

OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Events Occurring Throughout the State During the Past Week.

Want White Men Hired in Shops.
 Roseburg.—The Southern Pacific recently discharged about 15 white engine wipers employed in the round house here and filled their places with Japanese. As all the discharged men were residents here, the citizens of Roseburg have taken exception to the action. A petition addressed to superintendent L. R. Fields, is being circulated asking "in behalf of the citizens of the United States and especially such citizens who are required to earn their livelihood by virtue of employment, that the Southern Pacific company employ white labor and American citizens to perform its work in the city of Roseburg, and in particular in the round-house and machine shops in this city."

Millage Bill Filed, Bears 12,250 Names
 Salem.—Containing about 12,250 names, petitions asking for the initiation of the measure placing the University of Oregon and Agricultural College on a millage basis, were filed with the secretary of state. The petition can boast of signers from all counties in the state, and if passed will repeal the appropriations made by the last legislature for the university and now in litigation in the supreme court. The measure provides a levy of seven-tenths of a mill, four-tenths for the agricultural college and three-tenths for the university.

EUGENE IS CHOICE

Spanish War Veterans in Session at Albany Elect Officers.

Albany.—A. J. McAllister, of Pendleton, was elected department commander of the Spanish-American War Veterans of Oregon at the fourth annual state encampment of the organization held in this city. Other officers were chosen as follows:

Senior vice-commander, Jack Rulford, of Portland; junior vice-commander, A. W. McLaughlin, of Eugene; inspector-general, P. E. Elbert, of Portland; chaplain, E. R. Lundberg, of Portland; marshal, H. N. Sellinger, of Hammond; judge advocate-general, C. R. Hotchkiss, of Portland; surgeon-general, Dr. M. Ellis, of Albany.

Eugene was selected as the meeting place of the next annual encampment; A. E. Cooper, of Portland; William V. Merrill, of Albany; Captain White, of Eugene, and M. B. Huntley, of Eugene, were elected delegates from Oregon to the national convention of the organization to be held at Atlantic City this summer.

More than 1000 veterans attended the encampment.

Boy Slings, Then Dies.

Medford.—Five minutes after slinging in the parlor with his sister and two friends, Earl Kennedy, the 17-year-old son of William Kennedy, was found in his bedroom with a 12-gauge shotgun by his side and the top of his head blown off.

Although at first reported as a suicide over an unfortunate love affair, members of the family hold to the belief that young Kennedy came to his death through an accident while cleaning the shotgun.

JURYMEN APPEAL TO WEST

Conditions Bad at Toledo, Florence, Pendleton and Bly.

Salem.—The United States grand jury in session in Portland sent an appeal to Governor West to take a hand in enforcing the liquor laws at Toledo, Florence, Bly and Pendleton, where it is asserted Indians are offenders against the federal statutes and local district officers have failed to enforce the laws.

Thus the radius of Governor West's campaign of law enforcement grows with each day. From the number of appeals pouring into his office it seems there is hardly a section of the state where officials charged with law enforcement have not been lax in regard to liquor and moral laws.

The appeal from the United States grand jury was passed by unanimous vote of the jury and was signed by Max O. Burch of Salem, as foreman and by 21 other members from different parts of the state.

Fishing to End July 31.

Enterprise.—The Wallows river, for 300 yards above where it empties into Wallows lake, is to be closed to fishing on July 31, according to announcement just made by the state game and fish commission. The purpose stated is to stock and protect the fish which frequent the river and lake.

O. & S. Line to be Sold.

Eugene.—The property of the Oregon & Southern Railway, a 20-mile steam road stretching out of Cottage Grove toward the Holston tables, will soon be sold at public auction to satisfy its creditors.

BRIEF NEWS OF OREGON

Prowater's annual peach day will be held this year on August 15. Work has begun on the erection of the Oregon Electric passenger depot in Albany.

The annual Oregon convention of the National Association of Letter-Carriers was held at Corvallis last week.

The Swedish Methodists of Salem have organized a church and bought a church building, which was dedicated Sunday.

After almost four years of construction, St. Angel's handsome new Catholic church was dedicated Sunday by Archbishop Christie.

The Enterprise Electric company, that furnishes light and power to several eastern Oregon towns, has increased its capital stock from $50,000 to $200,000.

Several Marshfield men have squatted on valuable land in Coos county, which they claim is open to entry. The land is north of Coos Bay and includes some valuable timber.

The newly organized Falls City Potato Growers' Association is the first and only organization of the kind in Polk county, and promises to become an important factor in finding a cash market for potatoes.

S. A. D. Pater of Portland has established his innocence of the charge of forgery made against him by M. A. Fifield, an attorney of Minneapolis, and has instituted suit against Fifield for $50,000 damages.

This year the Salem cherry fair, which will be held July 11, 12 and 13, promises to be the biggest event of the kind ever held in Salem. The first day of the fair will be "Made in Oregon," or manufacturers' day.

Jacob William Karki, the 9-year-old son of Jacob Karki and wife of Astoria, was accidentally drowned while playing with a younger lad on the net racks of the Union Fishermen's Co-operative Packing company in Union town.

From the Columbia river district during the month just passed there was shipped to foreign ports nearly 25,000,000 feet of lumber, an amount unequaled during a similar period from this or any other single port in the world.

On the ground that he is not a fugitive from justice and cannot be returned for trial, California's executive has refused to honor a requisition from Governor West for the return of Harold Rees, wanted in Oregon on a charge of wife abandonment.

By means of a suit filed in the circuit court at Salem by the Oregon Electric railway company, it became known that the ultimate destination of the extension being built from Salem to Eugene, which is practically completed as far as Albany, is Roseburg.

As the result of an explosion of gas in an automobile gas lamp, George Stoddard, a prominent lumberman and timber owner of La Grande, is lying in a critical condition in the Grande Grande hospital with his eyes blind with small particles of glass and his face badly cut.

Efforts to burn another Port of Coos city are being put forth. Petitions are being circulated and quite freely signed by the citizens. The matter will be presented to the county court in July and will probably be submitted to the vote of the people at the November election.

So assured are fruit growers of a record crop in the Rogue river valley this year that the cry of the growers for more thinners is frequent. Old-timers declare the trees never have been more heavily laden, and now that the danger of frost is practically past, it seems almost certain a bumper crop will be harvested.

The jury at Albany in the case of the Oregon Electric Railway company vs. Francis Marie Hyde, et al. has awarded the defendants $4250 damages for the appropriation of land owned by them for railway purposes. The Oregon Electric took about 11 acres of land lying in the edge of the town of Harrisburg for truckage and a site for depot grounds.

Salem is to make its second attempt to secure pure water by purchasing the plant of the Salem Water company, the council at a special meeting having decided to endeavor to obtain the plant through arbitration as to its price, rather than through condemnation, and as soon as the price is agreed upon by the arbitrators, the people will vote upon it.

Secretary Olcott, within whose jurisdiction now exclusively the fate of the university of Oregon reposes, has decreed that the cases shall go to their final disposition before the supreme court and that no agreement will be reached between the parties in the suits to withdraw the cases. It has been the desire of Governor West that the cases be withdrawn.

During the 11 months ending with May there were shipped from the United States 25,113,825 bushels of wheat, valued at $24,908,348. Portland led all the cities of the country with 6,429,547 bushels, worth $5,888,887. During the same period Portland shipped 588,705 acres of flour, while from the whole country 10,725,138 barrels were sent out, of a total value of $47,761,961.
