

COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE

Paulina Notes.

Eva Powell is very sick with pneumonia. Dr. Hay of John Day is in attendance.

Mr. Eddon and son of Arlington were in the neighborhood buying cattle this week. They bought about 300 head for future delivery.

Marion Morgan and family were in Paulina this week. They were returning from a visit with Mrs. Morgan's parents.

There was a good attendance at church Sunday. Mr. Ross will hold services again in three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Clark of Suplee were in Paulina Friday with a load of ranch produce, such as eggs, cabbage, etc.

Robt. McCullough came over from John Day Friday.

L. E. Throop came up from Prineville Sunday. He visited Portland while away.

Silvia Miller of Suplee was a visitor in Paulina Friday.

Edward B. Clark has taken a contract to paper the new house of A. G. Scoggin.

C. E. Blundell returned from Prineville Friday. He passed a successful teacher's examination and will teach in the Suplee district, beginning next Monday.

Mrs. Thomas E. Gardner made a business trip to Prineville this week. She will be away about two weeks.

A. J. Washburn and wife returned Friday from a ten days' visit to outside points.

There have been several real estate sales in our neighborhood recently. Land is bringing good prices.

E. E. Laughlin came up from The Dalles Tuesday. He reports weather conditions there much the same as in Crook.

W. C. Congleton has been sick with a gripe this week. At present writing he is much improved.

Dan Follette, who has been in Paulina the past month, took his departure Wednesday for his home in Lebanon.

Roberts.

March 2.—The pupils of School District 38 had an entertainment in the school house, February 21st. There were quite a few people present and all seemed to have a pleasant time. The entertainment consisted of speaking, dialogues, singing, and phonograph selections. After the entertainment came a basket social. Lloyd Baker auctioned off the baskets. The highest price paid for a basket was $7.50. This basket was made by one of the fourth grade pupils who deserves much praise for her efforts. The school netted $35 from the sale that is to be used in buying needed articles. All the scholars deserve the highest commendation for their work as they all labored earnestly and hard. To those outside of the school who lent their assistance, we extend a vote of thanks. Perhaps we will have another entertainment for you some time later.

Ed Gould took a trip to Bend last week and spent Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. Paul.

Ed Parker started to Prineville on Saturday evening. He expects to complete his business and return by the last of the week.

H. Bunn purchased a pair of horses last week from Jim Cram. Mr. Bunn expects to use them this summer on his ranch. Both animals are well broke saddle horses as well as work horses.

Ira Wirtz has been working for W. Eldridge the past two weeks. As soon as the weather gets better Mr. Wirtz will complete his job.

Barnes.

March 3.—Not having seen any items from this place for some time will submit the following:

It looks now as if spring was with us this time to stay.

J. H. Sands and family moved back on their homestead some time ago.

L. S. Logan and wife of Portland are with us again.

Grandma Bennett and son, Lew, have been having a siege of la grippe but are improving.

Born—March 1, to the wife of C. A. Stevenson, a daughter.

Born—February 27, to the wife of Harley Saunders, a daughter.

There have been preaching services at the Pringle Flat schoolhouse during the fore part of the week. A good attendance is reported.

Bye Bennett returned from his winter's outing in California a short

Powell Butte.

Mrs. Frank Kissler and children came out Thursday for a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kissler.

Mrs. Allen Wilcox and little daughter visited friends at Deschutes Saturday, returning home Sunday.

Ross Bussett was sufficiently recovered from a recent sickness to be able to return home from Prineville Saturday.

Miss Helen Peery left for her home in Portland Saturday where after visiting a short time with relatives. She will go on to Monmouth to complete her school work. Miss Peery is specializing in primary work.

Rev. Crenshaw of Redmond visited Friday at the Geo. Kissler home.

Mrs. Earl Forrest assumed her duties as teacher at the Shepard school Monday. Mrs. Forrest has excellent recommendations and will, no doubt, give entire satisfaction.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Froebe of Redmond were visitors in this section Monday. Mr. Froebe was buying up fat stock to be used in the Redmond meat market.

Miss Helen Peery delightfully entertained the scholars of her school and a few friends at the Geo. Beckman home Friday evening. Games and music were indulged in and all joined in eating their share of the nuts and candies provided by the hostess. All express themselves as having a dandy good time.

Friday morning bright and early found a party of neighbors starting on a search for John Casey who it was reported was missing since the Sunday preceding when he was last seen at Prineville. The joke was on the searchers, however, when one of the party found Casey in his shack cooking breakfast.

