnished him the liquor when assured that he was "all right."

Five cases, in which Mr. Covey secured evidence by similar means, are yet to come up. The defendants are S. Masterson, Harry Key, Patrick McCormick, Elmer Hammer and Carl Lawson. All are Madras saloonkeepers.

Mr. Covey has inaugurated wholesale prosecutions of saloonkeepers in the Madras territory. Many of his cases have been tried in the state courts under the state law, which prohibits the sale of intoxicants to Indians whether allotted or unallotted. Recourse has been made necessary to state courts by a ruling of the U. S. Supreme Court, which held that the federal government has no right to supervise the personal conduct of an allotted Indian on the ground that he is a citizen of the United States and has the same privileges as other legal voters. Mr. Covey has been very successful in his campaign, having secured convictions in a majority of cases.—Oregonian.

150 DELEGATES WILL BE HERE

To Organize Big Development League.

MANY NOTABLE MEN COMING

Prineville Should Clean Up and Decorate for the Occasion
—Do It Now.

Prineville is getting ready to entertain the greatest development meeting ever held in the history of Central Oregon. It will be a gathering at which will be organized the Central Oregon Development League. The purpose is to promote the affiliation of all the commercial bodies interested in the building up of this part of the state.

The slogan of the meeting will be, "Quit Your Knocking." Its meaning is that every community shall stop knocking every other community, and that every individual in each community will be pledged to stop his kicking the things that may not suit him in his own town and get down to work for the good of all. The underlying idea is that if a man comes to Central Oregon and he is interested sufficiently so that he will stay in Central Oregon. No matter where he may locate, it will be for the upbuilding of the entire section. It is people we must get in Central Oregon if we want to develop its farming and other resources. And it will be a mighty hard man to please who cannot find something to suit him somewhere in this part of the state.

So far as heard from there will be 150 delegates here. They will come from as far south as Klamath Falls and Lakeview and from Antelope, Fossil, Mitchell and all the towns along the railroad. Reports received indicate that two autos from Klamath Falls, two from Lakeview, one from Crescent, two from LaPine, two from Paisley, one from Laidlaw, one from Sisters, three from Redmond, and one or two from Madras, Metolius, Hillman, Culver and other points will be here.

A delegation from the Madford Commercial Club who are making a tour of Central Oregon have promised to attend. They will be headed by Judge W. M. Colvig, who first visited Prineville in 1861.

The delegates from Bend and south of Bend will come in a body on Friday morning, plans having been made for them to meet at Bend on Thursday night, where they will be entertained by the local club. Headed by the Bend band the entire delegation will reach Prineville at 10:30 on Friday morning.

Of the notable visitors from Portland there will be Mr. Carl Gray, president of the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railway and the Oregon Trunk railroad; General Manager W. E. Coman of the same system, and others whose names have not been learned. William McMurray, general passenger agent of the O-W. R. & N. and the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon, Mr. W. G. Scott, assistant general passenger agent of the same systems, and Mr. Harvey Lounsbury, representing the freight traffic department of these roads will also be here. M. J. Costello, general freight agent, and F. W. Graham, industrial commissioner of the Great Northern railroad,

PRINEVILLE READY FOR THE CROWDS

People Coming from all Parts of County.

THREE DAYS OF AMUSEMENT

Big Auto Parade, Three Days of Baseball, Street Sports, Streets of Cairo, Etc.

Everything is shaping up beautifully for Prineville's mammoth 3-day Fourth of July celebration. Reports from all parts of the county indicate a record-breaking crowd and Prineville is straining every nerve to have all preparations in readiness.

Workmen have been busy all the week on the interior of the Commercial Hall. It is being sealed with red fir and if time permits will be painted at once.

The big electric mast for the streets of Cairo was placed in position Tuesday on the tennis grounds of the club. The lumber for the booths and places of entertainment was being placed by workmen at the same time. Everything in this department of the celebration will be in readiness.

No expense is being spared to give the people the time of their life. The Fourth of July committee has $2000 to spend and every man, woman and child in the county is invited to come to Prineville and enjoy the occasion.

One thousand in coin of the realm will be distributed among the baseball teams. All lovers of this manly game will have an opportunity never before afforded in the interior of witnessing some fine sport. Gus Schroeder with his Silver Lake Giants, the dusky boys from the Warm Springs, the Bend, Redmond and Metolius teams, together with Prineville's invincible nine, will keep the turf on the new Davidson ball park smoking for at least three days. The ball grounds, too, are in fine shape. The grandstand is covered and the lumber is being delivered for the high board fence. These athletic grounds, the gift of the Oregon & Western Colonization Company to the Prineville Commercial Club, are the equal of the famous grounds of the Multnomah Club of Portland.

Another pleasant feature of the celebration will be the ball games between the Bend and Prineville public school boys for a purse of $50.00. Don't think they can't play ball. That's where you will deceive yourself. For youngsters they can line up with the best of them and deliver the goods. In the games so far this season it has been an even break with the boys. The Fourth of July purse will settle the question of supremacy for this season.

Prineville has a good band of fifteen pieces and when headed by an awe-inspiring drum major will provide entertainment for all lovers of music. The details of the official program are not complete but there will be something doing all the time. There will be baseball in the forenoon and afternoon. Band concerts every day, besides the Streets of Cairo on the club grounds. Open air dancing will
