NEWS FROM OUR NATIONAL CAPITAL

Chairman Underwood Says Tariff Bills Will Be Ready After Holidays.

Washington.—Congress starts off the second week with undigested President's messages and with still others to follow.

President Taft will have pretty near a decade of work laid out for the law-makers if all his suggestions should be taken into consideration and passed. They may be considered but they will not all be worked out into law. Perhaps the piecemeal message will become popular in time, but one short message covering everything would find favor if it is ever tried.

Tariff Bills After Holidays.

Chairman Underwood announces he will be ready with some of the important tariff revision bills immediately after the holidays. He will bring forth the wool, cotton and steel revision bills in the order named. The general impression in the House is that there will be little change, if any, in the new bills to be presented by the Democrats of the ways and means committee from the revision bills presented at the last session.

The ways and means committee will meet this week and take up work on all the important schedules of the tariff. An innovation will be that the speaker may attend the sessions of the committee to give its members the benefit of his judgment and experience on tariff legislation.

Does Little Work.

The Senate has been marking time during the past week and will continue to do so until the house shall have sent across some bills which the Senate thinks worth its time to consider.

Up to the present the Senate has been busy considering nominations by the president and mulling over the Presidential message on the trusts and foreign affairs.

Most of the committees of the house will get busy this week. The committee on interstate and foreign commerce sailed from New York Sunday to inspect the Panama Canal. This committee will have charge of the fixing of tolls and enacting the regulations governing the Panama zone.

"Dollar-a-Day" Pensions.

Advocates of increased pensions for veterans of the Civil War battled on the floor of the House in the final stage of the fight to pass the Sherwood "dollar-a-day" pension bill. This bill is to pass the House before the end of the week. There were few opponents of the increased pension. The contest lay between those who favored the Sherwood bill, which establishes a pension based on length of service, and the advocates of the Salloway-age pension bill, which was passed by the house but failed in the Senate.

National Capital Brevities.

The meeting of the Republican National Committee this week brought a large number of politicians to Washington.

The Stanley steel investigating committee resumed its hearings Monday on the work of the steel corporation investigation, and Andrew Carnegie is expected to testify before the committee during the week.

The first redemption of postal savings bank bonds at par was made, when Postmaster General Hitchcock paid $200 in cash for two $100 bonds sent from New York.

The United States battleship Maine, sunk in Havana Harbor in February, 1898, as a result of an explosion, was blown up from the outside. This was announced by the Naval Board that has been examining the wreck.

In taking a stand against legislation proposing to allow American ships free passage through the Panama Canal, while imposing tolls on foreign vessels, Representative Warburton of Washington comes out as an enthusiastic advocate of a free ship bill, contending that such a policy alone will solve the American merchant marine problem.

Postmaster General Hitchcock, in his annual report, expresses hope that Congress, now that the postal deficit has been wiped out, will lose no time in authorizing the establishment of a parcels post. He rates this as the most important postal problem to be considered, and next to it he places the readjustment of postal rates and the fixing of the compensation of railways for carrying the mails.

A formal report to the House from the committee on expenditures in the Interior Department dismissed from Congressional consideration the Controller Bay charges, the keystone of which was the widely quoted "Dick-to-Dick" letter and the accusation that Richard S. Ryan was acquiring a monopoly of valuable Alaska harbor rights.

RUBEROID ROOFING

Original and Standard

Whatever roofing you are using on any building, you are paying the price of Ruberoid. There are 300 imitations of Ruberoid, and all of them cost more in the end than the genuine. These imitations in some cases even have names that sound like Ruberoid. Frequently they are sold as Ruberoid. Before they are laid and exposed to the weather they look like Ruberoid.

Twenty Years of Service

Ruberoid was the first ready roofing and is the only one that has made good. It has made good because it is made of the best wool felt, impregnated with materials manufactured exclusively by the makers of Ruberoid and which cannot be found in any other roofing.
