

Chalmers

The Inviting Chalmers "Thirty-Six"

Inviting because it simply appears good and right. Some houses are that way—the ones you know are right, without knowing just why.

The wide door invites you to step in, the deep cushions to sit down, the big steering wheel to drive.

Just keep your seat—don't get out in the street again. The control of this car is centered on the cowed dash.

Push a button and the Chalmers cranks itself. Chalmers air pressure starter does it—best starter made because simplest, most economical, quickest acting, most reliable under all conditions.

Chalmers was the first car to have a dependable starter. Chalmers "Thirty Six" gave a trade name to the year 1912. That year goes down in automobile history as "Self-Starter year." Chalmers cars set the fashions.

Just move a lever and the carburetor is adjusted.

Turn a switch and the electric lights are on.

The levers and pedals and wheel are just where you want them. In fact, all the "controls" of the Chalmers are right to your hand—most of them artistically grouped on the stylishly cowed dash.

And, by the way, that's another big automobile improvement the Chalmers had first—the cowed dash. Compare this one feature with the same on other cars—see if the Chalmers isn't better done.

Rims are demountable. Tires may be inflated from the compressed air tank—no pumping. Others ask you to pay extra for this feature.

In view of all these good points, a Chalmers "Thirty-Six" is particularly inviting because of its price—only $ 950 (f. o. b. Detroit) for a fully equipped up-to-the-minute motor car of A-1. goodness. Always on view at our show rooms.

Chalmers the Acme of Car Construction

Embodying distinctive features that appeal directly to both the uninitiated and the motorwise, the 1913 line of Chalmers cars represent the acme of car construction and the result of years of development. A single glance at the handiwork of the automobile designers shows the wonderful progress that has been made in the building of touring cars. One can see the careful thought, the expert design and the fine work that is put into an automobile of late make.

There are several features about the Chalmers that are both interesting and attractive. First, the car is completely controlled from the dash. This car was the first to come equipped with a self-starter. And, unlike numerous others, its self-starter was not a complicated work of an electrical engineer. Simple, safe and reliable, the compressed air starter on the Chalmers starts the motor without any undue noise and with unusual quickness. So few people understand how a self-starter works that it is opportune to explain. Instead of being complicated, the compressed air device is very simple. Air is stored in a tank, from which it is taken to each cylinder direct by a small pipe. This tank is kept supplied by a Kellogg pump, which is controlled automatically from the dash. This pump can also be used to inflate tires, a convenience that no one can appreciate unless he has been forced to pump up a tube and casing on a dusty road while a torrid sun streams down its torture.

Having started the motor from the dash, the carburetor adjusted by a device within easy reach of the driver. Electric lights are controlled from the seat. In fact, everything about the car is controlled from the driver's throne. Beautiful body lines, deep luxurious upholstery and many little conveniences are not all that go to make up the high grade automobile of today. The engine—the heart of the automobile—must be perfect. The transmission, the axles, the crank case—all are vital parts of the motor car. Unless they are designed properly and expert workmanship and fine material put into them, the pretty body, the soft cushions, the electric lights and starter all go for naught. So, in selecting an automobile, one should give ample attention to its mechanical features. A combination of these essentials, as found in the Chalmers line, is what the motor car buyer wants.

Alkali Flat School Notes

To the editor of the Crook County Journal:

A seven-months' term of school was finished at Alkali Flat on April 18. A pleasing program was presented by the children. A play was given called "Educational Ghosts" in which the children were dressed to represent the ghosts of old-time historical characters. Miss Baker of Post who has taught the school in this district for the past two years has made an effort to improve the children in spelling. The following deserve special mention for having done good work: Frank Houston, Edgar Parry, Sumner Houston, Erma Parry, Tressie Houston, Van Houston, Lawrence Burmeister, Esther Burmeister, Olive De Armond, Edith Bushnell, Oliver Hooven and Gordon Warner.

Hampton Notes.

April 22, 1913.

All farmers are busy seeding in this section. Some of the fall-sown rye was winter killed and many are reseeded.

W. T. Harrison just completed fencing his 320-acre homestead.

On the first of April Hampton postoffice was made a money order office which has already proved of great benefit to the settlers.

Many of those who had five months leave of absence through the winter months are returning to their homesteads. Among those recently returned are Messrs. Phillips, Drogsvold and Zeroff.

There has been much sickness in this neighborhood. In addition to the severe round of sore throats and colds which few have escaped Mrs. Louis Miller is in the hospital at Salem in a serious condition, and E. M. Peck has spent two weeks in the Vale hospital, at which place he has had a position with the railroad since leaving here in February.

Mrs. Ring and small sons of Portland arrived here Saturday to join Mr. Ring, who has been here for several weeks building, etc.

Many are clearing and breaking new land. Among those now busy are Messrs. Hogue, Crow, Fogg, Hunting and Miller.

Many new settlers are arriving each week, some filling, others taking up residence.

James Brown and family of Kansas filed recently on a piece adjoining his father-in-law. Mr. Brickly, and is at work on his place.

Arthur Hunting, principal of the high school at Rathdrum, Idaho, filed here Monday and will take up residence in July. Mr. Sperbeck of Genesee also filed and will return in the early summer.

