

OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Events Occurring Throughout the State During the Past Week.

JEWISH COLONY STARTED

Many More Will Follow to Central Oregon at Once.

Portland.—The "advance guard" of some 10 Jewish families left for central Oregon, where already land claims have been filed upon and where they will begin farming. This party will be the first of probably 50 families which will move into central Oregon within the next few years.

The claims upon which these people will settle are between Bend and Burns, Or. They will immediately begin building homes and soon work will be started in getting the soil in readiness for planting.

The Hebrew Agricultural society of Oregon is backing the movement, which already is extending over the entire country. This organization has the united support of all the Jewish societies in the state. Its purpose is to find homes for the Jew immigrants where the people may become farmers and be educated so as to become useful citizens.

Great Oxbow Tunnel Nearly Ready.

Huntington.—Considerable activity is being shown at the Oxbow project of the Idaho-Oregon Light & Power company. Between 20 and 30 carloads of material have been sent to the site through this point during the past two weeks. Great turbine wheels, immense steel tubing, and other material indicate that work is finally under way to finish this immense and costly work, which means that Snake river is to be lifted clear from its bed and turned into a tunnel cut clear through the mountain side. The river runs in its natural channel some seven or eight miles around the base of the mountain; the engineers, however, have cut a tunnel clear through the mountain, a distance of three-quarters of a mile only, from side to side, and through this narrow, short tunnel the whole of the water of the Snake is to flow, creating a power that will be almost immeasurable when the river is at flood.

TIMBER CASES DROPPED

Last of the Government Timber Cases Dismissed on Advice.

Portland.—The government wound up the last of the famous Oregon timber cases, in which Senator Mitchell, John H. Hall and others were indicted for alleged land fraud. United States Attorney John McCourt moved, on advice from the United States attorney general, that the cases against Winlock W. Strelwer, Hamilton H. Hendricks, Clarence B. Zachary, Adelbert C. Zachary, Charles A. Watson, Clyde E. Glass, Binger Hermann, John H. Hall, Edwin Mays, Franklin P. Mays, Clark E. Loomis and Edward D. Stratford be dismissed.

In advices from Washington, that caused Mr. McCourt to take the action, mentioned, it was stated that this was one of the cases formerly in charge of Special District Attorney Francis J. Heney, who conducted the Mitchell trial. John H. Hall was granted a full pardon by President Taft December 19.

Will Operate Co-operative Cannery.

Grants Pass.—The Grants Pass cannery, which has not been operated for the past four years, is to be opened again this season through the efforts of members of the grange. The cannery was first built and operated one season by a stock company, but later the establishment passed into the hands of the First National bank, since which time its doors have been closed.

A cooperative company is now being organized, however, stock to be taken by grange members, and a competent cannery man will be put in charge. The plant is one of the most complete in western Oregon, being equipped for both canning and preserving all kinds of fruits and vegetables, as well as having a vinegar factory and spray factory in connection.

Artisans Form Community.

Marshfield.—The Progressive Co-operative Producers is the name of a new organization which has been organized for the purpose of establishing a settlement which will be different from most anything else in the state. There are now 20 members in the organization but 100 members are desired. The purpose is to start a settlement which will be operated along a mutual benefit line.

The society members will take up land in the Loom lake district between Coos bay and Seaside and they will not only till the soil, but will also carry on manufacturing pursuits. The men who have joined are most all skilled mechanics or carpenters.

One of the important land deals of the past week was the sale of the 3000-acre wheat farm lying on Rock creek in Gilliam county, the consideration being approximately $60,000. The farm was purchased from S. E. Buggs, of Rathdrum, Idaho, by B. Paulsen of Linnton.

They will ship to Hugh McGuyer and associates and will put a large force of men to felling the timber at once. They expect to finish the work inside of four months.

The city of Grants Pass is considering the erection of a library to cost $12,500. The proposition comes from the Carnegie Library corporation of New York. It is probable that an amendment will be made to the charter and the people given an opportunity to express themselves on the subject at the polls.

The office of the Elmira Lumber company in Eugene was broken into and the safe blown up. The men secured $30 in cash and left several hundred dollars in checks strewn over the floor. The outer door of the safe had been left unlocked and the burglars blew out the inner door with nitroglycerine, making a pocket of chewing gum.

That an incendiary attempted to burn the $4000 schoolhouse recently completed in school district 21, across the North Santiam river from the town of Gates, was the report received by Linn county officers. Fires were set in both the new schoolhouse and the old one, which stood beside it. The old building was seriously damaged, but the fire was extinguished in the new structure without great loss.

Princeton, N. J.—Thousands of the home folk of Princeton and with them the students of Princeton University, gave Woodrow Wilson a farewell demonstration as they bade him god-speed to the white house.

It was a unique tribute to the man who, after 27 years of residence in the historic town, had been elevated to the presidency of the United States, in that both students and townsfolk joined in cheering him.

A brass band, a glare of fireworks, and continuous cheering brought the president-elect to the door of his bungalow. The streets were muddy, but the marchers trudged merrily along. When they reached the Wilson home a great cheer went up. C. S. Robinson, a Republican, and A. S. Leigh, a Democrat, bore a silver loving cup. Colonel David M. Flinn presented it in a brief speech.

Four American army officers, walking on the American line three miles from Douglas were fired on by 60 regular Mexican soldiers patrolling the border out of Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas. Sixteen of the negro troopers of the Ninth rushed to the place of the firing, and a spirited skirmish ensued.
