

OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Events Occurring Throughout the State During the Past Week.

How Alien Woman Can Be Citizen
Salem.—Relying upon that principle of law which says the civil status of a husband shall determine the civil status of his wife, Attorney-General Crawford rendered an opinion that the alien wife of an alien husband who had declared his intention to become a citizen, may either make herself eligible to vote by declaring her intention of becoming a citizen, or she can let the law take its course and let the declaration of her husband be considered as her own declaration.

TO RECONSIDER LAND CASES

General Land Office Agrees to Reopen Applications Under Isolated Law
Washington.—On request of Representative Sinnott, the general land office has agreed to take up, on motion for reconsideration, various applications for the purchase of land in Wal-lawa county, under the isolated tract law. There are many of these cases which were rejected on technicalities. Carl Roe, who has been United States commissioner at Enterprise for a number of years, has addressed Congress-man Sinnott on this subject at considerable length. He says that during the past year or so he has been called upon to make out a large number of applications for the sale of land under the isolated tract law, which provides that the land, "a greater part of which is too mountainous for cultivation," may be ordered into market upon the application of a person who owns land or holds a valid entry of land adjoining. This law was signed by the president March 28, 1912.

Oregon Teachers Serve New England
Salem.—The Oregon teachers will be given an opportunity during the coming school year to teach and study life in Massachusetts, and teachers of that state will have the opportunity to teach in this state, for State Superintendent Alderman, while in the east, made an arrangement with the City Superintendent of Brockton for an exchange of teachers for a year. Superintendent Alderman intends to take the plan up with other schools, and believes that he will be successful and that it will operate greatly to the benefit of the both states. The salaries paid teachers in the two states are about the same, and the understanding would be that the positions of the teachers in their home states would be kept open for their return after a year's absence.

OREGON SENATORS BUSY

Patronage is Occupying Much Time; Both Want General Legislation
Washington.—Just how much general legislation will be allowed at the special session is a matter which is interesting Senator Chamberlain and the whole Oregon delegation. There are a good many things that are of interest to Oregon, and the senators as well as the representatives from Oregon would like to see them brought up and, if possible, pushed through. The disposition of patronage is taking up much time of Senators Chamberlain and Lane, but they have the questions of rivers and harbors work, reclamation, land matters, public buildings and so forth constantly forced on their attention. Chamberlain is very anxious to see work pushed on the Portland postoffice, and so many applications are being received from Portland and other architects for permission to compete for the plans that he is quite hopeful that the building will be a product of Oregon talent.

State Mine Bureau Chosen by West
Salem.—Governor West announced the names of the men he will appoint as members of the bureau of mines and geology, created by an act of the last legislature. They are N. H. Lawrie of Portland, secretary of the American Mining congress and an alumnus of the school of mines, New York; W. C. Fellows of Granite, superintendent of the Ben Harrison Mines company of that city and an alumnus of the Colorado school of mines; T. S. Mann of Portland, with the Pacific Stoneware company; Dr. J. F. Reddy of Medford, a mine owner; C. T. Prall of Portland, an engineer and good roads advocate. In addition the presidents of the University of Oregon and of the Oregon Agricultural College are ex officio members.

Eastern Oregon In Fear of Big Floods
Pendleton.—The cities and towns of eastern Oregon and Washington are preparing for the worst floods in the history of this section. The oldest inhabitants declare the snow to be deeper than ever known before on the Blue Mountains, which shed into the John Day, Deschutes, Umatilla, and Walla Walla rivers, these in turn emptying direct into the Columbia river.

OHIO DEATH LIST GROWING

Number Placed at 471 With Debris Yielding Other Bodies.
Columbus, O.—Best obtainable information places Ohio's flood death list at 471. As the flooded rivers recede the death list gradually grows, bodies being picked out of the debris and found in the lowlands. Ultra-conservative estimates place the number of dead in this state at not more than 500. The largest increase in the death list was at Hamilton. Colonel Zimmerman, in charge of the militia there, reported to the adjutant-general's office in this city that 91 bodies had been recovered. Previous information from Hamilton stated only 50 persons had lost their lives. Latest estimates place the death list in Dayton, where the flood was worst, at less than 200. Fifty are reported dead at Piqua, Ohio, and at least 100 at Columbus, 25 in Troy, 30 in Middletown, 5 in Massillon, and 25 in Chillicothe. There were also 10 deaths in Sharon, Pa.

TURKISH TROOPS WIN BATTLE

Constantinople.—The Bulgarians left 1000 dead on the field after the engagement west of Biyuk Chekmedye, according to an official report. The Turks also found 400 rifles and large quantities of trenching tools.

The Bulgarians hurled 20,000 men against the Turkish advanced position, and in the darkness carried it with the bayonet, the Turks retiring on their main position. At daylight the Turks bombarded the captured position and prevented the Bulgarians from entrenching. Subsequently the Turks delivered a counter attack, 6000 infantry storming the position with the bayonet.

The Turks flung themselves on the Bulgarians and a desperate bayonet fight ensued. The Bulgarians were driven down the slope on the opposite side.

The fall of Adrianople has caused a feeling of deepest dejection in all sections, which has tended to increase the unpopularity of the government.

