

Crook County Fair

place. Crook county has some of the finest cattle and horses to be found anywhere. It will be well worth your time to see the stock exhibit alone.

We hope to see the golden sheaves of grain, the forage grasses and clover stacked higher than ever before in the exhibition building. You will never know just what can be grown in Crook county unless you see the fine display of grains and grasses that will be at the fair in September.

Last year brought out some beautiful work in paintings, drawings and embroidery work, but this year's exhibit promises to far excel any exhibit yet shown, as some of the ladies have been preparing for the 1914 fair for months past.

So come down from the hills, up from the valleys and from the broad plains with your best and we will have another exchange of ideas and a season of neighborly visiting and all feel the better for another year's work. There will not be a dull moment—something doing all the time. The outlook for horse racing is far the best for years. There will be horses here from different parts of this state and horses from other states as well.

Cloudburst and Hail Storm Ravage Crops

Cloudbursts and a hail storm swept over a large part of Sherman county Sunday night and destroyed large quantities of grain, the loss being estimated all the way from $125,000 to twice that amount. Some farmers lost their entire crops, in several cases fields of wheat running from 600 to 900 acres being swept absolutely bare. The storm devastated the country from Kent on the south to the Columbia river on the north and from the east bank of the Deschutes river to east of the Monkland district near the Gilliam county line. Standing grain, ripe for the harvest, was destroyed wherever the storm broke, but green grain is not damaged seriously. Where threshing was in progress, the crews were forced to desert the work, and the cut grain as well as that standing was destroyed.

The hail storm was most severe near Kent and traveled northeastward from where it broke, mowing down the grain in a strip two miles wide, toward the Columbia river. Near Shearer's Bridge, the cloudburst did enormous damage and it is feared that some farmers will be ruined as a result of the calamity.

Successful Celebration at Pringle Flats

As large a crowd as ever attended a celebration in this part of the country assembled at the site of the new Community Hall on the 4th. Prizes for the various events were generously furnished by the merchants of Prineville and Bend, which was greatly appreciated by the patrons of these business men.

The ladies served a cafeteria dinner throughout the day, the proceeds of which will go to the new hall. The races began early and continued until the middle of the afternoon and proved to be exciting events. The foundation for the new Community Hall being completed it was used as a dancing pavilion. The ball game played with the Dry Lake team was won by the home team.

HOW CHILDREN GROW

Children grow by nourishment—not overloaded stomachs or rich foods but qualities that are readily converted into life-sustaining blood; too often their digestive powers cannot procure these qualities from ordinary foods which results in weakness, dullness and sickness. If your children are under-size, underweight, catch cold easily, are languid, backward, pale or frail, give them Scott's Emulsion which is pure medicinal nourishment. It sharpens the appetite, builds healthy flesh, firm muscles and active brains. Scott's is growing-food for children. Refuse alcoholic substitutes.

Crop Prospects

most cases the yield is large. Not only is there a large production but the quality is unusually good. At the Lafollette place on the Ochoco the alfalfa averaged about three tons to the acre. All kinds of hay and grain on the Geo. Russell place are far above the average. In fact, everything points to a big hay and grain crop in the Ochoco valley.

Some of the grain in the Haystack country was damaged by the frosts and hot winds, or both together, but the damage is not nearly so great as has been reported. The recent rains have been very beneficial to the fall grain and the farmers are greatly encouraged over hay and grain prospects. Judge Springer says his crop is far better than last year.

In the Post and Paulina sections good conditions exist for the entire planting and a bumper crop is in sight.

The fall grain in most sections is less than last year, but the crops as a whole are considered as good if not better than a year ago, and last year's crop was something that most any section would have been mighty proud to brag about.

Child Dies of Double Pneumonia

Lois, the eighteen-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Rimppler of Dry Creek, died at the family home last Monday of double pneumonia. On Saturday last the mother of the little one had prepared a meal and the child playing around the table, reached for a cup which contained hot tea and spilled the contents of the cup over its face and chest. The burns were not thought to be serious, but later developed into pneumonia. Dr. Edwards was called Monday noon, but the child died soon after his arrival.

The funeral was conducted Wednesday from the Methodist church by Rev. Williams, and the remains were interred in the Union cemetery.

Two Old-Timers Meet Untimely Death

Private advices to former friends in Prineville announce the death of two old timers of this section, Dick Henkle and Gus Delore, at their homes in Idaho. From reports it seems that Henkle and Delore had a difficulty between themselves resulting in Delore shooting Henkle to death. Friends of Henkle gathered, captured Delore and strung him up, riddling his body with bullets. Particulars are difficult to obtain, but these are the facts as near as we have been able to get them. Both parties formerly lived in the Suplee country and were well known by the old settlers.

Fractured His Knee Cap

Wm. Mason of Grimes Valley had the misfortune to fracture his knee cap this week. While loading hay with a derrick fork he became entangled in the ropes, and losing his balance fell to the ground sustaining a compound fracture of the knee cap. Dr. Edwards reports his patient getting along nicely and will be able to be out and around shortly.

Eight Innings of Fast Exhibition Base Ball

The Grass Valley base ball team came over Saturday for a return series with the locals, bringing with them Krause, a Portland professional pitcher as well as players from Moro and other burghs up that way and a large following of rooters.

The locals lost the game Saturday through hard luck, Tethrow being fallen on by the Grass Valley second baseman and hurt so badly that he was forced to leave the game. As it was, the locals by a great batting rally in the 9th inning very nearly overcame a lead of five runs by landing fiercely on the imported Krause. The final score was 8 to 6.

For eight innings the game on Sunday afternoon was without doubt the fastest and prettiest exhibition of base ball ever seen in this city, or anywhere else for that matter. In the last half of the 9th inning with the score a tie at 1 to 1, Prineville got men on first and third with none out, when the Grass Valley contingent contended that the man at third had been put out and refused to continue the game. After a long argument the local players decided to allow the man at third to be called out and continue the game, admittedly a very foolish thing to do as the decision was very close and could have been called either way. Another dispute broke out in the tenth inning and the game was never finished.

This series ends the base ball season, but it is probable that the fair association will make arrangements for a base ball tournament this fall, since it has proven such a drawing card this season and practically all the boys will be here to play at fair time.

Methodist Church

At the Methodist church Sunday morning Dr. H. O. Perry, district superintendent of The Dalles district, will preach. This will be Dr. Perry's last sermon in Prineville for the present year. At 8 p. m. the pastor will have for his sermon subject, "The Choosing of a Life Companion." Let all those who are contemplating entering upon the sea of matrimony be present, also all those who have embarked. The quarterly conference will be held in the church Saturday at 8 p. m. Let all the members attend this meeting.—John E. Williams, pastor.

Oregon Schools Are Improving

"The minimum school term in Oregon is now six months, but seven years ago it was but three months. Sixty days of school to 305 days vacation," said Frank K. Welles, assistant state school superintendent, in addressing the teachers of the Agricultural College summer school. "The minimum allowed the teachers on examination has been raised from 40 to 60 per cent, and the teaching force has improved accordingly. School buildings of brick, stone and lumber have taken the place of the old wooden shacks. Text books and courses of study have been changed to include the useful things that make for the student's welfare. The number of high schools in the state has grown from five to 115 in a few years, and the number of graduates from high schools has increased to 1500 during the last school year. In 1915 laws now enacted will go into effect whereby no inexperienced teacher without professional training can receive a certificate. There is also a general demand for an eight-months minimum term."
