

Columbia Semi-Malleable Range

In the Columbia Range, we believe we are offering one of the very best and most attractive ranges made. It's a sanitary range. No place for dirt and scrubbing water to lodge year after year until the dirtiest place in the house is under the kitchen range, as is the case with all ranges running to the floor. It is a handy range, too. The polished top makes it easy to clean. The lift-up plate in front makes it handy to empty trash, etc. The damper handle in front is always cool. We are selling these ranges at a very low figure considering quality and will put them out on the easy payment plan.

WE WOULD BE GLAD TO HAVE YOU CALL AND MAKE A PERSONAL INSPECTION

Paulina Items

The people here have been enjoying sleighriding and the weather looks as if there is still going to be more snow.

A good Christmas tree was given at the schoolhouse December 24. A short program was rendered after which the presents were distributed. The appearance of Santa Claus pleased the little children very much.

The Christmas dance was given Christmas night. There was a large crowd and everyone reports having had a good time. A basket supper was served at the hall at midnight. Supper was also served at the hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Fair and sons were down visiting with the McKenize family for several days.

Mrs. Tom Gardner and children have returned home after spending their Christmas with Mrs. Calvin Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Huston have returned home from a trip to The Dalles, where they took their little son, Paul, for treatment.

Mrs. Howard Morris, who was staying at the Huston ranch with her niece, Velda and Ha Huston, was called home by the illness of her husband. The girls then stayed with friends until the return of their parents.

Mrs. Geo. Roba and children of Paulina valley spent Christmas with their folks here.

Miss Anna Luelling, who lately returned from Prineville, is now working for Mrs. Lee Miller.

Miss Cowherd closed a very successful term of school in Paulina valley Dec. 23 and took the stage for home next morning.

The rabbit drive held in Paulina valley Dec. 27, was very successful. Over eight hundred rabbits were killed. After the drive an excellent dinner was served by the ladies at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hawkins.

There will be a dance in Paulina New Years night.

Drylake Notes

Christmas weather is very good; little snow; only enough to get a sleigh ride.

Everybody is presenting a Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year.

Drylake school is closed for the holidays, but will open Friday, January 2.

S. B. Agnew of Seattle came in from Bend last week with his brother, who has a homestead in this vicinity.

December 22, 1913.

Some snow fell here yesterday. Not cold. Thermometer registered 8 above the past week.

John Wilson went to Bend the past week for a load of freight for W. W. Brown of Buck creek Wednesday.

Otis Logan is feeding a bunch of cattle for his father, L. S. Logan.

The Drylake mail is increasing. Last week it took seven sacks to handle it. Keep an eye on Drylake. Watch it grow.

S. Ames came back from Bend last Thursday with a load of household goods for P. Ames.

Card of Thanks

We take this means to express our heartfelt thanks to the many friends who so kindly assisted us in the sickness and death of our dear wife and sister.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

The Best Disinfectant.

Sunlight is fatal to the vitality of the lower organisms, and the experiment has proved this to be the case with a number of the most important pathogenic bacteria. It is also well known that the chemical activity of the sun's rays, upon which depend their germicidal properties, attain a maximum in the month of May. It was shown long ago that the bacillus of tuberculosis was killed by direct sunlight in from a few minutes to several hours.

Even a fluid ordinarily favorable to the culture and multiplication of organisms assumes under the influence of sunlight antiseptic properties until the environment changes from one which was congenial to the growth of the organism to one which eventually kills it. Sunlight destroys also the toxin of the organism and renders it incapable of harm.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Blackheads.

To remove blackheads get a good sulphur ointment and rub this well into the parts affected nightly after washing well with hot, soapy water. Once a week steam the face over a jug of hot water for some minutes and then press out the largest of the blackheads between the finger tips and again rub in ointment. In the diet include fair amounts of salads, stewed fruits and green vegetables and avoid fatty, rich foods, pastry and sweets. Take a tablespoonful of flowers of sulphur nightly and a small glass of effervescent saline each morning.

