For Governor, Gus. C. Moser, Republican

He Stands for Economy and Efficiency and Dignified Law Enforcement. Fewer Commissions and Reduction of Expenses in Each Department of the State.

SYNOPSIS OF RECORD AND PLATFORM

I was born and raised on a farm in Buffalo county, Wisconsin; educated myself by my own efforts, and have practiced law in Portland since June 1, 1894. Have always taken an active part in public affairs, and have held several official positions.

I stand by my record as state senator at the last session of the legislature. I worked and voted against the new tax law, and favor a law making taxes payable semi-annually without penalty.

Only five of the laws passed at that session were referred to the people by referendum petitions. Four of these the people approved by overwhelming majorities, and I voted for them. The fifth was almost as badly defeated, and I had voted against it in the legislature.

I worked and voted for Senator Malarky's minimum wage bill for women, providing for an impartial commission to fix the maximum hours of labor and the minimum amount of pay.

I favor a similar law providing for an impartial commission without compensation, to fix the maximum hours of labor for men in the various industrial occupations. This in preference to a flat eight hour law.

I favor further good roads legislation with state aid, so that we may have cheaper transportation from the farms and producers in every direction.

I favor the reduction of taxes by consolidation of various commissions, or the abolishment thereof, and placing their duties in the hands of the state board, and by the reduction of the expense of conducting the various departments of the state.

I favor suitable appropriations for our state educational institutions, and the continued improvement of our great bulwark—the public school system.

And above all, I favor the vigorous and efficient enforcement of all the criminal statutes, including those regulating or prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors, and this I shall do with firmness and impartiality. The rich, the poor, the great, the humble, the capitalist, the laborer, the churchman and the business man, shall be measured by the same standard, and each shall answer for his own acts.

FLOUR MILL ON FARM.

How One North Dakota Man Gets Greatest Return From Crops.

A North Dakotan realizes the maximum returns from his wheat and rye crops by converting these grains into flour which he sells at $3 a hundred pounds. In his locality it was practically impossible to obtain good rye, graham or whole wheat flour, so this farmer started growing and grinding his own grain. As he became proficient the quality of the flour improved until finally his neighbors were annually demanding his surplus at handsome prices. This keen demand for high quality flour increased until he decided that it would pay him to equip a small mill thoroughly and to embark in the business on a commercial scale.

A stream of considerable velocity flows through his farm and furnishes the power with which to operate his machinery. He equipped his miniature mill with a crusher, a grinder, a cleaner and an elevator. The income from his flour business during the first two years paid for his plant and equipment and yielded him a good net profit.

This miller eliminates all the charges that usually go to the middle man. He annually raises about eighty acres of wheat and thirty-five acres of rye.

Some of this grain he sells as a cash crop on account of inadequate bin room in which to store it, but more than half of the crop is converted into flour to be used for human food.

A gasoline engine is also maintained as a reserve source of power in case the water power should give out. The marketable flour is neatly sacked and sells for $3 a hundred pounds. Annually the rye and wheat have a farm value of about 60 and 82 cents a bushel respectively where they are sold as cash crops. At a slight expense as regards time and labor this shrewd farmer converts his raw wheat and rye—that in the bulk are worth approximately $1.07 and $1.10 a hundred pounds—into excellent flour that sells for $3 a hundred pounds.

Yearly this progressive farmer is gaining an attractive income from his milling operations, since he also grinds grain for his neighbors. This labor in nowise interferes with his farm work, as the greater share of the mill work is done during the period when field work is relatively slack.—Country Gentleman.
