FOOTBALL SEASON CLOSED FRIDAY

The Dalles Defeated the C. C. H. S.

BIG CROWD WITNESSED GAME

The Visiting Team Given a Reception at the High School Building.

The Dalles triumphed over the Crook County High.

The Crook County High School brought, to a very satisfactory ending, its first real season in football in the game with The Dalles, Friday, November 17. To be sure, the game was not a victory for the home team, but all things considered, the C. C. H. S. showing this year gives great promise for the future.

It was an excellent day for the game, but the ground was very slippery owing to the heavy rains of the week. This made fast play impossible. But the large crowd that thronged the side lines was treated to an exhibition of straight football that excelled anything of its kind ever before seen in this section of the state.

The visiting team was composed largely of veterans, some of whom have played for the past seven years in high school teams and nearly all have known the game since first entering the grades. With the home team the opposite condition maintains. But this handicap was counterbalanced by the characteristic Crook county grit and determination.

The two teams came onto the field with a "do or die" expression that was prophetic of the desperate struggle that was about to begin, and from the time the referee's whistle blew announcing that the game was on it was a battle royal, until the last down. For some time the outcome of the game was very uncertain. The locals showing stronger on offense, while the visitors were a tower on defense. The little God, victory, hovered hesitatingly over the field, moving first toward one goal, then the other, until near the close of the first quarter, when one of The Dalles boys intercepted a forward pass that had gone wild because of the slippery condition of the ball, and raced for a touch down, he soared away to perch upon the goal that flaunted so gaily the crimson and gray of the visitors and despite the pleadings from the sympathizers on the sidelines and the herculean efforts of the home team, then he remained calm and serene until the end of the game.

The rivalry between the teams was very keen and the play was unusually fierce but free from fouls. Only a few penalties were inflicted. Capt. Myers came into forcible contact with the fist of one of the visitors and carries a black eye as the result. If this act was intentional it cannot be too severely criticized. Any one who will take such an underhanded advantage of an opponent should never be allowed to enter such contests. The boys of the C. C. H. S. are coached to play and do play clean ball. The Dalles boys are also coached to play the game correctly so let us give the visitor the benefit of the doubt and grant that it was unintentional.

For the visitors the entire back field deserves special mention. Sexton and Ostrander, at halves, were very aggressive and a tower associated are also under investigation. The Italian government became greatly alarmed over the situation in Tripoli, fearing that General Caneva was unable to cope with the situation. Reports of his cruel treatment of prisoners were denied. Wu Ting Fang, the former ambassador to the United States from China, was appointed minister of foreign affairs in the new rebel cabinet.

The general elections throughout the United States aroused considerable interest. The feature of the balloting was the remarkable growth of the socialistic movement. Three governors who were re-elected were Aram Pothier of Rhode Island, Eugene N. Foss of Massachusetts and James B. McCreary of Kentucky. Mrs. Louise Verulyna of Chicago was arrested and charged with having caused the death of a former admiral by poison. The deaths of eight other persons with whom she was associated are also under investigation. The Italian government became greatly alarmed over the situation in Tripoli, fearing that General Caneva was unable to cope with the situation. Reports of his cruel treatment of prisoners were denied. Wu Ting Fang, the former ambassador to the United States from China, was appointed minister of foreign affairs in the new rebel cabinet.

of strength on defense. Huntington, at full was a sure gainer and annexed three points by a pretty place kick near the end of the second quarter. Harriman at quarter ran the team like a veteran and was clever in returning punts.

For the locals Roy McCallister and Robert Lister at halves were the bright and shining stars, both on offense and defense. Lawrence Lister also did excellent defensive work. Capt. Myers out punted the visitors. Each man in fact did excellent work and did credit to his school. The result of the game is inexplicable. The Dalles carried the ball for a total distance of fourteen yards more than the locals but this difference was more than equalled by the longer punts of the home team. The Dalles showed marked superiority in returning punts but the ground thus gained could not have been responsible for the twenty points of the visitors. The teams were evenly matched and should have played to a standstill, but fortune smiled on the visitors at every turn. This is evidenced by the fact that they were able to score but nine points against the Bend team, while the C. C. H. S. defeated Bend last week 21-0.