Stung Again.

While Jones was waiting for his change in an uptown store he happened to glance down and there, lying right at his feet, was a five dollar gold piece just waiting there for somebody to come along and pick it up.

Quivering with excitement and glancing cautiously around to see that no one was watching him, he dropped—quite accidentally, of course—one of his gloves on top of the coin. He picked up his glove, but the $5, alas, did not accompany it. The elusive coin remained still where it was—upon the floor. He made a second attempt to get hold of it, but with the same result.

Then, just as he was contemplating the wisdom of a third endeavor, a store demonstrator came up to him and said:

"Good evening, sir! May I be allowed to show you a bottle of our famous liquid glue? As no doubt you are aware its sticking powers"—
But Jones had fled.—Fun.

A Village Sunday.

When Sunday strikes the country town and all the stores are closed, when on the plank sidewalk the dogs for hours and hours have dozed, and when the sun is boiling hot, a heat one must endure, I see the signs about and know that this is Sunday sure.

The fields show empty furrows now, the weary working teams are in the littered stable lot enjoying Sunday dreams, and in the cabin doorways are the men who yesterday were hard at work, but who have put all thought of work away.

Upon the fields and trees and woods the blazing sun beats down, and farmers and their womenkind have gone to church or town, for Sunday has come on the land, the Sabbath sweet and blessed.

And men and fields and mules and all enjoy the Sunday rest.

The Ceaseless Flow.

A ring at the telephone drew the office boy.
"Lady to talk to you, sir," he said to the senior partner.

The senior partner took up the receiver and stood at the phone for several minutes.

Then he laid the receiver down and went back to his desk.

Twenty minutes later he raised the receiver, said a few words and presently hung it up.

Then he turned to his partner.
"It was my wife," he explained.
"She was still talking and hadn't missed me."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Man's Portion.

Man wants but little here below,
Upon this busy earth,
And you will win your bets
If you will wager money, bo,
That that is all he gets.
—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The man who gets but little here
Upon this busy earth,
Is—if the truth were spread abroad—
Just getting all he's worth.
—Los Angeles Express.

Man gets but little here below,
E'en then, avoiding strife,
He takes his weekly wad of dough
And hands it to his wife.
—Youngstown Telegram.

Man gets but little here below
And isn't long on deck;
Just when he thinks he stands a show
He "gets it in the neck."
—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Very Likely.

Yeast—At Swedish weddings among the middle and lower classes the bridegroom carries a whip. This is an emblem of his authority in the domestic circle.

Crimsonbeak—And when he says "with all my goods I thee endow" I suppose the wife takes the whip, of course.—Yonkers Statesman.

Eugenic Love Lyrics.

I.
Eugenevieve, Eugenevieve,
The days may come, the days may go,
But such to other we shall cleave
As long as science tells us so.

II.
Rock-a-bye, baby, thy crib's hygienic,
Papa's a doctor and ma's a eugenic,
And don't take a husband unless he's a gent,
Whose mark in the Health league's one hundred per cent.
—Boston Traveler.

Answered.

"Now, children," said the Sunday school teacher to the juvenile class, "can any of you tell me what an epistle is?"

"I can," answered a little fellow at the foot of the class. "An epistle is the wife of an apostle."—Judge.

Listen! NOW'S the time to buy a trunk full of clothes.

Buy a big trunk full of clothes now, because you can buy them cheaper. You want clothes; we want money. We don't need it, but we want it. You do need new clothes. Come in.

We do not run "fake" sales, and try to "pull wool" over your eyes. We put wool—all wool—suits and overcoats on your back the whole year around.

Our prices in season are just what reliable clothing is worth. We can not always buy "just enough." That's why we will close out strictly good, fresh all wool suits and overcoats and underwear at big money saving prices to you.

Buy a trunk and dress suit case, too.
