

City Dads Met Tuesday Evening

The city council met in regular session Tuesday evening. Present—Mayor Edwards, Councilmen Ward, Winnek, Gray and Cooper; Recorder Bowman and Marshal Coon.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Secretary Cadle of the fair association addressed the council in regard to opening F street south to the city limits. This is the street running in front of the public school building, and the idea was to open it to the fair grounds. The present road is not on a street at all, and if the Northwest Townsite people, who own the land, took a notion to fence it up, they could do so. The Fair association wants a sidewalk built to the grounds, but wants the improvements put where they will not be subject to the whims of any one. The council took favorable action on the matter and requested the recorder to draw up resolutions to be presented to the county court and Northwest Townsite Co.

James Adamson addressed the council in regard to grading the county road from C. Sam Smith's place to the Kester livery barn. In the winter when hauling is bad this particular stretch of road makes it almost impossible to get a load into town. Enough volunteers have offered their services to make a good substantial road between the places indicated if the present road was laid out on the street survey. The matter was referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Improvements.

Councilman Ward reported that he had completed the E street bridge fill and repaired Third street.

Automobile drivers came in for criticism at the hands of the council for carelessness in observing the behests of the city ordinances for the public safety. Drivers do not at all times blow their horns when approaching street corners. Neither do drivers pay much attention to speed limit. While the city authorities want to be reasonable about these matters it is up to the auto people whether the city ordinances are to be enforced to the letter or not. Caution is their watchword.

Grant Mays brought in 100 cows and calves the first of the week to be taken to his big Camp creek stock ranch. The stock was bought in Montana. This makes the second bunch of feeders he has brought in within two weeks.

SI Hodges has a two-year old filly that he thinks has the "edge" on any equine flesh in this part of the country. It's a great pacer, SI says, and he can hear the money jingle in his pockets that is offered by the fair this fall for two-year olds. It has been in training only three weeks, but is showing wonderful speed. The animal is a thoroughbred. He bought it from J. W. Horigan.

An ordinance regulating the blowing of steam whistles was read the third time and passed. Whistles must not be blown to exceed ten seconds at any one period and the continued periods must in no event exceed twenty seconds. It is further stipulated that no combination of periods shall follow each other within one hour after the time the first combination shall have expired.

The fire ordinance was amended so that sheet iron buildings could be erected in the rear of blocks where they are now prohibited.

A light was ordered placed on the E street bridge.

A crosswalk was ordered put in at the home of Prof. Coe. This order led to the discussion of the condition of sidewalks on the east side. It was discovered that several property owners had not complied with the order of the council. The marshal was instructed to look after them.

Councilman Gray thought that the weeds and rubbish that littered the streets and alleys of Prineville were not only a reproach to the city but a serious menace in case of fire. Local patriotism should prompt property owners to clean up if nothing else would. There is a city ordinance covering the subject but drastic measures will not be enforced if people will try and protect themselves by removing the rubbish. Council adjourned.

Make a date for the concert. "Fellers git your girls."—Methodist church, Thursday evening, Sept. 12.

Crook County High Ready for Business

The Crook County High School is in apple-pie shape for the opening next Monday. The main school building has been repaired and all the rooms calcimined. Everything is clean and fresh for the start.

The Annex has come in for its share of attention. The manual training quarters have been enlarged. A stock room has been provided and the landing on the second floor has been converted into a drafting room.

The janitor has done good work on the lawn during the summer and as a result looks better than ever before. More shade trees are needed before the campus will look as it should.

New students are arriving nearly every day. From present indications the attendance will be unusually large. Some are still without places to room and board. If you have an extra room or can furnish meals to any number of students notify Principal Coe at once. If you have any work to be done remember the boys that must depend to a large extent upon revenue from this source for school expenses.

All students who can are urgently requested by Principal Coe to enroll Saturday of this week.

Birthday Party

Eula Noble celebrated her sixth birthday last Saturday afternoon. She sent autos to gather up her little Prineville friends to take them to her country home, two miles north of town. Many pretty presents were given the little hostess.

...The Joy of...

Perfect Vision

There is great satisfaction in perfect vision—a joy unexpressable, but unfortunately, many eyes are defective. Imperfect sight can, in nearly all cases, be restored by properly ground lenses; however, there must first be a methodical, scientific examination of each eye and every part of the eye. Our best opticians will tell you that my examinations are exhaustive and my work scientific and accurate. Satisfaction always.