A message from the British vice-consul at Adrianople says that all the consuls and foreign communities are safe and well. His report says that the Bulgarians took only 15,000 prisoners, the rest of the garrison being in hiding.

Mob Kills Robber That Slew Banker

Barnes, Kan.—Robert I. Brown, a cashier of the Barnes State Bank, was shot and killed by a man who had robbed the institution. Later a posse of citizens shot the robber to death as he was trying to escape from town with a bag of gold. Brown met death when, instead of obeying the order to throw up his hands, he grabbed a revolver and fired at the robber.

Meal Refused to Negro Clubwomen

Chicago.—The annual luncheon of the League of Cook County Women's Clubs was prevented here when the hotel in which the luncheon was to be served excluded six negro women who represented the negro women's club.

BRIEF NEWS OF OREGON

The state board has reappointed A. H. Craven as a member of the state horticulture board.

Hugh Reeves of Jefferson fell from the new telephone building and striking on his head sustained injuries from which he died.

A. Churchill, for 20 years superintendent of the city schools of Baker, was appointed by Governor West to succeed L. R. Alderman as state superintendent of schools.

John Davis, an employe of the Union Champion mine at Cornucopia, lost his life in a snowslide. He had been buried several hours and was dead when rescuers reached him.

Wallace Farrow, a half blood Indian went to sleep beside the railroad track in the Pendleton yards and was fatally hurt. He was taken to the hospital, but died, his skull having been fractured.

Involuntary manslaughter has been charged against Fred Reed, the driver of the automobile which turned over and killed L. K. Ballinger and badly injured W. R. Haines, two of the occupants, at Marshfield.

W. W. Francis, treasurer of Linn county, paid into the treasury the sum of five cents, this being the amount he was short when the experting of his books was recently completed by F. M. Redfield, an accountant.

Thomas Murray, a ranch hand, is in the county jail at Burns, charged with robbing the postoffice at Alberson, a small town near Juniper Lake, east of Steip's Mountain, of which William Johnston, his employer, is postmaster.

E. H. David, aged 82 years, was drowned in two feet of water on Glenda side, while crossing Siuslaw river side, while crossing Siuslaw river. His boat was seen floating in shallow water near the shore. The body was found near in the rough water.

Loaded with 100,738 feet of finishing lumber valued at $14,000, what is declared to be one of the largest carloads of lumber ever shipped from a mill in Oregon, left the plant of the Falls City Lumber company. The load was consigned to Kansas parties.

Robert Schiebe, alias John Kline, who has been in jail at Burns for two months, charged with the murder of a trapper and the burning of a barn and horses belonging to A. C. Vollmer, is showing signs of homicidal insanity and threatens particularly to kill a fellow prisoner.

Charles Johnson, a rancher living near Cloverdale, attempted suicide, but was stopped by neighboring ranchers just as he was about to jump from a stove in his cabin, having tied a rope to the bottom of his cabin and carried it over a rafter and placed the noose over his head.

By the provisions of the millage tax law passed by the last legislature for the support of county fairs there will be available this year for the various counties, $44,532.21. The law provides that any county that does not hold a county fair may use its proportion of the fund for building roads.

Laura Alexander, an allottee on the Umatilla reservation, is being held to the grand jury an answer a charge of having obtained a big sum of money from J. M. Bannister, a prominent Athena farmer, through a bogus lease to her land. It is alleged she had already leased the land to another.

H. Brown and H. Bruno, two foreign laborers, were drowned in the pond at the Elmira Lumber company's sawmill at the Notl tunnel on the line of the Eugene-Cooos Bay railway. The men were walking on logs in the pond. One log turned suddenly and precipitated them into the water and beneath a number of other logs.

On the old Ferdel Sutherland donation land claim are pear trees that were brought from Champeog in 1852 by Mr. Sutherland, a pioneer of 1851. The trees have not missed a year of bearing since 1855, the first year they bore fruit. They never were pruned, cultivated nor sprayed until last year. The quality and yield have compared with the best.

A battle took place with knives between Ed Spence, son of Dr. Spence, and George Gates, of Kerby, over putting the ban of the turkey trot and bunny hug at the dance held there. Spence is in a serious condition, being cut in 11 places, the most serious being a cut on his neck, where a gash three inches long grazed the jugular vein. Gates was not seriously hurt.

Arthur McPherson, a wealthy rancher living seven miles west of Malheur, was bitten on the hand by a calf while feeding stock. Thinking nothing of it he returned to where they were packing ice, and while employed met with a more severe accident, having had his arm crushed between large cakes of ice. He was taken to the hospital at Baker, where he died with blood poison.

S. Benson, millionaire lumberman and owner of the Oregon hotel in Portland, who has been staying in Long Beach, Cal., for the winter, will endeavor to procure legislation by congress prohibiting the manufacture of whiskey in the United States. Mr. Benson has set aside $50,000 to further the project, and his attorney is now drafting a bill that Mr. Benson wishes to have passed at Washington.

It takes five different aged whiskies to make Cyrus Noble--each one good in itself. But it takes blending and re-ageing to bring out the best in each--to "round-out" the flavor.

Why punish yourself with rough, high-proof, strong whiskey when you can get Cyrus Noble everywhere?
