

A Live Bunch at Pringle Flats

Everyone for many miles around is planning to attend the big celebration at Pringle Flats on the Fourth.

The large dancing pavilion is about completed. If the good weather continues Pringle Flats will see the largest crowd ever assembled in this part of Oregon. Pringle Flats has always been a center for the settlers and for fifteen miles around people have always come to anything doing.

The Warm Springs, of which there are a number, were the one thing which made possible the settlement of this locality and the fast development that has taken place. While in the rolling hills which surround the Warm Springs on the north and east and partly on the west water was available at a few feet most any where but to the south lies a vast level and open country which is easy to put in cultivation, yet it is harder to get water and in most cases the settlers have resorted to drilling, but before they could drill the Warm Springs came in handy to furnish what water was necessary for family use and livestock on the ranch. Tanks for hauling and cisterns for storing the water were built; so they manage until a well is drilled.

There is no question but that a fine opportunity awaits some enterprising merchant who will open up a store of general merchandise near the Warm Springs. A store with a $10,000 stock would not be any too much to supply the demand that is already here.

After July 1 the mail route will be somewhat changed and improved. It will run directly south on the section lines from Held to Imperial, a distance of about 12 miles in a straight line.

Sunday School was well attended last Sunday and most every one brought their dinner so they could stay for the ball game in the afternoon. Mart Bailey of the Prineville team was the leader of the bunch who came up representing Roberts. Each team tried to outdo the other in generosity and in dozens of different ways managed to present their supposed opponents with runs and sometimes in large bunches. The pitchers of both sides were treated near alike and their service was suited to the liking of the slugging batters. The final tally showed the Pringle Flats had presented the visitors with 27 runs, while Roberts could not quite equal that, yet due credit must be given them for handing over all they had which amounted to 26 runs for Pringle Flats. Those who saw the game could better realize the good intentions of both sides. The Fourth of July game will be with our neighbors—Dry Lake—at Pringle Flats.

Del Davis and Walter Ransom have gone to the Johnson ranch, near Prineville, for haying.

Roy Rogers came out to his home from Bend last week.

Will Teach at Crook County High School

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., June 27.—Two Oregon Agricultural graduates who will teach in the Crook County High School during the coming year were principals in a wedding at Corvallis on Wednesday. The newly-made bridegroom and bride are Mr. and Mrs. Hiram E. Pratt. The bride was Miss Maribel Cheney, of Coupeville, Wash., who was graduated this year in domestic science. Mr. Pratt took graduate work in 1913 and was teacher of agriculture in the Crook County High School during the last year. He again will teach this subject in the same school during the coming school year, and Mrs. Pratt will teach domestic science.

Manual Training Teacher.

Robert R. Davis of Hillsboro, Or., was graduated with the 1914 class in mechanical engineering and has been elected teacher of manual training in the Crook County High School. He will have charge of shop and woodwork and also of forge work in case the school board carries out the present intention of putting in a blacksmith shop. The school term begins in September.

Lamonta Items.

Luther Melton and wife and son, Jesse, motored to Madras Sunday and visited at the home of Newton Melton.

Arthur Cox was a Lamonta visitor last week.

Mrs. McMeen and son, Bruce, were Prineville visitors last week.

Lloyd McMeen left for Crooked river Monday where he will work for some time.

Pearl and Norman Weigand returned from Maupin last Sunday where they have been celebrating for the last week. Tygh Valley had them come and play ball with them. Tygh Valley played Maupin and won, of course, with Lamonta's star pitcher and catcher. John Campbell of Madras went down to play also. The boys report a fine time.

Weaver Melton was a visitor on the Divide Sunday.

Everybody is getting ready to celebrate at Prineville the Fourth of July. They have been assured a good time.

There has been preaching at the Gray Butte schoolhouse the past two Sundays.

Helen Bayard is laid up with a badly sprained ankle. She was going to Culver in a cart when the horse became frightened and broke the shafts and the cart tipped back, throwing Helen to the ground and sprained her ankle.

Tom Shrader, who was visiting Gardner Black, left for his home at Crupp, Washington, last week.

Mabel Grant was a Madras visitor last week.

Harry Windom and family and Bursan-Cate and wife left for the Willamette valley Sunday where they will stay for a month or more. They are in for trading ranches.

The "sale" of Mrs. Short was a failure as far as prices were concerned. Prices were low. For the good feed she gave them they should have been encouraged to bid higher, but they didn't. Mrs. Short and family leave for Eugene the first of August.

Arthur Kerr came up from Portland to celebrate the Fourth of July at home.

Irrigation Projects Look Good to Brewer

J. W. Brewer, manager of the farm land bureau of the Oregon State Immigration Commission, has returned from a two-week trip of inspection over the Umatilla irrigation project and a brief visit to the Tumalo project. On the trip he talked over conditions with 110 farmers and made a study of the farming situation in all parts of the entire project.

"I saw practically every farmer who was at home," said Mr. Brewer. "I put on old clothes and went about the country disguised as a hard-working man and as a result I found the farmers more than ready to tell me the facts. While most of the country is planted in orchards, many of which have not yet come into bearing, the general outlook is good, and it is probable that an excellent crop of alfalfa and the like will be harvested."

Guy E. Dobson, president of the Redmond Bank of Commerce, came in with Mr. Brewer. He reports that excellent conditions prevail on the Tumalo project.

"The prospects indicate that the alfalfa crop will average from three to five tons an acre," he said, "while the clover crop will make about the same, and potatoes will run from 80 to 300 bushels to the acre, depending on the amount of cultivation. The lands of the project where dry farming is carried on will return an excellent crop of wheat and other grains. Conditions in Redmond reflect the country's prosperity. While there were 30 or 40 vacant houses in Redmond a year ago, there is not one now."

Oregon Wool About All Cleaned Up

Oregonian: The Oregon wool market is more bare of supplies on this date than it has been on August 1 in many years past. Everything will have been sold and moved out of the state by the middle of July.

In the past week buyers have purchased 150,000 pounds at Condon, Madras and scattered points. There is now left in Eastern Oregon only about 150,000 pounds. Several buyers are in the Lakeview section cleaning up the last of the Southern Oregon wool. Unsold stocks in the valley are estimated at about 60,000 pounds.

Values are holding up well, prices paid in the last week being about the same as those current in the preceding fortnight.

In the East, firmness still prevails and sales of Western wools are made at prices favorable to dealers. Another week of two will tell the story, as by that time light-weight goods will have opened. About 90 per cent of the territory clip is now in second hands, and, naturally, everything possible will be done to sustain the market.

A noisy crowd of folks visited the Truesdale home Friday evening for the purpose of chartering Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Stuchen of Tacoma, who are spending their honeymoon in a visit to the Truesdales. A four-horse team to a hay wagon conveyed the crowd, who after surprising the newlyweds proceeded to take them for a joy ride with E. L. Johnson's store as their destination. A two-wheeled cart trailed behind the wagon was used as a special conveyance for the groom. Being a stranger in our section and not knowing of a store at Powell Butte Mr. Stuchen caused much merriment among the crowd upon reaching the store by declaring himself a case of bankruptcy, having left his purse at home. Mr. Truesdale came to his rescue, however, and the treats were passed around.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Truesdale, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Stuchen and Misses Viola, Pauline and Dorothy Truesdale and Alvin Riggs were entertained at the A. W. Bayn home Sunday evening. Music, both vocal and instrumental, helped to pass away the pleasant evening in the course of which a delicious luncheon was served from prettily decorated tables on the porch.
