

FOR TIN WEDDING.

There Need Be No Monotony in Gifts For This Anniversary.

NEW INDIVIDUAL MOLDS.

Of Delightfully Shaped Cake-Tins There Are No End This Season—They Come In Sheets Containing a Dozen and a Half For Fancy Cakes.

A young matron went shopping recently to find something for a tin wedding present and at the tinmith's she was confronted with such an assortment of dessert molds and molds of all sorts, shapes and sizes that she is still talking about them. She was so fascinated with the molds that she has invested in a supply for herself.

The large molds for fish mousse now have small individual fish shaped tins to match. A most pleasing effect can be obtained by arranging the small molds of jellied fish around the larger fish on a large oval platter. Ring molds are always a valuable acquisition to one's kitchen, as they are made to hold one or more quarts and used for the concoction or artistic dishes, such as macaroni paste, rice mold, aspic meats, cornstarch puddings or cranberry jelly.

KITCHEN CABINET FOR YOUNG HOUSE-KEEPER.

For frozen desserts there are a few molds in all kinds and shapes, and these are necessary for things needing to be packed in salt and ice. Among the very newest molds are hollow affairs in cane or pyramidal shapes, like irregular peaks. Other molds turn out wonderful desserts resembling bunches of flowers and fruits. There is a pronounced revival of the huge molds for frozen desserts, like the old time monumental affairs used by our grandmothers. No doubt some of these curious old metal molds are stored away in pantries and cellars. If so they should be brought out and put to use.

The gift chosen for this particular tin wedding was a dozen individual molds, so pretty for Spanish cream or other frozen cream desserts. The dozen included three hearts and the same number of diamonds, spades and clubs, particularly suitable to use for card party refreshments. These attractive little molds come in many other fascinating shapes, such as shells, stars and bunches of cherries or grapes.

Of cake tines the shopper found a bewildering assortment. They come in sheets containing a dozen or a half dozen, for the most decorative little fancy cakes for afternoon tea, children's parties and special occasions. Among these are hearts, birds, dolls, etc.

No gift appeals more to the young housekeeper than the conveniently equipped cabinet seen in the cut. Nothing seems to be omitted, from clock and scales on top to a casserole and baking pans and measuring cups in the cupboard under the mixing board. The stationary flour sifter is particularly handy, and the best thing about the cabinet is that everything tucks out of sight and the doors close at the day's end on all the culinary implements of the day's work.

Ribbon Trimmed Hats.
Dame Fashion shows many signs of remaining faithful to the warm affection which she showed last season for ribbon trimmings of every sort and kind, and it is now a foregone conclusion that some of the smartest and most effective hats for late spring and early summer will be adorned with giant bows of ribbon and tied with long ribbon strings and streamers. A special advantage is that it is practically weather proof.

The New Silk Stocking.
There is a new silk stocking which is warranted not to "run" in the aggravating "ladders" which are so difficult to darn neatly and which, darned or undarned, ruin the effect of the stocking. The top of the stocking, where the garter is attached is woven separately and is attached to the sheer thread silk portion by a strong machine stitch past which the possible "ladder" caused by the garter cannot get. Flesh colored silk hose or a pale champagne color are surer than black now with the neatly fitting buttoned boot of satin, buckskin or dull ralf.

WAYS WITH ASPARAGUS.

Its Color and Flavor Give a Spring Touch to Many Dishes.

Much of the asparagus that is sold is hard and wooden up to within two or three inches of the top. Often the grower will send such a bunch when supplies are ordered over the telephone—a very careless method of marketing, but sometimes necessary. The bulk of such a bunch can be used in soup, and the tips, which are usually tender, can be utilized in various ways after reserving a few for a garnish in the soup. They should first be boiled until tender, but not until they break. Twelve minutes is the time usually allotted to them.

Asparagus tips are familiar enough in asparagus salads and omelets. A few spoonfuls of these tips make a delicious addition to a lettuce salad or other dish of spring greens. Some cooks add a tiny spoonful of chopped chives. Chilled boiled tips also make an attractive garnish to a salmon salad.

Creamed asparagus tips or asparagus tips tossed in butter are sometimes served as an entree in little party cribs or as a filling with appropriate seasonings in small dainty sandwich rolls for luncheon.

An asparagus consommé makes an attractive soup at this season. To make it add a few tips to a plain consommé.

Tossed in a little hot butter or dressed with brown butter, these tips make a nice garnish for cutlets and broiled fish. Curries, too, with rice, are improved by the addition of asparagus tips. They may also be added to the gravy accompanying a meat or fish or used in an asparagus sauce. A delicate cream sauce, such as is used with fried chicken or fish, is improved in flavor and appearance by the addition of some of the green tips carefully boiled.

Summer Girl and Her Blazer.

Every girl will want a blazer coat this year, and more than likely her blazer will be in her own or somebody else's college colors. This blazer has a crimson ground with stripes of white—the Cornell colors—and it accompanies a tennis shirt of white serge which has the new inverted plait at either side to give room for running about. These skirts are a bit smarter than linen or duck skirts, and they keep fresh longer. When the game is over the tennis girl likes to take off the heavy rubber soled shoes and don her buttoned boots of white buckskin for the walk home.