In the evening the students gave the visitors a royal reception at the high school. The hall and two large rooms on the first floor were most beautifully decorated in the colors of the two schools. Never before had the old building presented such festive appearance. All memories of the afternoon's struggle were forgotten while the vanquished were exerting every effort to make the stay of the visitors in the city in every respect a pleasant one. After a short program consisting of extemporaneous speeches by Mr. Coe, Mr. Brewster and various members of the team, the time was spent in games, interspersed by visits to the large punch bowl in the hall where some of the charming high school girls held sway.

Then the company filed into the adjoining room and were treated to a luncheon of sandwiches and coffee. The company separated at a late hour with a wish that such occasions might be enjoyed more often. We hope to see The Dalles in Prineville again in the near future.

Ricketts Here December 2

The High School Lecture Course will offer on the evening of December 2, its next attraction, the well known Ricketts' Entertainment Company. No company handled by the Meneley Bureau during the last five years has given more general satisfaction nor escaped with less adverse criticism than this family of genuine entertainers.

The company consists of two sisters and three brothers, all artists in their line. Geo. Ricketts, as cello soloist; Master Clyde Ricketts, the boy violinist; Miss Marie Ricketts, the charming flutist; Miss Myrtle Ricketts, the sweet voiced singer and violinist, with Chester L. Ricketts, the matchless impersonator, combine to give an entertainment that has proved a winner everywhere.

Colored Man Gets Ninety Days

William Henry London, of colored extraction, was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail last Tuesday by Justice of the Peace A. H. Kennedy. London pleaded guilty to a charge of petty larceny. He took a gold watch, and a quantity of women's wearing apparel from the room of Myrtle Cowan in her father's house at Lamonta last Saturday evening. London had been given lodging in the house and repaid his landlord by stealing. He was arrested Monday in Prineville by City Marshal Ed Smith and sentenced to jail the following day.

Grateful for Help.

A letter from Mrs. C. L. Ferguson, wife of the one-armed freighter whose home in southeastern Crook county was destroyed by fire several weeks ago, writes to friends in Prineville as follows: "I want to thank you and the kind people of Prineville for what you have done for us. God will certainly bless you. Charley got home Sunday and found us well. We are camped in a storm shanty across the line from our old home. Everyone has been so good to us. We are not suffering in the least. Our new home is started, etc."

EAST AND WEST LINE ASSURED

Land Must Not Be Held Too High.

DEFINITE SURVEYS BEING MADE

The Cross-State Line Will Connect with the Oregon Short Line at Vale.

After announcing the intention of the Harriman interests to build an east and west line across Central Oregon, providing land owners do not hold their property at figures that will prevent the state from securing desirable settlers, Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the board of directors of all the Harriman roads, last night predicted the dawn of a bright era of relationship between the people and the railroads, says the Oregonian.

The east and west line across Oregon is receiving more serious consideration from Mr. Lovett and his associates right now than at any time since the death of Mr. Harriman.

"We are making definite surveys to determine the final location of that line," said Mr. Lovett. "We have surveyed it several times, but are going over it again to determine what, if any, change ought to be made in the original."

"We are doing some construction work on the east end of the line. How fast we will proceed will depend upon a number of conditions. One of these is the attitude of the land owners in Central Oregon. That is, whether they are willing to put their land on the market at prices that will attract settlers or whether they will prepare to discount railroad facilities in advance and withhold their land from settlement, demanding prices that will prevent the development necessary to justify a railroad."

"I don't mean to say that we will proceed with construction at a rapid rate now, because many other conditions are to be taken into consideration."

"It must be remembered that we have a great deal of work in progress which calls out a vast amount of money. We have got to cut our coat according to the cloth."

The cross-state line will connect with the Oregon Short Line at Vale on the east, and will pass through Malheur Canyon, the rights of way for which recently were secured by the Harriman interests by an agreement with the Hill roads, who had some claims in that section. Judge Lovett said last night that whether this road will connect with the O-W. R. & N. system at Bend, as had been reported, has not been determined.

"The development of the railroads and development of the country by the railroads," he continued, "rests with the people."

"If the railroads are treated justly, fairly, they can develop. If they are treated unjustly and unfairly and are hounded by unfair laws and unequal advantages under the law, then they can't develop."

"My own opinion is that the people are awakening to the fact there is no quarrel between them and the railroads and that they have more interest in the
