

LOCAL MENTION.

The Crook County Journal wishes its many readers and friends a Merry Christmas.

The Crook County High School vacation will begin next week. It will close for two weeks.

Messames Charles O'Neil and E. L. Ashby will visit friends in Prineville until after the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey W. Foster left Tuesday to spend the holidays with friends in Portland and Seattle.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid will meet in the church next Friday, Dec. 20, at 2:15 p. m. A full attendance is required.

The basket ball game at Club Hall last evening between the Ochoecians and Alphas resulted in a score of 43-20 in favor of the Alphas.

Rev. Root and wife, who have been holding revival meetings at the Baptist church for the past five weeks, left today for their home in Dayton, Wash.

Redmond has a new paper—The Enterprise. It would seem to a man up a tree that Redmond was pretty well supplied with papers before the advent of the new one.

Dr. Edwards returned Saturday from Portland where he accompanied Mrs. Seth Rodman who underwent an operation for appendicitis. She is getting along nicely.

White & Mackey have opened a feed and sale stable in the Cornett Stage barn on Fourth street, near the electric light plant. They solicit a share of the public patronage.

H. B. Henley and W. W. Richardson of Portland, accompanied by Frank Reader of the Oregon & Western Colonization Co., were in Prineville yesterday.

The Redmond Poultry Show has been postponed until January 15, 16, 17 and 18. Remember the new date. It will afford a fine opportunity to get inside facts on a growing industry in Crook county.

Powell Butte Items

Allen Wilcox returned home from the county seat Friday where he had been serving on the jury for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edwards were business visitors to Redmond Saturday.

Leland Casey and mother were transacting business with Redmond merchants last Thursday.

Geo. Beckman lost a valuable Jersey cow last week, the result of overeating potatoes. This is the second cow to die from the same cause here recently and the fact is indisputable that the potatoes if eaten to excess will bloat and kill as quickly as green alfalfa.

Geo. Morgan is building a bungalow on his farm in the Upper Butte district.

N. P. Allen is doing the carpenter work on the barn being erected on the place recently leased by John S. Kein.

Sam Vaughn, the Prineville sheepman, has established winter quarters for his flock on the A. H. Rohde place.

Our new road supervisor, Geo. Beckman, is doing things these days in the way of making needed repairs on the road and he assures us we will soon have bridges across the ditch crossings. This is a much needed improvement and Mr. Beckman is deserving of much credit in bringing about the change.

A musical club has been organized among the Powell Butte lovers of music. Meetings to be held each Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Gaffraith.

Business looked rushing for Alvin Elliott last Friday a. m., when going to attend his traps he discovered he had caught two large coyotes. This is some trapping for a school boy.

Mrs. E. A. Bussett and family moved to Prineville last week where they have rented rooms and will live for the remainder of the winter

LOCAL MENTION

A. W. Clothier of Wasco was in Prineville today.

Mrs. Marion Powell of Grass Valley is visiting relatives in Prineville.

Jay Christian and family of Roberts have moved to Prineville for the winter.

S. I. Belknap of Frazer City is visiting his brother, Dr. H. P. Belknap of this city.

The ladies of the Annex will entertain at the club rooms the afternoon of New Year's Day.

Can you grow peas? If you even think you can see Jack Summers about it. It means dollars in your pocket.

A large delegation of Prineville Masons visited the Redmond lodge last Friday night. They report a good time.

The children of the Methodist S. S. will render the cantata, "How Santa Claus Explained," Xmas Eve at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Emma Sears, sister of Mark Powell, came up from Grass Valley the first of the week to spend the holidays in Prineville.

There was a light fall of snow Sunday night. About an inch of the beautiful covered the ground. It soon melted, however.

The Terrebonne Co-operative Creamery has commenced making butter. It wants more additions to the membership roll and an increased supply of cream. Both will come in time.

Teachers' examinations this week. At its close Superintendent Ford goes to Salem to attend the county superintendents' convention and Board of Examiners' meeting called by State Superintendent Alderman.