Bids for Wood Wanted.

150 cords of 4-foot yellow pine, all body wood; corded 12 feet high. Must be all delivered by Nov. 30, at Hotel Prineville. Bids will be opened May 15th. I reserve the right to reject any or all bids. Mrs. C. E. McDowell

Powell Butte.

Rubin Phillips was working for Reeves Wilcoxen last week.

J. Andrew Miller left for Denmark last Tuesday. Mrs. Miller and the children will follow him as soon as they dispose of their homestead.

Mrs. Oscar Prickett returned last week from an extended visit with relatives in Colorado.

Dennis Heath took a load of grain to Prineville Thursday.

Mrs. A. W. Bayn returned Thursday from a three-weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Portland. She was accompanied by Frank Bayn who after a few days' visit left Sunday for Portland overland.

Mrs. Anna Boetger of Redmond is visiting with her brother, Geo. Kissler, and family this week.

Louis Claybough is working for N. P. Alley on the farm now-a-days.

H. W. Landfare of Portland left for his home at that place Saturday after a brief visit with his brother, Allan Landfare, and family.

Misses Mildred and Edna Alley went to Redmond Saturday for a few days' visit with Miss Ada Sears.

J. C. Farnham is calling on our people this week in the capacity of deputy assessor. Mr. Farnham says it is wonderful how stock and implements depreciate in value about this time of year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilcox of Redmond were Powell Butte sightseers Sunday.

J. A. Riggs and Joe Elliott went to Prineville Friday to act as witnesses for John Wolkner who made final proof on his homestead that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Bend visited friends in this section Saturday.

Guy Sears, the Powell Butte mail carrier, has sold his home in Redmond to John Kissler. The mail contract goes with the deal and Mr. Kissler will commence delivering the mail about May 1st.

C. M. Charlton returned from Albany Saturday where he was called to his father's bedside. Mr.

Charlton Sr., has many friends in this vicinity who will regret to hear of his illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shearer went to Bend Saturday to visit Mrs. Shearer's parents for a short time.

H. E. Whitman, the Redmond jeweler, visited Sunday at the Allen Wilcoxen home.

John Stedl and family of Bend visited Sunday with Mrs. Stedl's brother, Henry Tweet, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold and son, Everett, of Bend visited friends and relatives in this section the latter part of last week. The Arnolds are pioneers of Powell Butte but sold their interests here some time ago and moved to Portland. Not being satisfied there they sold and made a trip to California with the intention of locating, but Central Oregon had impressed them too strongly for its ideal climate and other advantages, so they have returned to take up their residence here again. Their many friends are happy at their latest decision.

Religious services were held at Shepard schoolhouse Sunday, both morning and evening. A large crowd attended both services. A Sunday school was organized. J. L. Foster was chosen Superintendent, while E. L. Johnson will act as assistant and Mrs. John Warner was chosen for secretary and treasurer. The time of meeting will be 2 p. m.

Mrs. G. C. Truesdale and Mrs. S. D. Mustard were Prineville visitors Friday.

A large crowd of ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. N. P. Alley Wednesday, that being the second meeting of the ladies club organized here recently. After considerable balloting the ladies decided to call their club the "Powell Butte Sorosis" that name receiving more favorable votes than any other suggested. At the close of a most enjoyable afternoon the hostess served refreshments, consisting of cheese sandwiches, chicken salad, olives, assorted cakes and coffee. The next meeting of the Sorosis will be with Miss Mabel Allen May 7th, at which time roll call will be answered by reciting current events.

Willie and Otto Pauls, sons of Mr. and Mrs. P. Pauls, who moved here recently from Nebraska and bought the Frank Bayn farm, had the experience of their lives last week when they discovered and killed eight young coyotes. The boys found the coyote home while the mother coyote was in and were frightened away by her savage growls. They hurried home to tell their parents and get them to accompany them back but the elder Pauls thought it merely a "coyote story" and refused to be made sport of. Finally, however, they consented to be convinced and all went back to the den armed for the encounter. In the meantime the mother coyote "smelled a mouse" and made her escape, leaving the eight young an easy prey to the Pauls family. At the present bounty offered for these varmints the boys will be well paid for their work.

Paulina Notes

Elder C. P. Bailey of Prineville, has been conducting a series of meetings in Paulina. There was a good attendance and much interest manifested.

The Hotel Paulina has changed hands again. It is now under the management of L. E. Morgan. Mrs. Morgan and children came up from Albany this week.

J. J. Angel was in Paulina Saturday night. He is driving two carloads of beef cattle from Ize to the railroad.

Mr. Summerfield, who has taken up a homestead near here, has been very sick for some time. His family came in from Chehalis, Washington, this week.

Mr. Price of Barnes, is making arrangements to put in a new store at Paulina. He will handle dry goods and men's furnishings exclusively.

The wedding bells have been ringing in Paulina again. On Thursday, April 17th, Laura, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Luelling, was united in marriage to Homer York. Elder C. P. Bailey, of Prineville, performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few friends. A sumptuous dinner was served. The bride was attired in white satin draped with chiffon, and elegant bridal veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations. The room looked very pretty, decorated in white festoons and white wedding bells. Both the young people are well known, and we wish them a long and happy life.
