Crop Prospects in Central Oregon Good

William McMurray, general passenger agent, and H. E. Lounsbury, general freight agent of the O. W. R. & N. Company, returned last night from an extended tour of central Oregon. Both are very optimistic of the crop prospects for the coming season.

"The people of central Oregon are enthusiastic," said Mr. McMurray, "for the prospects for good crops are excellent at this time. New settlers are coming in and the country is developing. Weather conditions have been fine this winter for the crops for there will be an abundance of moisture in the ground in the dry farming sections. Naturally the people are much pleased with the construction of the Oregon Eastern line by the O. W. R. & N. company, for it will mean the opening up of large areas of fertile land and give much desired transportation facilities.

There was a dance at Lamonta last Saturday evening and quite a number were present. Every one reported a good time.

Mrs. Joe Weigand is among the illing this week.

Miss Ethel Cox left Sunday for Indras, where she is staying.

Miss Antonio Landt has gone to her home in Southern Oregon.

Artesian Water Hard to Find

Messrs. Wagoner and Griffith of the Central Oregon Well Company, have finished their work at the Hoelscher place. They went down 252 feet but did not strike the Slayton artesian flow. They struck a good surface flow at 160 feet but the pressure was not strong enough to deliver water for domestic use in the house. Mr. Griffith thought that if the present dry hard formation could be pierced an artesian flow would be secured but the depth of the formation was the uncertain quantity that stopped further drilling. The water secured is colder than that of the Slayton well and is therefore thought to be of a different water strata.

Potatoes Fed Raw or Steamed--Fatten Pigs

An experiment to test the feeding value of raw or steamed potatoes as supplementary feed with a grain ration, has been carried on by Robt. Withcombe at the Eastern Oregon Experiment Station with interesting results which will be of special value this year on account of the superabundant potato crop.

The hogs in the experiment were divided into eight lots, and records of the different feed rations given each and the proportionate gain made were kept carefully. Each hog in lots 1 and 2 ate an average of 170, 18 lbs. of barley and 509.53 lbs. of raw potatoes, making a gain in weight of 60.60 lbs. Those in lots 3 and 4 ate 110.30 lbs. barley and 664.75 lbs. steamed potatoes and made a gain of 70.50 lbs., while those in lots 5 and 6 ate 188.60 lbs. barley and 564.80 lbs. steamed potatoes and made a gain of 78.10 lbs. Lots 7 and 8 ate 300.10 lbs. barley without the potatoes and made a gain of 69.5 lbs.

The last two lots, fed barley alone, were used as a check on the others to show more definitely the proportionate value of the potatoes. At the present market values of $0.07 a pound live weight, the hog fed barley made a $4.87 gain, which makes the barley feeding value $1.62 to the hundred.

Lots 1 and 2, fed barley and raw potatoes at the rate of 3 lbs. of potatoes to 1 lb. of barley, made a $4.25 gain, which gives the raw potatoes a feeding value of $2.9 to the hundred. Lots 3 and 4, receiving six times as much steamed potatoes as barley, made a $4.94 gain, giving the steamed potatoes a feeding value of $4.7 to the hundred. Lots 5 and 6, fed 3 times as much steamed potatoes as barley, made a $5.47 gain, making the feeding value of the potatoes $4.2 to the hundred.

It is noticeable that those fed six times as much potatoes as grain did not make quite the gain made by the others, but it required 85.25 lbs. less barley to make this gain, so the difference in feeding value is accounted for.

It is also noteworthy that the steamed potatoes are worth $1.13 more to the hundred than the raw for feeding, as shown in the comparison of the gains of animals fed the 3 to 1 ration.