Articles of incorporation of the Central Oregon Title & Trust Co. were filed Monday with County Clerk Brown. Capital stock $5000. Prineville will be the principal place of business. The incorporators are A. R. Bowman, Hewitt Davenport and C. O. Pollard.

In order to allow the young folks the advantages of the excellent schools of that city. Mr. Bussett, however, will remain on the farm the greater share of the time until the new owners become accustomed to the run of affairs. We are indeed sorry to see this family leave our section if only for a short time. John Fengman and Frank Bayn loaded a car of wheat for shipment to Bend last week. Miss Gladys Bayn went to Prineville Monday. She is at home with her sister, Hazel, who is slightly indisposed and made the trip to ascertain the progress made by their classes in school so that they might keep up with their studies during their absence.

A Wheelbarrow Ride for Dick Breese

R. W. Breese had a wheelbarrow ride on Main street yesterday afternoon with C. L. Shattuck doing the propulsion stunt. The ride was the result of an election bet. Mr. Shattuck felt it in his bones that the Citizens' Good Government ticket would all be elected while Mr. Breese had a "hunch" that it wouldn't. The bet was a ride from the Second street corner to the Ochoeco bridge. Breese didn't expect the full measure of the wager. He rode a couple of blocks in the mud and cried enough to the great satisfaction of the motive power.

Not Many Attend Parents Meeting

A meeting for parents and teachers was held last Friday evening at the high school and all who attended found it most helpful and interesting.

Prof. Coe and his teachers had made careful plans for this meeting but were disappointed that more parents did not attend.

Excellent papers were read by Mrs. Belknap, Mrs. Collins Elkins and Mrs. John Wigle. These ladies made many good suggestions for both parents and teachers and made the listeners realize the great importance of co-operation between parents and teachers.

There were interesting discussions after each paper in which all took part. These were led by Prof. Coe, who was most earnest in his desire to help his young people.

Santa Claus at the Oregon Hotel

Mr. Thompson, of the Hotel Oregon and Grill always remembers the little folks at Christmas-time. He says that this year he has made arrangements with Kris Kringle to furnish him with the biggest tree to be found in all the land which will be loaded with good things for the children of Prineville. Santa Claus will be on hand to attend to their wants from 2 to 4 Tuesday, Dec. 24.

Paulina Notes.

Sam Douthit of Paulina will take his departure for Portland next Wednesday. He will remain in the city several days.

Charley Morgan, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Silverton, Oregon, returned Friday. He reports everything prosperous in the Silverton country.

Mr. McKenzie, one of the proprietors of the McKenzie & Gardner sawmill, on Beaver creek, returned Saturday from Terrebonne. He was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Farrel of Terrebonne.

Ed Campbell and wife will leave in a few days for Cottage Grove for a few weeks' visit with Mrs. Campbell's parents of that place.

Mr. Rice, county surveyor, with two viewers, has been in the Beaver creek country the past week surveying for a county road which is to have its beginning at the McKenzie sawmill and runs in a southwest direction to the Burns road. A much needed improvement.

Roy and Loyd Powell from near Prineville have been in the neighborhood for the past week. While here they purchased about twenty head of horses from Wm. Treichel.

The young people of Paulina meet every Friday night in the Paulina hall and spend a very enjoyable time with music, readings, recitations, etc. They have a drawing in view for the near future; announcements later.

L. M. Miller & Co.'s team arrived from Redmond this week with a supply of Christmas goods.

E. E. Laughlin, Chas. Conleton and Louis Throop were business visitors at Paulina this week.

Miss Goldie Telfer, who is teaching a very successful term of school in the Beaver district, arrived in Paulina to lay enroute for Prineville, where she goes to take the teachers' examination.

H. Birdsong, a resident of the Ochoeco country, is very busy at present hauling posts and fencing his desert claim which lies near Paulina.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Messenger of Suplee, accompanied by Herman Winans, formerly of Prineville, were transacting business in Paulina this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen, formerly of Izee, have moved into Paulina and are interested in the Hotel Paulina with Bruce Heisler.
