

Children's Corner

DEAR MEMBERS:—Still no news of our league cards. So we must still be patient and be content with what we have:

Sunday, Aug. 31—Psalm 42, 1-14
Monday, Sept. 1—Ezra 1, 1-11
Tuesday, " 2— " 3, 8-13
Wednesday, " 3— " 4, 1-10
Thursday, " 4— " 4, 11-24
Friday, " 5— " 5, 1-17
Saturday, " 6— " 5, 1-12

Memorize, Ezra III 11, "Praising and giving thanks unto the Lord because he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever."

Sing, sing, sing. Music was given to brighten the gay and kindle the loving.

Sincerely,
L. A. HOLLOWAY, M. A.

College Home for the Public School Girls

DEAR FRIENDS:—Here is our Cottage Boarding Home under a new name.

We are now ready to receive applications for senior girls attending the high school or for junior girls attending the grammar school. I, myself, promise each and every girl a warm loving welcome, a mother's care and a tutor's help as a university graduate. We hope to have French and German spoken in the home and free conversation classes in both languages. Pianos will be available and Miss Williams of Oberlin Conservatory will attend the college for music pupils. Healthy amusements and social evenings will be arranged for our students and their friends. The charges are merely to meet bare expenses. Prof. Myers says he is ready and willing to give our College Home his moral support. Students may enter the College Home under one of three propositions:

1. If students are willing to take their share in the general home work the charges are 75 cents per week for the Home accommodations with all its comforts and privileges. $2 per week for food.

2. If students do not wish to do any house work or are too young to do so, an extra charge of $2 per week will be made to pay another student to work for them.

3. Students can earn their own fees by working for juniors or extra payment students.

All students are required to supply bed, bedding, house linen, crockery for self, and one chair for common dining hall, and to conform to a few necessary home rules.

The success of the College Home depends, dear friends, upon your appreciation of our efforts on behalf of your girls.

Please send in applications for admittance to the College Home at once if possible or not later than September 1.

Address all letters to Mrs. Holloway, Prineville, or call and see me at Furniture Exchange, opposite Union Church, at 11:30 a. m. or 5 p. m.

Yours sincerely,

both holsteins and shorthorns. He is also shipping sheep and lambs to the Portland stockyard at the rate of a carload a week. All these shipments Secretary Cadie classifies as "publicity matter."

Recent developments of the Ochoco group of mining claims 28 miles east of Prineville give very promising returns. The property is controlled by W. T. Davenport, his brother and two relatives. It consists of 11 claims which are under option to Dan Maguire of Salt Lake City for $125,000. Recent assays of ore sent to Tacoma show $40 to the ton. Four tons of oxidized rock ore are being sent for reducing that are expected to average more. A five-stamp mill on the property now will be enlarged to 20 or more if the purchase is finally completed—Portland Journal.

Oregon Trunk Railway

The Oregon Trunk Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Redmond September 22nd to 28th inclusive, 1913, return limit October 1st, 1913, on account of the Crook County Fair at Prineville, Ore., to be held September 23rd to 28th, 1913, at fare of one first-class fare and one-third, with minimum of $1 for round trip, and for children of five and under twelve years of age one-half of the above fare. On account of the Oregon State Fair at Salem, Ore., September 29th to October 4th, the Oregon Trunk Railway will sell excursion tickets to Salem, Ore., at rate of one first-class fare and one-third for the round trip, and for children five and under twelve half the above fare. ## Bond for Timber Cutting

The following is submitted by T. E. J. Duffy, U. S. Commissioner at Prineville, for information and guidance relative to the cutting of timber on the public domain: That in all cases where the amount of timber to be cut does not exceed $50 in stumpage value, the person or persons for whose use the timber is to be cut must notify the chief of field division before commencing to cut.

In all cases where the amount of timber desired will exceed $50 in stumpage value, an application must be filed by the petitioner or petitioners, and if the cutting is to be done through an agent, a copy of the contract establishing the agency must be filed with the application, together with a bond in the sum equal to triple the amount of the stumpage value of the timber applied for.

