

NARCOTICS SEIZED BY PHARMACY BOARD

Opium King is Captured in San Francisco After Long Chase.

San Francisco.—After being trailed for two and a half years, John Edwards, known along the Pacific Coast as the "King of the Opium Ring," was arrested at his home, Fillmore Street, after a fierce struggle by inspectors of the State Pharmacy Board, assisted by policemen. In the attic of his flat the officers secured the biggest haul of morphine, cocaine and opium ever found here in the possession of one man.

Edwards, brought to bay, attempted to shoot Inspector Sutherland. Patrolman Graham sprang on Edwards, dashing the revolver from his hand and overpowering him. Edwards then admitted that he had a quantity of drugs stored in his attic and to prevent the breaking up of his house in a minute search he led the officers to the cache. Many pounds of crude opium, other smuggled, unstamped opium, a quantity of stamped opium, 135 ounces of morphine, four ounces of cocaine and an opium layout were found by the officers secreted in a big crate in a corner of the attic.

I. W. W. Plea Is Denied.

Aberdeen, Wash.—Admitting defeat a committee of the Industrial Workers of the World asked permission to return, along with the expelled members, but the citizens, at a mass meeting, refused after heated arguments, to grant the request, and even declined to meet the committee.

Bombardment in Aegean.

Paris.—Notwithstanding the strict censorship in Italy over war news, a dispatch has come through from the Secolo, of Milan, saying reports are current in Rome that an action has commenced in the Aegean Sea and that a bombardment is actually in progress.

FAIR WEATHER WANTED

Los Angeles Good Government Forces Hope to Defeat Socialists.

Los Angeles.—With the last full week of the political campaign that has torn this city into bitter factions, both sides have given over the attempt to convince anybody of the merits of their claims, and are now concentrating upon getting out the vote.

In this, the Good Government League and its allies are easily the best equipped, but the leaders of that party say that "all depends on the weather." A rainy day, it is believed, will ruin Alexander's chances and give the Socialist-Labor element the opportunity it is seeking. On the other hand, the coming of a clear and pleasant election day may mean an overwhelming victory for Alexander.

Suffragists to Show Babies.

Chicago.—To prove to ridiculing men that suffragists can raise children, members of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association have planned a "county fair" at one of the leading hotels, at which the main feature will be a baby show. A prize of $50 will be awarded to the prettiest baby.

Man Who Kept Girl Convicted.

San Bernardino, Cal.—Dr. Arthur W. McDavid, a dentist on trial for a statutory offense in connection with the imprisonment of Miss Jessie McDonald, a school girl, in a room next to his office for 16 months, in which time a child was born to the captive, was found guilty.

MEXICAN STATE SECEDES

Oaxaca Refuses to Recognize Government and Denounces President.

Mexico City.—The State of Oaxaca formally declared that it did not recognize the central government. This action was taken by the Legislature and ratified by Governor Benito Jauruz, Jr., as a result of the refusal of President Madero to permit the federal troops to assist the governor in suppressing local insurrectionists.

Crowds are said to have marched through the streets of the town, yelling, "Death to Madero and the central government," and declaring the people of Oaxaca would fight to the last to maintain the sovereignty of the state.

Single Bid Made for Mail Subsidy.

Washington.—Only one bid was submitted in answer to Postmaster-General Hitchcock's advertisement for the establishment of a subsidy mail line between the two coasts. The fact is being cited in support of the indirect charge being made by Bernard H. Baker, of Baltimore, that the transcontinental lines are thwarting his effort to establish an independent steamship company to operate through the canal.

A DAINTIER DIST.

The Happy Thought That Came to the Timid Money Lender.

A gambler of Tin Can borrowed a sum from a money lender, and when the note fell due he said he could not settle.

"You must settle," shouted the money lender. "If you don't settle I'll—"

But the gambler, taking a revolver from his boot, pointed it at the money lender and said:

"Eat that note or I'll let daylight through you!"

And the money lender, after a moment's silent thought, crumpled the note into a ball, put it in his mouth, chewed vigorously and then, with a gulp, swallowed the pulpy morsel.

"That dose saved your life," said the gambler in a mollified tone, and

"WAIT A MINUTE, MY FRIEND."

the next day he had a streak of luck and paid the money lender in full.

The money lender was much pleased with this honesty, and when the gambler a few weeks later called and asked for a new loan he was readily accommodated.

The gambler, having pocketed the new loan, sat down, dipped a pen in the ink and selected a sheet of paper whereon to write the usual acknowledgment. But the money lender hastily interposed.

"Hold on, my friend," he said, and he ran to a cupboard. "Wait a minute, my friend. Would you mind writing it on this soda cracker?"

A Candid Friend.

Rev. Ulysses G. B. Pierce, chaplain of the United States senate and President Taft's pastor at a Washington Unitarian church, told a group of senators a few days ago of a letter he had received the previous morning from a strong Methodist friend of his. The letter read:

"Dear Doctor—Yesterday morning while on the way to services in my own church I was overtaken by the heavy rain we had. As I did not have an umbrella with me and was near your church, I went in, and for the first time listened to one of your sermons on the tenets of the Unitarian faith. Next Sunday I am going to carry an umbrella."—Saturday Evening Post.

It Wasn't Fair.

Several years ago Sam Jones, the Georgia evangelist, was at Emory Grove camp and the newspaper reports of his sermons caused him to complain. At the last service he looked down at the reporters, who sat at a table just in front of the pulpit, and said:

"And I want to tell you fellows that I like you a lot in spite of your manifold faults. You boys don't treat me right, though. You take my sermons and pick out a piece here and there and a piece somewhere else. Then you string the pieces together, and naturally they read funny.

"Now, suppose I reported the Bible that way! A man asks me what the Bible tells him to do. I read in one place, 'And Judas went out and hanged himself.' I turn over and read, 'Go thou and do likewise.' And in another place I find, 'And do it quickly.' 'Now, you see, boys, that sort of thing won't do. It ain't fair.'

Division of Labor.

There were points of resemblance between Mrs. Hammond and the lilies of the field. She had married a young man who had a good salary, but she herself had never earned a penny in her life, nor had she been blessed with well to do parents.

"We have a joint account in the National Fountain bank," she announced to one of her friends when she had been married a few months. "It is such fun to pay bills by check."

"What do you mean by a joint account?" asked the incredulous friend. "Do you put in equal sums?"

"Oh, I don't put in any," said Mrs. Hammond. "Will puts it in, and I draw it out."

Awed by a Reporter.

Mr. J. P. Morgan never did have any toleration for newspaper interviewers. One young reporter did not know this. There had been an important business meeting, and when the reporter waylaid the banker the latter was in an even more irritable mood than usual.

"What decision was come to at the meeting?" asked the reporter.

Mr. Morgan turned on him sharply. "Don't you know I'm never interviewed?" he roared.

"Well, this time you're going to be," was the calm reply.

Mr. Morgan held his breath in amazement. Then he gasped and whispered softly, "My boy, if somebody doesn't kill you you'll be a great man some day."
