

OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Events Occurring Throughout the State During the Past Week.

Bids Asked for Dam on Siuslaw.
Florence.—Miller Brothers, Joaquin, George M. and James, the latter two of this county, and the former the famous poet, have advertised for bids for construction of a concrete dam, 100 feet long, across the Siuslaw River at Swiss Home. The purpose is to divert water from the canal for the Hydro-electric plant the Millers are installing to supply the towns of the lower Siuslaw.

Pay for Squaw Demanded.
Klamath Falls.—While Bigge Archie, Pitte Indian, was acquitted recently at Lakeview on the charge of murdering his squaw, a Pitt River Indian, the woman's tribe is not satisfied with the outcome of the case and demands a private settlement from the brave. The tribesmen think a suitable amount should be paid for the loss of the woman.

Telephone Line Near Completion.
Elgin.—The farmers of this community are setting poles for the new line of the Farmers' Co-operative Telephone Company. It is their intention to cover all of this county, as well as Wallowa, and they are sparing neither effort nor expense in their plan to give the people the best of service when the line is complete.

LUMBERMEN TO FIGHT
Advertising Campaign Will Oppose "Substitutions."

La Grande.—Northwestern white pine lumber manufacturers, who are members of the Northwestern White Pine Lumber Manufacturers' Association, will inaugurate a systematic plan of advertising under the direction of the National Lumbermen's Association.

This was decided at the third quarterly meeting of the association here. Members were given a rough word sketch of the proposed advertising campaign by Leonard Bronson, general manager of the National Association.

Conceding that much of the substitution for lumber is legitimate and a result of the progress of the times, the lumbermen also aver that much of the extensive advertising of substitution concerns is "tommyrot." That sement has outgrown boards for sidewalks is admitted, but that lumber has outgrown its usefulness for many other purposes, as asserted, is regarded by the association as untrue, and the advertising campaign to be inaugurated is going to tell the consumer so.

Baker Postoffice Clerk Arrested.
Baker.—Melvin Alexander, member of a prominent family and a local postoffice employe, was arrested on charges brought by a postoffice inspector of misappropriation of money received for money orders. The charges specify numerous offenses but the aggregate amount of the alleged defalcations is not known.

NATIONAL PROGRAM SEEN
Action of Oregon Growers Believed to Be National Forecast.

Fendleton.—Action of the National Woolgrowers' Association, with reference to railroad rates, tariff and other legislation and all matters pertaining to the industry was forecast, in the opinion of sheepmen of this section, when the 14th annual convention of the Oregon Woolgrowers' Association was held at Baker, November 14 and 15.

Addresses were made on the preparation of wool for market; the national warehouse; grazing and forestry, marketing of mutton and the future of sheep grazing in the state.

Among the men who delivered addresses were Dr. S. W. McClure, secretary of the national association, who has just returned from Washington, D. C., where he has been leading the woolmen's fight against schedule K; Charles Green, one of the best-known wool buyers in the West, and Fred W. Gooding, of the National Woolgrowers' Warehouse at Chicago.

Licenses for Insurance Agents.
La Grande.—The city council has decided to exact a license of $35 a year on each fire insurance company maintaining an office here. There are 39 of these, and the proceeds from these licenses will be used in improving the local fire department.

Limit of Salmon Eggs Taken.
Astoria.—Two million five hundred thousand eggs have been taken from the Chinook salmon hatchery this season by Superintendent Hanson, which is the limit of production of eggs for propagation.

The Reclamation Service announces that $30,000 a month is now being expended on the Klamath irrigation project, the principal work being on Lost River.

The Oregon City authorities will investigate the mysterious death of Henry Henning, the Warm Springs Indian, whose body was found in the Willamette River near Concord.

Substantial prizes and instructive addresses by dairy experts will be the features of the 20th annual meeting of the Oregon Dairymen's Association in Portland, December 7 and 8. Pines aggregating $1600 were collected in the justice court at Roseburg as a result of the recent crusade of Sheriff Quine against persons suspected of violating the local option law in Douglas County.

An apple-packing box that may revolutionize northwest apple shipping packages is being experimented with by the Davidson Fruit Company of Hood River. The material is heavy pasteboard instead of wood.

The beautiful $60,000 Elks' temple in The Dalles was dedicated by members of the local lodge, No. 303, and their visiting brothers of the antlered order, nearly 1000 strong, who came from Portland, Vancouver and other cities of the Pacific Northwest.

Dr. W. A. Merrill, assistant director of the New York botanical gardens, is visiting the Oregon Agricultural College in search of material for "The North American Flora," a work on systematic botany which aims to describe all species of plants in North America.

Word has been received that Andrew Carnegie will not increase his original offer of $20,000 for a Carnegie library at Pacific University. Mr. Carnegie offered $20,000 on the terms that the institution raise an additional $20,000. Friends of the university secured $30,000 and had hoped to get an additional $10,000 from Mr. Carnegie.

State Capital Cleanings

Working in conjunction with the state tax commission, Governor West is collecting extensive data on the good roads work now being done by the different counties in Oregon since 1904.

According to the predictions of old pioneers of Salem who have had occasion to observe weather conditions in the Willamette Valley for the past 40 years, some bad storms are in store for this section within the next few months.

What Secretary of State Olcott has characterized as "gross carelessness" in the preparation of some of the vouchers received from state institutions, has resulted in a tip to some of the superintendents that in future vouchers must be made out according to law.

"Reclamation week" is the title with which Governor West has dubbed the seven days beginning November 18, when important reclamation work will be gone over and the life or death of certain irrigation companies under the Carey Act will be hung in the balance before the Desert Land Board.

A new system has been inaugurated in the state engineer's office to keep water-right records more nearly down to date. Instead of each claimant, as heretofore, applying for the entire stream flow, or all the water he thinks he can use, and having an indefinite time within which to put it to beneficial use, the new law provides for the limitation of each application as to the amount of water, and time for beginning and completing work, and putting the water to use.

The attitude of the State Board of Canal Commissioners toward the situation at Oregon City relative to the Willamette locks, was expressed in a formal statement issued from the office of Governor West. He declares that the government and the state board are of one mind relative to the construction of the locks and that as soon as negotiations for equitable valuation of property rights are settled to the satisfaction of the government and the state board and subsequent recommendations of the engineers have been approved by the department the work on the project will be begun.
