

Child Had Narrow Escape in Ochoco

People will take chances and Mrs. Roland of Powell Butte is no exception to the rule. Monday, just before dinner, as she was making her way to the north side, she undertook to cross the Ochoco over the narrow footbridge on C street. A twelve-inch plank is placed upon trestles and upon this frail crossing she started with her two children.

She carried the youngest but the other, about 4 years old, followed behind. All went well until the center of the Ochoco was reached. Here Mrs. Roland turned around to caution the child following to be very careful. The words were no sooner out of her mouth when the child tumbled off the plank into the swift current. The frantic screams of the mother attracted the attention of Marston White, who lives near by, and he plunged into the stream and caught the youngster as it was going down for the third time. Had it not been for the red sweater the child was wearing at the time he could not have located it. He saw the red sweater under the water and made for it. The child was carried down stream a block before it was rescued. In carrying the child ashore White threw it across his shoulder and this act released the water it had swallowed. The youngster was taken into a nearby house and cared for.

It would be well for the city authorities to take out this dangerous footbridge. School children much prefer the dangerous hazard to going a block or two either north or south to the wagon bridges.

LOCAL MENTION.

H. D. Dunham of Post, was in town yesterday.

George Ray and wife of Post, were county seat visitors this week.

F. Boles and F. Bogue of LaPine, were Prineville visitors Wednesday.

The firemen entertain their friends at the Presbyterian church this evening.

T. M. Baldwin and M. E. Brink returned Wednesday evening from a trip to Portland.

Henry Cram left for Metolius today with his beef cattle. He will ship ten carloads to market.

George Giddings has returned from a trip to North Dakota. This country is good enough for him, he says.

Claude C. Covey the Democratic candidate for the congressional nomination of the Second district, is in Prineville today.

Father Butler, who has come to Bend recently, will be in Prineville Sunday and will hold services at 9:30 a. m. in Stewart's Hall.

A. A. Morris, special representative of the traffic department of the O. W. R. & N. Co., made his first trip into this country this week. He was looking after business.

The body of the woman that disappeared from Bend some time ago was found in the Deschutes below that town last Sunday. As there was no evidence of foul play the coroner ordered the body to be buried.

There is a good deal of rivalry between the different grades of the public school as to which class will sell the most tickets for the entertainment tomorrow night. So far the second grade leads with $13 worth to the good.

W. F. King, M. E. Brink, John R. Stinson, A. R. Bowman and B. F. Wyld were elected as the new board of directors at the postponed meeting of the members of the Prineville Commercial Club Tuesday evening. The indebtedness of the club is somewhere in the neighborhood of $1,700.

The services at the Presbyterian church for Sunday are as follows: The morning theme, "The Cost of Power." In the evening I will preach my last sermon in Prineville on the "Unanswerable Question." Spectral music at both of these services. You are welcome. E. H. EDGAR, Pastor.

Silver Cup for Fair Exhibits

Supt. Ford has been assured that President L. W. Hill will be very glad to give a prize silver cup for the school making the best exhibit along industrial and educational lines. In addition to this there will be the regular fair premiums as usual. The fair association, too, has adopted a very liberal policy this year toward the county schools. The fair board has announced that teachers and pupils will be furnished season tickets free of charge. This generous offer in recognition of the schools of the county should spur the recipients into doing all they possibly can to make the fair a big success. Begin now.

Raise Hogs.

C. M. McAllister, livestock agent for the Portland Union Stock Yards Co., was in Prineville the last of the week. The gentleman is a great believer in hogs. He talks hogs and thinks hogs all the time. His people will furnish hogs—the best that money can buy—if enough orders can be secured for a shipment. His firm shipped in two carloads to Bend last year and the banks over there, he says, arranged it so that the farmers paid for them by the installment plan. The scheme worked well. The hogs are sold to the farmers at absolute cost. The grade is the best that could be obtained. A shipment would be made to Prineville if a similar plan could be carried out here.

John E. Edwards and Miss Mary Elliott were married Sunday at the home of the bride's mother in Prineville. Rev. Williams performed the ceremony.

