

Pleasant Social Function

The New Year's reception, an annual social event given at their rooms by the ladies of the Annex, this year proved, as usual, one of the most delightful social affairs of the season.

The registration book shows the names of more than a hundred members and guests who were present.

The Commercial Club had extended its hospitality and the whole suite of rooms was bright with the red and green of the Christmas season. The west room, thus transfigured with its inviting circle of chairs before the table where refreshments were served, proved one of the popular retreats.

A music program, continuing through the afternoon, consisted of vocal and piano solos, and selections by stringed instruments and the orchestra.

The committee was as follows: Miss Engdahl, chairman; Miss Hughes, decoration; Miss Evans, reception, and Mrs. Brink, refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Prater Entertain Friends

Rev. and Mrs. Prater gave a most delightful "at home" to their friends last Friday evening. Guests, after being greeted, were required to prove their acquaintance with Bible characters before being admitted to the general reception room. During the evening an entertaining program was given, Mr. Carey Foster being master of ceremonies. After refreshments were served toasts were responded to as follows: "The Lawyer and the Preacher," Attorney Wallace; "The Fashions of 1914," Judge Brink; "Modern Education," Prof. Victor Shawe.

Henry Grimes' Birthday Remembered

Henry Grimes was given a pleasant surprise Jan. 1st, which was his birthday. All of his children, coming in about noon served a sumptuous dinner after which they presented him with a fur overcoat.

One pleasant feature of the day was when Mr. and Mrs. Grimes sat down to the dinner table with just their eight children. They were served by their daughters-in-law. The table was tastefully arranged with eatables, and in the center a large white cake with the words, "Father, 70, Jan. 1st, 1914," written there in pink.

Mrs. John Grimes and two children were not present but all the other children and grandchildren were. All enjoyed the day and when they parted they wished their father many more pleasant birthdays.

Measles at the Agency

Word has been received that a contagion of the measles has stricken the Warm Spring Indian school and most of the children attending were taken down Christmas. A strict quarantine is being enforced. Lester Parker, grandson of Charley Parker, known among his Piute tribesmen as Scarface Charley, is one of those reported seriously ill. Charley Parker is well known about Prineville, spending much of his time in this vicinity during the haying season and grubbing sage brush at other times.

All Growing Children are dependent on nourishment for growth. Their health as men and women is largely established in childhood.

If your child is languid, bloodless, tired when rising, without ambition or rosy cheeks, Scott's Emulsion is a wonderful help. It possesses nature's grandest body-building fats so delicately predigested that the blood absorbs its strength and carries it to every organ and tissue and fibre.

First it increases their appetite, then it adds flesh—strengthens the bones—makes them sturdy, active and healthy.

No alcohol or narcotic in Scott's Emulsion, just purity and strength.

If those young barbarians who invaded my premises last Tuesday night and were summarily dismissed from the front porch of my home, will call in their true characters of gentlemen, I assure them of a cordial reception and hospital entertainment—as one gentleman to another. T. M. BALDWIN.

Says Dr. John B. Murphy of Chicago, "The latest thing in surgery is that we are trying to avoid operations." Now that surgeons are cultivating self-restraint everybody's appendix is considerably safer.

Coffee grounds burned in a room, we are informed, will remove the odor of stale tobacco smoke. After which it will be easy to remove the odor of the burned coffee by boiling onions or cooking sauerkraut in the room. If you don't believe it try it.

King outlined the new policy of the Commercial Club to the Annex members and asked their cooperation, with the view of increasing the membership and establishing the permanency of the organization.

On New Year's night the old Glaze hall was again the scene of a large crowd of merry dancers. One could see many old time faces on the floor, heartily enjoying the old-time waltz, polka, schottische and quadrille, as they had some twenty years ago. The out of town attendance was large and from their praises, we judge they returned to their many homes well pleased. Dancing was continued until 5:45 a. m. The new floor that has just been laid was appropriately dedicated. Another dance will be given January 16.
