Shumias Have Double Celebration

Saturday, November 23, was the fourth anniversary of the Shumia Club. It was a gala day for the ladies who are working hard on an unusually stiff literary program this year.
The club was entertained in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. S. Edwards.
The program consisted of stunts by each club member which ranged through the entire field of art, literature, music and frolic. It had been discovered by a happy coincidence that this was the birth day of the president, Mrs. H. P. Belknap, and in celebration of this event Mrs. Brink had written "ren-inscences" and made a collection of old photographs which made a charmingly entertaining biography. The tribute was a complete surprise to the lady honored, as was also the birthday cake with the customary ring, coin and thimble concealed. While Mrs. Belknap cut the cake the hostesses—Mrs. Edwards and Miss Conway—served dainty refreshments. At the usual hour the club adjourned to meet December 7 with Mrs. Millican.

TO THE MAN OF FORTY.

It is the common saying that unless a man has succeeded in life by the time he is forty years of age he never will succeed.
The statement is too broad.
It is untrue.
The facts do not sustain it.
A study of the lives of the successful will show that success comes to most men after rather than before forty. Is it financial success? Who, save by speculation, has amassed a fortune before he was forty?
Or politics? Few get more than fairly started in politics before that age. He who goes to the United States senate at fifty is rated as a young member.
Or merchandise or literature or art or the professions?
Most of us at forty are only just ready for successful endeavor. We have made our mistakes and learned of experience. We have discovered our right place in life and our limitations. Years have matured judgment, and the brain stands guard over the passions.
Life and literature team with illustrations of success at forty, fifty, sixty, seventy, even ninety.
Fortunate is he who is in the way of success at the age of forty; fortunate he who, though unsuccessful, has learned his world and himself and has not lost courage.
Courage—that is the prime thing. No matter what his age, you cannot keep a brave man down. He may stumble and fall and fall again and again. But he will get up.
And some day when he has worked his will concerning himself he will have about him his own charmed circle of accomplishment where "none durst walk but he."
Are you forty—or more?
Hold up your chin and walk on your heels and toes. You are fairly fitted to do what you want to do and become what you want to be. No young man can buy from you your personal experience, whatever he may offer as the price.
At forty you are the son of the God of Things as they are. You have outlived your illusions. You know the ways of your fellows. You know your own ways.
Is it not so?
From the fullness of your experience you are mightily equipped out of defeat to organize victory.
Having overcome yourself, you may overcome the world. For greater is he that ruleth his own spirit than he that taketh a city. There is in you, battered though you be, the power of conquest.
Courage! You are ready to begin.
A Man of Resources.
"What has happened to your right arm, Shudbutt?"
"Nothing."
"Then why, if you don't mind my asking, are you carrying it in a sling?"
"Because Dinross will be here pretty soon, and he'll want me to sign a promissory note with him."—Chicago Tribune.
The Ancient Problem.
"What we want," said the orator, "is a square deal."
"Yes," replied the studios reformer. "And in order to secure that we must do away with the political ring. It is the ancient and very difficult problem of squaring the circle."—Washington Star.
