

Jim Rogers in Trouble Again

Jim Rogers is again in trouble. He was out of jail about a week on a thirty-day sentence from Madras on a charge of larceny when he again strayed from the narrow path by signing the name of Dick Shriver to a First National Bank check and had it cashed by Frank Brosius. This was about two weeks ago. Brosius laid the matter before Sheriff Balfour and that officer telephoned in different directions to head him off. The sheriff of Wasco picked up the fugitive at The Dalles Tuesday and today Sheriff Balfour started for the Wasco county seat to get his prisoner.

Rogers made a clumsy attempt at forgery. He got a job at the Fairview Stock Farm when he got out of jail after serving his larceny sentence. He had worked for Mr. Shriver for about a week when he conceived the check idea. The conception was a bad one. Mr. Shriver's initials are R. H. and he does not use the nickname when signing checks. Furthermore, he did not have an account at the First National. Rogers will be a wiser man when he gets through with the October term of the circuit court.

Plainview Irrigation Co. Incorporates

Articles of incorporation of the Plainview Irrigation Co. have been filed with the county clerk. The incorporators are C. F. Chalfan, R. B. Bailey and Vernon A. Forbes. The company will take a ditch out of Squaw creek beginning in the SE 1/4 of the SW 1/4 of section 29, township 15 south, range 10 east, and end in the NW 1/4 of the NW 1/4 of section 12, township 16 south, range 12. The principal place of business will be Gist. The capital stock is placed at $5000, divided into 100 shares at $50 each.

LOCAL MENTION

Mrs. Omar Claypool got home last evening.

Born—Tuesday, September 10, to the wife of Robert Cram, a girl.

Miss Agnes Elliott will leave tomorrow for the University of Oregon.

Hugh Lister and family left Sunday for Portland where they will spend the winter.

J. F. Houston and family of Held were in Prineville Friday on their way home from a three-months' visit to North Carolina.

Mrs. Joe Lister and family have moved to town from their ranch at Paulina. The children will attend the Prineville schools this winter.

At the Methodist church—Sunday school at 10 a. m.; preaching at 11 a. m.; Epworth League at 6:30 p. m.; preaching at 7:30 p. m.

The Journal acknowledges complimentary tickets to the Grant county fair to be held at John Day, commencing October 18 and continuing five days.

Mrs. R. B. Crane, who lives on the bench west of town, left a bag of early Ohio potatoes at the Journal office just to show what the dry ranches are doing in the potato line. The sample shows a large, clean spud that should command the best price in any market. Grain, too, Mrs. Cross says, did well on the bench this year.

Last Saturday the Annex ladies enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon sewing on Christmas work while Mrs. Stinson and Mrs. Rosenberg told of their Crater Lake and Lakeview trip and showed numerous photographs taken en route. Tea and cakes were served. The ladies are making plans for a very busy club year.

Journal Ads Read in Merrie England

It pays to advertise in the Journal. T. H. Lafollette got a request for Lafollette Nursery literature from London, England. The letter reads:

Care Delhi & London Bank, 5 Bishopsgate St., London, 21 August, 12.

Dear Sir:

Kindly send me your illustrated catalogue of fruit trees. I want to take a lot of plants to India and think the ones I get from you will do better than if I take ones out from England. Yours,

J. G. OUSELEY.

Potato Growers Will Meet at Redmond

The potato growers of Crook county will meet at Redmond next Saturday, September 14, to organize an association for the purpose of promoting the potato industry. The marketing and grading of the staple will come up for discussion and action. All interested should not fail to be present as matters vital to potato growing will come before the meeting.

Omar Wilson Gets His Liberty

On motion of the state, Omar Wilson, who has been kept in the county jail for nearly a year on charge of killing a steer in the Paulina country, was this week released on his own recognizance. All the important witnesses in this case have scattered to the four corners of the earth seemingly, and the defendant's release is tantamount to a dismissal. Mr. Wilson has gone to his homestead for a camping trip until court week.

Pony for Sale

Saddle broke, 5 years old, weighs 800 pounds; price $27.50, with new bridle. Inquire at the Journal office. 9-12

LOCAL MENTION.

John Schmeer of Held was here last of the week for supplies.

The M. W. A. band will give its usual concert Sunday at 2 p. m.

C. L. Frost of Powell Butte was a business visitor the last of the week.

The Shumia Club will hold its first meeting on Saturday, Sept. 14, at the home of Mrs. John Wigle.

The Woman's Equal Suffrage League will hold a food exchange at Winnek's store next Saturday, commencing at 9:30. You can get all kinds of good things to eat.

H. A. Chappell of Fremont, Neb., salesman for the Northwest Townsite Co. of Philadelphia, Penn., who own a good townsite addition to Prineville, spent two days here the first of the week looking over Prineville and country. He expressed himself as well pleased with conditions here.

A farewell party was given last Thursday evening at the home of Audrey Noble in honor of her chum, Violet Lister, who goes to Portland to spend the winter. Twenty-five young people spent the evening in playing games. They were taken in the Belknap and Noble cars. Refreshments were served at the close.

