

Here He Is— Swat Him!

Or, Better Yet—

Prevent the fly from breeding by screening stables, keeping manure in closed pits or bins and sprinkling it with dry plaster or slaked lime.

Under the Swatter's Banner.

Of course it isn't pleasant to think of flies trailing their contaminated wings over your food, but you can't make war with roswater, and civilization has declared war on the fly. Therefore you must think of these things. If the pest is to be exterminated it must be in the home, and every housewife must become a crusader and march under the sign of the swatter.

When that instrument of man's supremacy and enlightenment shall hang over every mantel to the land—even displacing the crayon portrait of grandfather, if necessary—then, and not till then, the fly's epitaph will be written. In hoc signo vinces (by this sign you shall conquer).—New York Times, June 5, 1911.

A HOMEMADE FLY POISON.

Beat together the yolk of one egg, one-third cupful sweet milk, one level tablespoonful of sugar and a level teaspoonful of black pepper. Put on plates and set where flies abound. After a few hours, says Emma P. Telford, you will find the floor covered with dead or stunned flies. Sweep up and burn.

TO MAKE A FLYLESS CITY

Cleveland is to be classed and catalogued as a flyless town. In the campaign inaugurated for the extermination of the fly four steps are outlined:

- First.—To educate the people as to the deadly nature of the fly.
- Second.—To kill off all winter flies—those hidden about the houses, waiting their season of forage.
- Third.—To do away with all breeding places for flies.
- Fourth.—To trap all flies that happen to escape.

As the first step addresses on the subject are being made before the various women's clubs and in the schools of the city. Circulars and booklets will be distributed among the children of the schools, to be carried by them to their homes; posters and illustrated bulletins will be placed in the schools, in the street cars and other public places, carrying the sermon of the fly reform.

The extermination of the winter fly is a problem for the individual housekeeper. Don't let one fly escape you. Hunt for them and kill them, for the winter fly is the most dangerous of the race. The winter fly is the mother of all next summer's terrible throng.

To do away with the fly breeding places is merely a matter of cleanliness, for the fly is a scavenger, a lover of filth and an habitual follower after all that is unclean and unwholesome. Clean houses, gardens and yards, clean streets and alleyways discourage the fly in its breeding proclivities, and therefore the doctrine of cleanliness is to be preached by the anti-fly crusaders, along with the sermons on the deadly character of the insect.

And carrying out the fourth step all the house furnishing stores in the city will be asked to carry in stock and push the sale of fly traps, marvelous little wire screen houses to be baited with milk, wherein a fly once entrapped is doomed. With the campaign of education will be given complete instructions for the use of the fly trap, which may be placed on porches or window sills, on garbage pails—anywhere that flies are likely to congregate, but always on the outside of the house—always outside. Catch the fly outside of the house before it has a chance to come in and spread its poison and disease.

This city is to be divided into districts and each district divided again into clans and clubs, and from each center, small or large, branches will reach out, grappling with the subject in whatever way seems best adapted to that individual section.

Death to the fly is to be the battle cry. It is to be a fight of man against his enemy the fly and of the fly against man.

—Cleveland Leader.

Swat the Fly! Keep This Fly Off Your Sugar

It is the Most Dangerous Animal on Earth!

When bacteriologists inform us that the average fly carries on its body 1,250,000 germs, says Farm Dairying, surely we should feel a just cause for grave alarm.

HOUSEFLIES AS CARRIERS OF DISEASE.

Flies spread tuberculosis, diphtheria, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, summer complaint and fever of babies by carrying disease from one to another.

Keep everything clean and there will be no flies.

Don't let flies have a place to lay their eggs.

Keep covered all places where young flies may be hatched.

Put screens at windows and doors.

Where is dirt there are flies.

Although flies feed regularly upon human foods in houses and stores, they are equally fond of all sorts of filthy matter and will wander back and forth from one to the other.

Dragging their germ laden feet and bodies over foodstuffs, they carry disease germs from infected filth to food.

We may thus take into our stomachs any germs accessible to the flies.
