Paul Graf, a brother-in-law, who was shot by Adams, lies in a precarious condition at his wife's home near Reston, while Ben Hardman, who attempted to assist Graf and later shot Adams, is facing an impending charge of manslaughter.

Prehistoric Tooth Found at Lebanon.
Lebanon.—C. C. Beebe, who lives on the hill about three miles east of Lebanon, a few days ago unearthed part of a skeleton of some monstrous animal. Mr. Beebe brought to Lebanon on Strawberry day what is supposed to be a tooth of this animal. Several physicians pronounce it a tooth. It is in layers and only a part of it was brought to Lebanon, but what was brought in measures 17 inches around and is 5 inches long.

EDUCATE SETTLERS IS PLAN

Prevention of Fire Instead of Fighting Flames is Idea.

Portland.—Protection of forests from fire by means of an educational campaign will be the main feature of the work of the state forestry department during the fire season this year. At a meeting of the state forestry board, held in the forestry headquarters in the Yeon building, plans for systematic protection work were outlined and State Forester Elliott was instructed to begin at once the organization of a force of workers for the state and for the various lumber and timber land owners and interests.

The state will have 75 paid patrolmen to guard the forests and carry on the educational work, the various counties will have special guards and the timber owners and lumber companies will have about 600 men in the field.

The plan to be worked out will be long the line of fire prevention instead of fire fighting. To make this possible the full force of patrolmen will be deputized and will start as soon as possible to visit lumber camps and homes of settlers, farmers and campers and explain to them the need of using precaution in the handling of fires where there is danger of its spreading.

$22,000 Damages Asked.

Oregon City.—C. Scheibel, of the law firm of U'Ren & Scheibel, has filed suit for $22,000 damages against the Morning Enterprise and $10,000 damages against Gustav Schmoerr, president of the Deutsche Verein in Clackamas county.

The plaintiff alleges that an advertisement of Schmoerr's in the Morning Enterprise, published just before the recent primary, libeled him.

BLUE SKY LAW OPPOSED

Salem People Against New Commission and More Power for Governor.

Salem.—Contending that Blue Sky law, a measure which it is proposed to initiate at the coming election, and which has for its object the regulation of corporations and the creation of a corporation department for the purpose, means but the adding of another commission on the people and their taxation in an indirect manner to maintain it, a number of people prominent in state affairs here have signified their intention of actively opposing it and predict that when the people are made thoroughly acquainted with the measure, they will vote it down at the polls.

The main objection urged against the bill is that it means the creation of another commission, and additional taxation for its support. Incidental thereto is the minor objection that it gives the governor more power in that the law provides that the corporation commissioner shall be appointed by him, and hold office during his pleasure.

Morris Working on Road.

Hood River.—W. Cooper Morris, the convicted bank wrecker, of Portland, has begun work as an honor man on the Portland-Hood River highway at Camp Benson.
