Prineville 8th Grade Makes Good

The eighth grade of the Prineville grammar school passed a highly satisfactory examination last week. Principal Myers will have seventeen pupils for the Crook County High this fall. Only two failed out of a class of nineteen. Six were conditioned, principally in spelling, which can be made up in September. This will enable them to enter the high school with their class. Vicky Huston, daughter of Wade Huston, stood at the head of the class with an average of 94.19 per cent. The following are the names of the students:

- Vicky Huston, Edith Smith, Lota Horrigan, Fred Noble, Frank Reinke, Beatrice Johnson, Orville Yancey, Harold Charlton, Audrey Noble, Elizabeth Osborn. Conditioned—Madge Mills, Edward McFarland, Elva Miller, Frank Brosius, Frederick Rice, Iva Harris.

Superintendent Ford informs us that all of the county papers have not yet been received, so a complete report for the county cannot be made at this time.

Do Not Overlook the Annex Ladies

Don't forget the ten-cent tea to be given by the ladies of the Annex Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4. Everyone invited. There will be a splendid musical program rendered by the best talent in the city, consisting of vocal and instrumental solos and duets, also a violin solo by one of the ladies. Mesdames Edwards, Millern and Misses Crooks and Baldwin will receive you and Mrs. Belknap will introduce the strangers. Mesdames Elliott, Clifton, Haner and Brink will serve you dainty refreshments. Be sure and go. The ladies assure you a pleasant afternoon.

Home-Grown Vegetables in Market

This has been a great spring for early vegetables in Crook county. Otto Radloff, who has a place on Comb's Flat, a few miles south of Prineville, is bringing in the finest radishes, lettuce, onions, asparagus, spinach and rape that can be grown on this little globe. He has just two acres that he gives over to truck gardening, but the quantity of stuff he raises and sells would astonish you and he can not half supply the demand. Otto has the imported vegetables faded a mile when it comes to quality. This is the best year he has seen in the fifteen he has been in this country. His garden stuff grew all winter without protection of any kind. Would that we had more like him in this country.

Sheepmen Buy Madras Warehouse

The Konoway Warehouse of Madras has been taken over by the sheepmen of Crook county and will be called the Madras Warehouse Company. The directors of the new company are James Rice, of the Baldwin Sheep Company, Andrew Morrow, of the Grizzly Land & Livestock Company, and Numa McCain. The new company extends an invitation to all the sheepmen of this territory to join the company which proposes to handle all the wool and sheepmen's supplies that are shipped in for the members at actual cost, and expect to save the members of the company considerable money and also to get the best price possible for their wool. Sheepmen are invited to write any of the directors or C. M. Elkins, cashier of the Crook County Bank, for further information.

Clever Lecturer for Equal Suffrage

A most enthusiastic meeting was held at the Baptist church, May 10, when Mrs. Ehrgott of Portland delivered a lecture on behalf of equal suffrage. She is a most winsome lady and gave her reasons in a most convincing manner why women should be granted the use of the ballot at the next election in November. After the lecture a city organization was effected with twenty-one members signing.

The following officers were elected—Mrs. E. L. Coe, president; Mrs. J. W. Smith, vice-president; Miss Edna Estes, secretary; Mrs. D. F. Stewart, treasurer.

A meeting will be held next Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in the Baptist church to which all who are interested are most cordially invited.