Dr. H. P. Belknap celebrated his 56th birthday in bed last Friday. The birthday dinner was served in the doctor's room. The boys were privileged to invite their best girls. All enjoyed the occasion.

* R. Booten of Post, has been spending a few days in Prineville. This is the first time he has been away from home since last October. He has been confined to the house with an attack of sickness.

The grammar school ball team took another fall out of the high school freshmen class. This makes two straight games won by the boys of the public school. The score Tuesday stood 12 to 5. The little fellows play a good game.

Public School Entertainment

The public school children are working faithfully for the success of their entertainment Friday evening, April 12. The little folks are asking the people of Prineville to help them fix up the school grounds. Some leveling will have to be done and the grounds plowed and seeded. It all takes money and the children are going to raise it. You can help them. Buy a ticket. The following program will be given:

Introductory—Orville Yancey.
Jolly Boys—Twenty boys.

LOCAL MENTION

Wm. Johnson came over from Deschutes the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ban Puett came down from the ranch the first of the week to visit friends.

John Hiney and family of Portland, have taken up a homestead in section 20, about twelve miles up the river.

W. R. Ellis, who is seeking the republican nomination for congress in this district, paid Prineville a visit the last of the week.

Mrs. Will Wurzweller came up from Portland Friday evening and will spend the next two months or more visiting friends in Prineville.

Married—At the office of Justice of the Peace Kennedy, this city, Saturday, Otis W. Lewis and Miss Ethel Dunnell, both of Bend. The young couple left immediately for their home on the river.

Elder G. M. Wyatt reports a rousing meeting last Sunday at the home of Ralph Porfily. The people in that section are taking great interest in religious matters. Five expressed a desire to become Christians at the Sunday services, he says.

Will Post killed a good sized gray wolf at his ranch near Post about two weeks ago. The animal was not as large as the one killed two years ago by the Crain boys, but undoubtedly a vicious one. The hide ranges about six feet in length, including the brush.

Married—At the office of Justice of the Peace Kennedy, this city, Tuesday, Willis A. Lincoln and Nellie Shifflet, both of Crook county. The couple make their home up McKay, where the groom is in lumber, and they took their departure for that point immediately after the ceremony.

James Luckey Visits Old Scenes

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Luckey of Eugene and James Luckey of Portland, were visiting their brother, John Luckey of this city, the first of the week. James Luckey used to live in Crook county years ago. He was Indian agent over at the Warm Springs at one time and later lived in Prineville. It was 18 years ago that he last saw this country. It has been made over, he says. He used to go over on the McKay bench back of Ed Slayton's deer hunting. It wasn't necessary to go any further to get game at that time, he says. But now—he wasn't exactly certain how far a man would have to go to get anything. The county had made great strides since he left and he predicted still greater changes when a railroad reached this part of the county. Both Luckeys are men of means. One made his money in Portland and the other in Eugene.

The Inter-Society Oratorical Contest

The annual inter-society oratorical contest was held at the club hall on Friday night of last week. The attendance was small but the class of work done was of the highest order. Each speaker did most excellent work and showed the effects of thoughtful preparation and careful coaching. It was extremely difficult to select the winner and after the judges had passed in their decision it was found that Maude Potter and Elmer Thomas had tied for second place. Harold Cooke was given first place on an oration entitled "The Winning Quality." He will represent the school in the contest with all the eastern Oregon schools at Baker in the near future. The Ochocoan society received the most points in the grand totals and won the R. L. Jordan Co. cup for the first year.

LOCAL MENTION

Miss Wanda Logan, daughter of Sanders Logan, came in from Portland Friday.

Louis Fritz, game warden from The Dalles, is in town today.

N. J. Sinnott of The Dalles, republican candidate for congress in this district, is meeting old friends in Crook county this week.

R. A. Booth of Eugene is expected to arrive this evening for a visit with his brother, W. A. Booth. It is 25 years since the Eugene man saw this country.

Reginald B. Chaffee and Miss Edna Francis Carter are to be married the 15th of April at West Newton, Mass. The groom was formerly connected with the forestry department in Prineville and has many friends here. He is now president of the State College of Pennsylvania.
