Making Improvements At Fair Grounds

Shipp & Perry were awarded the contract, the other day, for building a new grandstand and judges' stand at the fair grounds. The new grandstand will be 28x160 feet and will seat 1000 people. It will be covered with rustie. A hand platform will occupy the central portion. This is a much-needed improvement. The contract price is $1800.

The fair management will also enlarge the pavilion to accommodate about twice the number of exhibits. The present pavilion will be enlarged to form a Maltese cross. The new additions will be ready for the fall opening. From present indications the 1912 fair will be a record breaker both in the number and kind of exhibits and in the varied attractions offered. Save the best you have for the fair.

Mr. Everson and family were out in their auto at the time and saved nothing but the clothes they wore. A grocery store and four real estate offices went up in smoke. There was a little insurance.

The Pathfinders At Prineville

The Portland pathfinders, who are spying out the best route from the Columbia river south to Lakeview and Burns, arrived in Prineville yesterday afternoon. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chapman, Philip S. Bates, H. Y. Herbert, G. F. Beck and E. Frank.

Besides finding the most favorable roads to the south, the preliminary trip had another interesting feature in that the Portland Automobile Club sent along a road engineer and map-maker with a view to making permanent records of the interior highways for the club road book. This book will be used by automobilists going to the Central Oregon Development League at Lakeview in August. Another thing, the route now established by the pathfinders will be the one traveled annually between Oregon and California, as the Central Oregon roads are recognized as the best highway for auto travel between the two states.

The Prineville Commercial Club sent C. L. Shatruck to The Dalles to meet the party and pilot them over the best road. A Redmond pilot came over yesterday to take the party to Redmond. Then Bend takes charge. In this way the best route is found and established. The visitors complimented Mr. Shatruck very highly for the way he acquitted himself on his part of the journey. He not only chose the best roads but the most scenic route from The Dalles to Prineville.

Georgia Minstrels at the Lyric

The Lyric will present on Friday and Saturday evening of this week a genuine colored minstrel troupe in an hour of song, music and jokes. These Darktown Minstrels and Ethiopian serenaders will provide fun in plenty and will close their act with that laughable farce, "Darktown Justice, or a Fowl Deed."

Prof. Baker's Cotton Pickers Band furnish the music. This troupe together with the regular bill of pictures, will undoubtedly prove the strongest attraction ever staged at the Lyric. An entirely different program will be given each night.