H. F. Mitchell of Culver was in Prineville Saturday. The rain the last of the week, he says, did not do any damage to grain in his neighborhood. His crop was harvested, and he had an average of a little over 33 bushels to the acre of clean Walla Walla Club wheat. Mr. Mitchell thinks the weather man is framing up a big yield for next year. Rain has fallen nearly a month ahead of last year.

High Jinks Friday Eve, September 27

On the evening of Friday, September 27, the ladies of the Annex are planning a High Jinks to be given for Club and Annex members. This promises to be one of the most unique affairs of the season. Get busy and rummage the attic for togs worn in grandmother's day and win one of the prizes. The refreshments will be the kind mother used to make. Don't forget the date.

Special Meeting City Council

A special meeting of the city council was held today to consider the matter of abating the weed nuisance. The council has had the subject under discussion before but was not able to do much under the old ordinance. But you want to look out for the new one passed today. The fur will fly if its provisions are not obeyed. Read it over. It will be found in another column.

W. P. Davidson and son, J. W. Edgecomb and Dr. Wilson are in Prineville this week looking over the Oregon & Western Colonization Co.'s property hereabout.

LOCAL MENTION

Alex. Mackintosh of Portland is shaking hands with old friends in Prineville today.

Rev. C. P. Bailey reports a good meeting at Mitchell, but he was forced to quit on account of sickness.

Mrs. Fannie and Miss Francis Gaze, from West Branch, were visiting at Mrs. Bailey's last week. They returned home Monday.

The Baptist Ladies will on November 23 place on sale numerous articles suitable for holiday presents which will not only be valuable but purchasable for small sums. Remember the date, November 23.

The Bapsist Ladies' Aid are arranging to supply to hungry people during fair week. Their ad will appear later. They will have everything on the fair grounds so that the wants of the public may be supplied there.

Miss Mamie Bailey left Monday for Grass Valley, where she will teach school this winter. Her father took her to Redmond, where they had dinner at Livingston's, and a very good dinner it was, so reports the father.

Services at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. Morning theme, "A Lost Boy." Evening (7:30) theme, "Is It Nothing to You?" B. Y. P. U. meets at 6:30, leader, Miss Lota Horgan. A cordial invitation to these services is extended to all.

J. O. Powell will conduct a singing class Saturday at 7:30 p. m. in the Baptist church, to continue this fall and winter. Bro. Powell is a good leader and we expect good results. Services free. Speak to him about it.

N. C. HANKS.
Death comes with a crawl or he comes with a pounce.
And, whether he's slow or speedy,
It isn't the fact that you're dead that counts.
But only, How did you die?

Edmund Vance Cook, author of the lines printed above, tells the brave story of N. C. Hanks.

Hanks lost both hands and both eyes in an accident. That was when he was a miner. Now he is a popular lecturer on Shakespeare and modern writers.

This is the story:
At twenty-one he and his partners leased a claim near Nephi, Utah, and prospected for ore. The claim proved a valuable one. Hanks was as happy as a man could be who has good red blood, a fine financial prospect and a letter from his sweetheart in his pocket.

One day at noon, just after reading his sweetheart's letter, which some one had brought up the hard mountain trail to the lonely cabin, Hanks picked up a box of dynamite caps which had lain in the sun. The slight jar did the rest.

By a miracle he escaped instant death.

He was thrown ten feet away and when he arose both eyes were gone and where his hands had been were bleeding stumps. His partner, looking upon him, screamed and cried like a child. Recovering himself, he got Hanks to the cabin, where he bound his arms tightly above the elbow to stop the bleeding.

It was six miles to a telephone. All that afternoon Hanks lay alone, having as sole companion a little dog.

When help came they got him to a hospital at Provo, where they saved the remnant of him. His sweetheart came to see him, and he released her from their engagement. What woman would want both a cripple and a blind man for a husband?

And then?

Had it been you? N. C. Hanks, cripple and blind, went to work to make a lecturer out of a miner—and succeeded. He makes return dates, which tells the story of his popularity.

And you?
You have two eyes and two hands, and yet you whim because you have no chance? Doesn't the dauntless spirit of N. C. Hanks make you ashamed?

And if you have been unfortunate doesn't the spectacle of Hanks going about, keeping sweet and serene, hearten you some?

Play Festival Attended by 7,000.

Denver had a play festival recently in which 7,000 children took part in dances, gymnastic exercises and organized play. It was made the occasion for family picnics and general recreation, and the total attendance is estimated to have been 65,000.

...The Joy of...

Perfect Vision

THERE is great satisfaction in perfect vision—a joy unspoken, but unfortunately, many eyes are defective.

Imperfect sight can, in nearly all cases, be restored by properly ground lenses; however, there must first be a methodical, scientific examination of each muscle and every part of the eye.

Our best citizens will tell you that my examinations are exhaustive and my work scientific and accurate. Satisfaction always.

The Shadow of the Beef Trust

Is gradually fading away as a menace to the tables of the poor. We'll show you how to "get ahead" of the monopolists. Ours is a joint stock concern and we are not to be "cow-ed" by the heads of trusts. Quality is the first thing we guarantee. If you can beat the wedding of quality and quantity that we give there's something high in the other fellow's prices.