The area from which the timber is to be cut must be limited in extent which will actually produce the amount of timber applied for.

Non-resident corporations are not entitled to cut timber under the regulations.

The cutting of timber for traffic or sale will not be permitted.

In all cases where more than $50 stumpage value of timber is required, application must be made and permits granted by the chief of field division or Department of the Interior before the applicants will be permitted to proceed with their cutting. Any cutting in advance of the actual granting of the permit will be trespass.

Hanley Again Heads Development League

Klamath Falls, Ore.—The Central Oregon Development League will meet at Bend next year. William Hanley was re-elected president, and W. S. Worden of Klamath Falls, W. F. King of Crook county, H. F. Cronmiller of Lakeview, vice-presidents. J. W. Brewer was chosen secretary by the directors. The policy for the year will be to promote the interests of farmers and get settlers for Central Oregon. The work will be done by the executive committees. The league went on record favoring a permanent committee on highways, one member from every county in the league, with W. S. Worden as chairman, to advise the counties in the league on road building. The league recommends the bonding of counties for road purposes, deploring the action of Crook county in refusing to support a demonstration farm, and urges all counties to maintain such institutions, and urges provision for the care of settlers after their arrival rather than to advertising the resources. It condemns the referendum on the university appropriation and pledges support to the institution; urges the counties to have exhibits at the San Francisco fair, condemns the real estate fakers and urges laws to protect prospective settlers, urges railroads to complete their roads under construction. The sale of government timber in large units on easy payments is commended and the opening of agricultural lands in National forests is urged, as is state aid for the irrigation and reclamation of swamp lands, with a recommendation for harmony of state and federal game laws.

Assistant Secretary of the Interior A. C. Miller outlined the policy of the Interior Department and explained the conservation plan of Secretary Lane.

Plans for the reorganization of the Central Oregon Development League into a permanent body which shall have a continuing life from year to year between annual conventions and which shall have a definite purpose and follow a well-outlined program looking toward the development of the four counties that comprise the League, were outlined at a session of the Executive Council of the League, which consists of the president and vice-presidents.

President Hanley appointed three men to consider the plan of permanent organization and report at the next session of the League in Bend in 1914. T. M. Baldwin of Prineville was appointed chairman of the committee, Judge Ben Daly of Lakeview and Frank Adams of Klamath Falls were appointed as the other members of the committee.

It was agreed that there shall be no set speeches at the next convention, but that three full days will be given for the serious consideration of the future policy of the League. Every citizen of Central Oregon who has any suggestions to make will be invited to be present and discussion shall be free and untrammelled from the floor of the convention.

Whatever entertainment is provided by the Bend citizens will be planned so as not to interfere with the serious work of the convention.

J. M. Brewer of Redmond was selected as permanent secretary of the League. This position carries with it a salary of $100 a month.

Public vs. Private Schools

Very recently I was asked to give my views upon the relative value of the importance of public school instruction as compared to that given by the various kinds of private schools. It seems to me that the question hinges upon what the parents want their children to receive in the way of education. If they want them to know but one side of life, escape temptation by hiding from it, live only in cultured ease and go forth thinking they are equipped for life because they can talk several dead and live languages, sing with proper accent, repeat choice bits of literature at the proper moment, enter the parlor gracefully, hold the hand at the proper height in shaking hands and feel ill at ease in a public "crowd," then by all means I recommend the private school, for the above are its most important teachings, and it teaches them well.

If, on the other side of the question, parents want full, rounded citizenship as the result of the education their children receive, they should send them to the public schools for their instruction. Surely no true American is willing to admit that a government founded on the principles embodied in a certain preamble can foster "select classes" and exist.

In countries where there are kings and favored classes that are the "breath of kings," the private school is necessary for the proper seclusion of the nobility and gentility. In the United States every boy is a future president, every girl a "first lady in the land." Intellectual ability and financial success are the only stepping stones to "higher up" in our country. Our truly noble people are those who can daily "walk with kings nor lose the common touch."