L. W. Van Doren was given a surprise Thursday evening. After a game of "500" the ladies proceeded to serve delicious refreshments which consisted of pressed chicken sandwiches, shrimp salad and sherbert.

Mrs. Young of Redmond came out Monday to be at the bedside of Mr. Foster.

Mrs. E. A. Bussett of Prineville came out Monday to visit Mr. Bussett and attend the Foster interment.

Mrs. J. Bider of Oregon City came in Monday to be at the bedside of her brother, C. H. Foster, but arrived too late to see him in life. Grant Critser and wife of Oregon City, brother of Mrs. Foster, were arrivals on the same train.

time ago. He reports having had a good time while away but is glad to get back again.

There was a surprise dance at the home of Harry Barnes February 28. There was quite a number present. Dancing was kept up until a late hour. Everyone reports a very enjoyable time. Miss Ruth Langford of the Dry Lake district made her debut into the Barnes society on this occasion. We all hope that she may favor us with her presence on future occasions.

The Barnes High School gave a wild west exhibition one evening last week, second only to Pendleton. But Sun Fish Mollie, rather than the school, carried off the honors this time, or in other words, Mollie didn't carry off anything except her halter. How about it, girls.

Quite a number from this place expect to attend the dance at Imperial next Friday night.

Johnny Mosier is feeding a bunch of horses for W. W. Brown at the Price place.

Miss Camille Whitaker expects to return to her old home at Omaha, Nebraska, soon.

The oldest pupil of the Barnes High School, having been late every morning for the last month on account of not having the correct time, has been promised a watch, but has failed to receive it.

Elva Wilhoit of Prineville will be thankful for subscribers or renewals to Pacific Homestead or Northwest Poultry Journal or votes from papers during Pacific Homestead's pony contest. 2-27-1

Shooting Scrape at Sisters Monday

There was a shooting scrape at Sisters Monday. A man by the name of Brown started to clean out the bunk house at the Black Butte ranch and got into trouble with Jack Kitching. Brown was more or less under the influence of liquor when he started the trouble. He followed Kitching outside the house, it is stated, and this is where the shooting was done. Kitching shot the man twice—once in the mouth and again in the forehead. It is said Brown will recover.

Lots of Settlers Coming to Oregon

L. W. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern board of directors, is more interested in populating the vacant agricultural lands of Oregon than he is in building railroads.

Mr. Hill was in Portland all yesterday. Today he is going to take a trip over the Oregon Electric to Eugene and back and may visit the legislature at Salem, says the Oregonian. Some of the legislators have been urging Mr. Hill to address them today.

Plans of bringing settlers to Oregon received his serious consideration yesterday. He talked the subject over with W. P. Davidson, president of the Oregon & Western Colonization Company with whom he is interested. The company acquired 800,000 acres of the original military wagon road grant in 1911 and since then have been organizing their agencies throughout the country with the intention of disposing of the agricultural acreage at low prices. They have land in this tract that they can sell as low as $5 an acre.

"Our inquiries show that the Eastern farmers are greatly interested in Oregon," said Mr. Hill. "I think inquiries here indicate, too, that there will be a good, heavy movement to the unsettled parts of the state this year." He conferred also with J. H. Young, president of the local Hill lines.

Mr. Hill hopes this year to bring a large party of newspaper men to Oregon and conduct them on a tour of the state. He had such an intention in mind last year but the big political conventions interfered with his plans.

The objective point will be Bill Hanley's ranch in Harney county. Mr. Hanley was in town yesterday and renewed his invitation extended to the newspaper men of the East when he was a member of the Western governors' party that visited the Eastern cities over a year ago.

Mr. Hill was greatly pleased yesterday when he learned that Franklin K. Lane had been appointed Secretary of the Interior in President Wilson's cabinet.

He denied knowledge of the reputed intention of the Hill interests to form an agreement with the Western Pacific to build a connecting link between the properties of the two roads in Oregon and California respectively, giving the Gould system entrance to Portland and the Hills their long-sought entrance to San Francisco.

In commenting on the excellent showing made by the Great Northern in its report of business for the last six months of 1912, which testified to heavily increased earnings, he said:

"Why shouldn't we be doing good business? We serve the best part of the country. Our territory is prosperous. Portland, I am glad to say, contributed handsomely to the big volume of business we handled last year."

He also called attention to the fact that the Great Northern's earnings have grown gradually since Carl R. Gray left the presidency of the North Bank road in Portland last May to become president of the Great Northern. Mr. Hill and his family will leave tonight for California.
