Crook County Educational Exhibit Prizes for Schools and Pupils

Special effort is being made this year to emphasize the industrial side of school work in Crook county at the Central Oregon Fair to be held at Prineville this fall. No individual or class prizes will be given for written work. It may, however, compete for a prize for the best general exhibit in the class to which the school belongs.

To equalize competition for the best general exhibit, including educational and industrial, the schools of the county have been divided into five classes, and any school competes only with schools of its class. The classes are as follows:

CLASS I.

Schools of one room, with not to exceed 15 pupils, doing work in any of the first eight grades.

CLASS II.

One room schools of over 15 pupils, doing work in any of the first eight grades.

CLASS III.

Schools having two to four rooms including the first eight grades.

CLASS IV.

Schools having more than four rooms including the first eight grades.

CLASS V.

All schools having grades above the eighth.

PRIZES.

Mr. Hill, of the Great Northern Railway, will give a silver cup for the school displaying the best industrial exhibit.

The Harriman Railway system of Oregon will give prizes to the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th, best industrial exhibits, consisting of books on Agriculture, Horticulture, Domestic Science, and Manual Training.

The Fair Association and Crook County have each appropriated $150 to be awarded as follows:

(a) To the school making the best general exhibit in each of the five classes, $10.

(b) To the individual making the best exhibit of any article included in the following list. Where articles are listed in separate grades, pupils of those grades only will be allowed to compete for prizes.

We Need This in Crook County.

A fine sample of rye, seven feet high, was sent to President Davidson of the Oregon & Western Colonization Company at St. Paul the other day. Mr. Davidson replied with an urgent request for more samples. "If such magnificent rye can be grown in Crook county the same soil ought to produce prize-winning wheat."

The agent of the company here, Mr. Stinson, was requested to get all samples possible. Not only of grain, but all kinds of stuff. The samples will be collected by him and taken to the big expositions this fall. They will have his personal care. Each owner will have a tag showing his name, where grown, and under what conditions. This information will be a most effective advertisement for the grower as well as county.

Mr. Stinson feels confident that Crook county can walk away with the big $5,000 wheat prize offered. It is worth a trial, anyhow, he says. This contest for a $5,000 prize will be held in Minneapolis, Minn.,

Samples of wheat must consist of five bushels of threshed grain and from five to ten sheaves from the same field averaging from six to ten inches in diameter.

Wheat must be placed in good tight sacks, plainly labeled with name and address of the exhibitor. Bundles should be carefully wrapped and boxed with name and address of exhibitor outside and inside.

The exhibitor will be under no expense. Just drop a line to Mr. Stinson, notifying him of what you have and he will do the rest. We need the big farming outfit here and Crook county should have it. Go after it.

Fire Destroys Valuable Property At Redmond Monday Night

The Blue Front livery barn at Redmond was destroyed by fire Monday night. Ten horses were burned, including the big Belgian sorrel stallion belonging to the Powell Butte Belgian Horse Co. It was valued at $4,000.

The W. F. King Co. lost their freighting outfits and considerable freight. The horses were stabled in a lean-to on the west side of the barn and were saved. One of the animals, however, was so badly injured by smoke that it may have to be shot. The harness and wagons went up in smoke. Loss about $1,500. No insurance.

The heaviest loss will fall on Mr. McCall, the owner of a fine ranch near the home of Thos. Sharp Jr. Mr. McCall had shipped his furniture and personal effects to Redmond and they were loaded on the King wagons ready to be taken to the ranch Tuesday morning. The wagons were put in the barn for the night. Everything was consumed, including silverware, cut glass and other costly belongings. The McCall stuff was insured for $22,500 while in transit but as soon as it left the car the insurance was non-effective. Many valuable heirlooms were burned. These cannot be replaced but it is understood the wealthy Bostonian will soon have more furniture on the way.

SPECIAL PRIZES.

Slayton-Russell prize, District 4—Mill Creek, district 3—Johnson Creek, and district 48—Slayton district, will compete for a prize of $20, to be awarded for the best Industrial and Educational exhibit, to be judged from general effect. This prize is given by Geo. Russell and Ed. Slayton, each contributing $10.

Beckman Prize, Districts 54—Shepard, District 72—Butte Valley, and district 66—North Butte, will also compete for the Beckman prize of $10, to be awarded on the same basis as the Slayton-Russell prize.

Any boy or girl may also compete in the general fair exhibit by entering in both the school and general exhibit in the industrial department.

No prize will be awarded an exhibit that is unworthy even though it should have no competition.

The Central Oregon Fair Association, through its board of directors, have decided to give to every pupil of the public schools of Crook County, and to each teacher, a season ticket to the fair.

This, with the prizes offered, should be an incentive for the teachers and pupils to do their best to make this year's school fair the best of all. Begin now with the work. The teacher can do a great deal by supervising the work even though her school has closed.

Respectfully,

R. A. FORD,

Co. Supt.

Shaniko Wool and Sheep Moving

Seventeen carloads of wool were shipped to Boston from the Moody warehouse in this city within the week, and sixteen carloads of sheep were marketed.

Pat Reilly, a well known sheepman of Ashwood, on Monday delivered at this point 1500 ewes and cross-bred lambs to Edwin Mays, which are said to be as fine a bunch as have been sold here this season. Mr. Mays is one of the progressive farmers who finds it advantageous to run considerable stock to maintain a high degree of fertility on his land.—Shaniko Star.

News Snapshots Of the Week

Senator Ellhu Root of New York was elected temporary chairman of the Republican national convention at Chicago, defeating Governor McGovern of Wisconsin by a vote of 568 to 502. The Democratic convention opened at the Fifth regiment armory in Baltimore. The subcommittee on arrangements named Alton B. Parker as temporary chairman. He received eight votes, Representative Henry of Texas three, Senator James of Kentucky three, Senator Kern of Indiana one and Senator O'Gorman of New York one. The Bryan forces, who opposed the selection of Judge Parker, declared that they would carry the fight against him to the floor of the convention. John I. Martin, the sergeant-at-arms, expects to have his hands full if this is done.