Our public school system is the one safeguard for a diversified nation like ours. Into the common classrooms come the children of the foreign immigrants, the children of the rich and poor, children from happy, moral homes, and those from homes of poverty, squalor and crime. Once inside that trust of all republics, the American school room, distinction ceases to exist, and elimination and adjustment begin their mighty work of character-making. The pauper's son and the millionaire's work together in "class competition." Thirty years later more often it is the pauper's son who takes Old Glory in his hands and promises to be a good president in the name of his God and his flag. He had learned the meaning of "our common welfare" in the public school.

The public school system has many faults, but it is rapidly disposing of them. From "first primary" to our great universities we are casting aside useless, narrow methods, and are recognizing the fact that the schools must be apprentice shops to life work. They must train the brain and hand to work and to appreciate and grasp culture at the same time. "Culture and utility" will be the basis of our public school work until the system is as nearly perfect as human ingenuity can make it.

The factors that are pushing aside the need of private schools are social center development, the National Educational Association, home school associations, special teachers, smaller classes and more and better paid teachers, union of district schools, consolidation of high schools and vocational training. Closer touch of home and school will bring about the knowledge that it is better for the children to meet the evils of life while under the parents' guiding, restraining hands. When parents and teachers realize that they must live life a second time in their care and sympathy for the young people in their charge, sympathy, control and encourage them in adjusting themselves to the grim phases of life as well as to its ease and culture, the last incentive to uphold the private school will have vanished. I have given my views. I would make them more emphatic if I could.

Special Pullman to Pendleton

The O. W. R. & N. will send a special Pullman out of Central Oregon over the Des Chutes line for the Round-Up at Pendleton this year, September 11, 12 and 13. This special car will be parked in the local yards along with the other special trains which the road is running into Pendleton, giving the people the advantage of the dining car service which goes with the special trains. The management has made arrangements for taking care of the people who come on this car by reserving a section of the grand stand for them where they will be seated in a compact body.

Two Acre Farms.

In Belgium a two acre holding is sufficient to maintain a farmer and his family. The typical two acre farm in that country contains a patch of wheat or rye and another of barley. Another fair portion grows potatoes. A row of cabbage grows all round on the sloping sides of the ditches, with a row of onions just outside, leaving bare walking room between them and the grain. The shade trees round the house are pear trees. Every foot of land is made to produce, and the farmer keeps pigs and chickens.

The female of the species is more feebly than the male. But nowadays in England they put them all in jail. —Philadelphia Press.

Notice of Contest

Department of the Interior.

United States Land Office,
The Dalles, Oregon, July 22, 1913.

To Mary Anderson, of Hampton, Oregon, contestor:

You are hereby notified that Mary A. Morgan, who gives Barnes, Oregon, as her post office address, did on July 1, 1913, file in this office her duly corroborated application to contest and secure the cancellation of your homestead, serial No. 09753, made December 5, 1911, for sec 14 sec 1, w 1/4 sec 21, n 1/4 sec 25, township 18 south, range 21 east, Willamette meridian, and as grounds for her contest she alleges that said Mary Anderson has wholly failed to establish her residence on said tract, has totally failed to cultivate and improve the same as required by law and has abandoned the same for more than one year last past.

You are, therefore, further notified that the said allegations will be taken by this office as having been confessed by you, and your said entry will be canceled thereunder without your further right to be heard therein, either before this office or on appeal, if you fail to file in this office within twenty days after the FOURTH publication of this notice, as shown below, your answer, under oath, specifically meeting and responding to these allegations of contest, or if you fail within that time to file in this office due proof that you have served a copy of your answer on the said contestant either in person or by registered mail. If this service is made by the delivery of a copy of your answer to the contestant in person, proof of such service must be either the said contestant's written acknowledgment of his receipt of the copy, showing the date of its receipt, or the affidavit of the person by whom the delivery was made, stating when and where the copy was delivered; if made by registered mail, proof of such service must consist of the affidavit of the person by whom the copy was mailed stating when and the post office to which it was mailed, and this affidavit must be accompanied by the postmaster's receipt for the letter.

You should state in your answer the name of the post office to which you desire future notices to be sent to you.
