C. W. ELKINS

A Small Army Attending School

Three hundred and seventeen pupils are attending school in Prineville. There are 106 in the high school and 211 in the grades.

This number is testing the capacity of the buildings. The high school especially is crowded but arrangements are being carried out to relieve the congestion.

The girls' dormitory of the high school is about ready for use. It is thought the girls can move in the latter part of the week. By doing their own work board and room will cost them $14 a month.

In his travels around the county in search of students Supt. Baughman of the high school found that there was an impression that a tuition fee was charged. He wants this corrected. No charge is made for tuition.

The first grade in the public school is full to overflowing. Principal Leward says that no more pupils will be received for this grade during this term.

Had a Good Time at the Rabbit Drive

W. A. Booth took in the Powell Butte rabbit drive last Sunday. He wasn't an active participant, he says, except at the table and right there is where he did go some. Mr. Booth thinks the Powell Butte women are wonders when it comes to getting up a dinner. He had to let out three or four notches in his belt to feel comfortable on the return journey to Prineville.

When questioned about the success of the drive Mr. Booth confessed he didn't know much about that end of it. He said that some jacks were killed and that on October 19 another drive would be held.

Died.

I. A. Hinkle, an old-timer in Crook county, died the 10th day of September, near Portland, aged 83 years. Mr. Hinkle ran horses in the Suplee country for thirty years. He leaves four daughters in this country—Mrs. Wm. Smead of Post, Mrs. Floyd Gleichert and Mrs. John Kuhn of Suplee, Mrs. Thos. Brennan of Prineville.

Mr. Hathaway, by his close attention to business and uniform courtesy, has sold over 30 cars in Prineville and vicinity during the past summer. The people of Eugene will find him all right.

The "Story of the Cadillac," is one of that mechanical and commercial advancement which makes for permanency. The Cadillac Company has never yielded to clamor by producing that which catered merely to fancy, nor that which took advantage of the uninformed. On the contrary it has produced only that which it knew would give to the purchaser "value received" in abundant measure. The Cadillac Company has never been obliged to resort to exaggeration and over-drawn claims to dispose of all the cars that it could make—and more. Its policy has ever been to under-claim rather than over-claim. It is gratified that the public accepts its representations at their full worth; because the public has never been misled and because the public could always expect and has always received more than was offered.
