A Frook That Imitates Two Piece Suit.

FROOK OF RESEDA GREEN BROADCLOTH.

This dainty costume of reseda green broadcloth, which is braided in the same color, appears to be a smart suit worn over a lace blouse, but the "blouse" is merely a yoke and jabot of cream lace set into the bodice, and a circular hip tunic gives the coat effect.

The Shirt Waist Question.

Many girls and women make their own shirt waists, a task comparatively easy after one has a pattern that is perfectly adapted to her individual idiosyncrasies. One young woman used to have a waist made by the most famous shirt waist maker in the city. She took it home, ripped it apart, cut an exact pattern of it and made her summer waists by the pattern. Her waists always fitted her well, but there were some attendant trouble and expense.

A contributor in Harper's Bazar tells her plan. She bought a plain pattern and some cheap madras, cut and carefully fitted a waist, ripped it apart—it was only basted, of course—and recut her pattern by it. Then she had a pattern to which she could apply tucks, embroidery or lace at her pleasure, doing this before cutting the goods.

The New Neckwear.

This collar and cuff set represents the latest vogue in lingerie effects for neck and sleeves. They are of fillet net darned with wool. The wool stitches may be either in self color or in shades harmonizing with the waist with which the net is worn. Bands of lingerie are applied about the edge of the collar and cuffs.

Fragrant Sachet Perfumes.

This calls for two ounces of fresh lavender flowers, one-half ounce of Florentine Iris, one ounce of bruised rosemary leaves, ten grains of musk and ten drops of attar of roses. Mix together, make sachets and place in drawers among your clothes.

Good form

Etiquette.

Chaperons and matrons are given the first choice of seats at a theater party.

The eldest girl in a family is entitled to drop her Christian name and have her card read Miss Merrill.

Cards should bear the full Christian name or names with the surname. Mrs. John Jordan Merrill is better than Mrs. John J. Merrill.

A well bred woman does not wait for the ushers to request that she remove her hat at the theater, but takes it off before the rise of the curtain.

At a well arranged table the host and hostess sit opposite each other and plan not to have two gentlemen or two ladies seated side by side.

A gift sent to a couple celebrating a wedding anniversary should arrive several days before the date of the event and should be accompanied by the sender's card bearing a message of congratulation.

Distance does not eliminate the courtesy of sending a wedding gift. Though the recipient of the invitation live a long way from the scene of the ceremony, the gift should be forwarded to arrive some time before the date set for the ceremony.

Attention, Husbands.

Here are a few rules, clipped from a paper years ago, for the use of the husband who would learn how to keep his wife:

Deserve her perfect confidence. Never do anything which will make you appear mean in her eyes.

Let her tell you her grievances, and tell her your worries; you may be able to help each other, and you can surely comfort each other.

Try to be as thoughtful of your wife's comfort as you were when you first tried to win her heart; she needs your thoughtfulness more now.

Don't forget all the little courtesies you used to show her and which made you appear so well in her eyes; if there were ought to endear her to you before marriage she should be a thousand times dearer to you now.

Help her with the children sometimes at night, when they are fretful and you have no hired help. Supposing you do put in the plea that you are tired and that you have been working all day, hasn't she been working all day, too, and isn't she tired?

Hints to the Hostess.

A finger bowl is the final service of a fruit course and usually terminates a dinner. The bowl should be half filled with water and set upon a plate holding a small dolly.

When the plate upon which the bowl is carried to the table is intended to receive the fruit, the bowl and dolly are placed at one side of the dish. Tips of fingers of each hand are dipped in turn into the water and rubbed together gently until all traces of the fruits are removed. They are dried on the napkin, which should remain on the knees and not be used as a towel after a hand bath.

If the water in the bowl is scented the odor should be very faint indeed. A better plan is to place a single fragrant blossom or leaf to float on the surface of the miniature lake. The host or hostess may set the example by taking the blossom from the bowl, drying it on the napkin, and pinning it on as a favor. Pansies are particularly pretty for this purpose, and nasturtiums make gay little crafts for sailing in the finger bowl.

Postage Stamp Lore.

If one writes a letter on business of an individual nature a stamp should be enclosed for the correspondent's reply. This rule is invariable. In writing to a business house where one's relations are constant one may not need to take this special care. For example, in sending an order for goods to a shop one need not include a postage stamp. In writing a letter requesting information the case is different, and a stamp should be sent with the letter. In other words, one should never cause expense, even in the small amount of 2 cents, to some one who is outside one's affairs. The bill for postage stamps where one's correspondence is large soon mounts to the region of dollars and gets itself quite beyond the province of trifles.