CRIMSON AND WHITE COAT.

Screens and Traps.
Keep garbage cans closely covered unless you have a fly trap attached to them. Such traps may be obtained at most hardware stores.

Screen sick rooms, or at least the bed of the patient, and do not allow flies to have access to his excreta, which should be treated with chloride of lime or some other disinfectant.

Screens are especially needed in towns which have no sewer system or in which the sewers drain into a stream on the banks of which flies swarm, attracted by the filth from the sewers.

If flies do get into the house in spite of screens they may be killed or trapped. Sticky fly paper and a variety of traps may be used as well as poisoned fly paper.

A Miniature Stand.
One of the prettiest wardrobe stands ever homemade for a baby was evolved from a bookrack of natural bamboo fitted with boxes whose covers were altered into lids which work as ribbon hinges. The cardboard receptacles for the three lower shelves were covered at sides and top with strips of white crash worked with a floral design done in pale green creasels and inside were padded with sachet scented white cotton batting, overlaid with fine white linen. These three boxes accommodate frocks, slips and petticoats, respectively.

When Making Quilts.
It is an impossibility to successfully wash quilts without having the cotton filling become matted and lumpy. If the cotton batting is covered with cheesecloth and tied before the final covering is knotted over the cotton the latter may be removed at any time and washed.
Afterward it may be replaced and knotted, making the quilt perfectly new again.

THE JAPANESE SASH.

A Quaint Accessory That is in the Height of Style.

Wear a Japanese sash, or obi, with your simple little evening frock if you happen to be slender and willowy and girlish. It is the quaintest accessory imaginable, and you may fashion it for yourself in a very short time. First you catch your lure. That is to say, you buy three yards of thirty inch wide silk of an expensive sort as you can afford, and you stay both edges with baby ribbon of a matching shade. That will prevent the silk length from sagging at either side while you are making a band by plaiting in one end, drawing it about your waist in soft, deep folds and, having measured the exact length required, plait it across at that end. After that—without cutting the silk—you divide the remainder of the length into three even strips and make them into as many long loops. Two of these loops must extend oppositely from each other, running from a common knot, and from beneath that knot must fall the third loop. When the sash has been adjusted to the figure the two loops horizontally crossing the center of the back and the single long loop falling over the hips will form a silk hotterdy, and that is what the obi is supposed to represent.

Fruits and Flowers Moulded in Gelatin.

Fruits, flowers, raisins and citron can be moulded in gelatin with a little experimenting. To do this put a layer of gelatin in the mold first and let it harden. Then arrange the fruits, rose petals or other decoration. Pour a layer of gelatin carefully over this, not disturbing the fruits. When this layer is set fill the mold. Angelica, which comes in long green sticks, is used for leaves of flowers. Candied cherries, almonds and other nuts are also used in making designs. The Italians cut gelatin into stars and different shapes, moulding it in another gelatin. If plain gelatin is moulded with a tube in the center it gives a clearer and more transparent look. The center may be filled with whipped cream or fruits. The list of flavors to be given gelatin is almost endless—fruits, chocolate, coffee, wine, lemon, orange, and so on.

Famous Recipe For Asparagus Sauce.

A famous cook gives the following recipe for an asparagus sauce in which a variety of seasonings are used: Put two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, stir in two tablespoonfuls of flour and gradually add a pint of white stock. Stir the sauce thoroughly while adding the stock to prevent lumps from forming. Then add a seasoning of salt and pepper, a slice of onion, a little slice of carrot, a bay leaf, a tiny bit of mace and a sprig of parsley. Let the sauce simmer for twenty minutes, then strain it and add enough tips to give a nice color and flavor to the sauce. Sometimes the tips are mashed and strained, but the bits of green are attractive, and the mashing and straining make extra work.

The Guest Room Slate.

One of the greatest conveniences which a hostess can devise for her guests is a clearly written card set on the bedroom writing table detailing the hours of meals, the times of incoming and outgoing posts, the principal trains and other useful information.

It was some one's clever idea to provide a small china slate in each room on which might be written instructions for the housemaid. It is often difficult to find her during the day in order to ask for the hot bottle, the glass of warm milk, the necessary help when dressing for dinner or other needs that may be required and to ring for her often is not desirable.

Bathing Suit For the Tot.

The little one who is constantly in and out of the water will be less likely to catch cold in a bathing suit that has a fair percentage of wool in its weave.

WOOLEN BATHING SUIT.

Tog out the wee lass or laddie in a wool bathing suit when the beach is reached and keep the dainty frock fresh for the homeward trip.

The Finger Bowl.

The finger bowl usually terminates a dinner. It should be half filled with water and set upon a plate holding a small dolly. A dainty touch is given to the bowl by placing upon the surface of the water the leaf of some fragrant plant or a delicate flower. The finger bowl should be used only to wet the tips of the fingers and not for the purpose of taking a hand bath. After the soil of food has been rinsed from the fingers wipe them upon the napkin.
