now in Europe purchasing thorough-bred cattle for James J. Hill, giving the information that many aristocratic bovines will be added to Mr. Hill's herd. The very best which can be found across the water are being selected, and the question of price is not entering into the matter to any great extent, as $2,000 has been paid for a bull, and others are being bought at correspondingly high prices The letter states that twenty-eight shorthorns and twelve Ayrshires have been purchased, and that the writer has visited many lands before buying the shorthorns, as he was determined to get only the best. He continues "I am positive that we have bought the best herd of shorthorns that ever left England. The average price for them was $600, and for the Ayrsbires, $350. One of the bulls cost $2,000, and was a 4-year-old at that. No one can tell me dual purpose cattle cannot be bred. The highest priced cattle in England are the dual shorthorns. Many give 10,000 pounds of milk per year, and at the same time produce the best of beef steers. I have secured twenty-two Oxfords and twenty-two Shropshire sheep, and Mr. Hill has cabled me to get three Angus buil.

deen, Scotland, to get them." Before returning, Mr. Shaw will visit 00 Holland for the purpose of obtaining a herd of Holsteins, and from there will go to France to buy French dairy cattle, a breed little known in this

He is the author of fifteen 140 00 works on agriculture, many of them 100 60 being used as text books in the different colleges, and is designated by James J. Hill as one of the best-if not the best-agriculturalist in America.

You Live Better Than Kings of Old

By HOLLAND.

A LL the great rulers of the earth from King Solomon to Peter the Great were at a disadvantage compared with the citizens of today. Not one of them had a bathroom with a percelain tub and modern plumbing in his palace. Not one of them used a safety razor, had an appetizing breakfast food, used a telephone or enjoyed the comforts of an electric light. All these are within the reach of rich and poor today. All are enjoyed by rich and poor.

You are better off than Emperor Napoleon, Rameses II. or Louis XIV. You have conveniences they never imag-ined or dreamed about. Chief among them are the modern newspaper and its advertise ments and advertised wares. Are you getting all the good out of life that is possible?

You are not if you neglect to read the advertisements and to buy the articles that are advertised. Comforts, juxuries and necessities are offered to you in great profusion, and the fact that they are advertised proves that the articles are reliable