The Question of Car Fare.

There is one thing that every woman should do when out with other women, and that is pay her own car fare.

It is a pleasure often to one woman to pay the car fare of the "bunch," but is often an embarrassment as well, and many times one has to spend more money than she can well spare in her effort to be generous.

It's a good thing for the woman to insist upon paying for herself at all times, and it is but a just custom—and certainly a most comfortable one.

Advice For Engaged Couples.

A certain etiquette should govern the actions of an engaged couple, as well for the preservation of their own self respect as for the purpose of avoiding comment from other people.

A man should not make his fiancée conspicuous by too great a devotion in public. Such devotion is correct enough when they are alone, but a modest girl is embarrassed by too great a show of affection when strangers are present.

For the Children

The Grosbeak a Good Friend of the Farmer.

Until recently the grosbeak has been considered somewhat of a pest, but since the United States department of agriculture investigated the habits of this beautiful bird he has become a desirable citizen. Seven kinds of finches, commonly known as the grosbeak, summer within our boundaries. A majority of these are good friends of the farmer and deserve to be widely known in order that their services may be appreciated. The grosbeaks are easily distinguished from other finches by their stout form, bright plumage, massive bills and melodious voices. They live largely in agricultural regions and secure most of their food about cultivated lands. They perform invaluable service in destroying many of our worst insect pests.

The rose breasted species is a great destroyer of the potato bug. He breeds over Kansas and the mountains of Tennessee. The birds shown in the picture are of the rose breasted variety.

Damine Fortunes.

Darken the room, burn salt and alcohol in a bowl in the center table, around which are spread dominoes. Allow each one in turn to draw five. The ingenious fortune teller makes up a thrilling tale from the following significations:

- 5-5 denotes amusement and success.
- 5-4 denotes early marriage and much happiness.
- 5-3 denotes constancy and affection.
- 5-2 denotes orderliness, industry and economy.
- 5-1 denotes two marriages and riches in old age.
- 4 blank denotes the death of a near friend.
- Double 5 denotes good luck in every venture.
- 4-4 denotes a marriage with attendant poverty.
- 3-3 denotes ample means and eventual great wealth.
- 3-2 denotes an unfortunate love affair.
- 3-1 denotes an invitation to an enjoyable affair.
- 5 blank denotes danger from gambling or games of chance.
- Double 4 denotes (brings) luck to lovers, farmers and laborers.
- 4-3 denotes neither riches nor poverty.
- 4-2 denotes a change in circumstances.
- 4-1 denotes childlessness, but wealth.
- 4 blank denotes fame as a writer.
- 3-2 denotes extensive travel by land and sea.
- 3-1 denotes caution in all undertakings.
- 2 blank denotes deceit of sweetheart.
- Double 2 denotes thrift and moderate riches.
- 5-1 denotes life of luxury and single blessedness.
- 2 blank denotes poverty and continual bad luck.

The Chamouis.

The chamouis is extremely agile. He can leap over ravines from sixteen to eighteen feet wide. A wall fourteen feet high presents no obstacle to him, and he passes readily up and down precipices which almost no other four footed animal could attempt. He is said to descend obliquely precipices of more than twenty feet that are almost perpendicular, striking his feet once or twice against the rock as if to stay or guide his descent and alighting securely, often on a narrow ridge of rock, with his hind feet first and bringing the fore feet almost into contact with them.

An Apple Seed Game.

Give all guests an apple and a fruit knife and tell them to pare their apples, trying to take the skin off in one piece. The best parer gets the prize. After the one piece skin is off let the parer throw the snake-like skin over her left shoulder, and the initial it forms when it reaches the ground will be the first letter of her married name.

Game of Conglomeration.

Each takes six slips and writes a word on each. These are shuffled, and each drawing six slips must write a sentence containing all the words. Other words may be added or not as the company decides.

Forest Friends.

- It may sound peculiar,
- Yet all must agree
- Each boy can secure
- His appropriate tree
- And they who their woodland
- Companions would know
- May find them set forth
- And may read as they go.
- For a wise boy, orange
- For a homesick boy, pine;
- For a fisherboy, basswood
- Or shadblow is fine;
- For a much loved boy, poplar;
- For a chilly boy, fir,
- While a boy at the seashore
- A beach must prefer.
- For a happy boy cherry
- Seems always first rate,
- And the boy who loves history
- Yours for a date,
- While the poor injured boy
- Who when sadly distressed
- Would bind up his bruises
- Thinks balsam is best.
